COURT'S DECISION PERMITS REBATES

Raymond Says Corporations Are at Liberty Under Recent Rulings to Crush Trade at Will.

CONGRESS HOLDS REMEDY

People Must Initiate Movement for New Law Because of Railroad Power at the Capitol.

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—Early in the regular session next winter congress certainly will be brought face to face with serious problems which have been developed by the breakdown of the government cases against the Standard Oil company at Chicago.

This does not concern the judgment as to the extent of the fine, but there will be a necessity for new legislation on the rebate question unless congress is prepared to admit that the United States government has no power to prevent unjust discrimination by railroads between shippers.

At the time the Court of Appeals upset the decision of Judge Landis, the fact was pointed out here freely that if the decision stood and the government was defeated on the two or three important points involved, the public must be prepared to face a return to all the vicious practices which were so common before the anti-rebate law was passed.

If the government is unable to punish rebating, one does not need to be a prophet or a son of a prophet to make it clear that the railroads will begin their illegal practices once more, and will carry this discrimination to an unheard of extent, because they know they will be practically exempt from punishment.

Law Good, but Evils Remain.

Those who have studied the situation know that Judge Grosscup and his associates in the Court of Appeals drove a horse and wagon through the rebate section of the interstate commerce law. Their opinion may have been based upon excellent law, but the facts remain just the same, and the collapse of the government case against the Standard Oil company, on retrial in Chicago, shows what would happen in every similar case throughout the country. It will be up to congress to provide a remedy.

This will be uncomfortable to some of the gentlemen in the legislative branch of the government, who only voted for the rate bill because they had to, and who hoped they would be permitted in peace to court the political support of railroads running through their districts. For the time being rebating is not prohibited by law, so far as any successful prosecutions on a large scale are concerned.

That being the case, big shippers will once more coerce the railroad corporations into granting them concessions, and the result will be that the little fellows will be driven to the wall, just as they were a few years ago. They will stay in that position until congress gives them relief, because under the present ruling of the court a way has been opened for indiscriminate rebating which the government cannot possibly prevent.

Different Views of the Courts.

One of the important features of the decision of the Court of Appeals in the Standard Oil case was that the trial court under the direction of Judge Landis erred in holding the defendant guilty of a separate and distinct offense for each car of oil shipped. The reviewing court decided in effect that the mere shipment of a carload or any other quantity of oil did not necessarily constitute a separate offense.

The eminent judges composing the Court of Appeals took the ground that the offense was the actual transaction between the railroad and shipper, resulting in a concession of rates. This means that the quantity shipped, the number of carloads, or of separate packages did not affect the concession, and that the whole transaction must be closed before the offense was complete. The Court of Appeals was somewhat misty on the subject, but its decision is generally understood to hold that such offenses, if they existed, were continuous and that but one penalty could be assessed for the actual agreement or for the actual settlement of the transportation charges.

It is easy to see that under this construction of the law a big shipper can always manage to secure concessions, even if the courts are able to prove an occasional offense involving the assessment of the highest fine, because the maximum penalty is of the most trivial character when compared with a continuous offense running over days, weeks, months, or even years.

Big Trusts Out of Reach.

When the decision of the Court of Appeals was first promulgated the government authorities at once declared that if it held good it would be impossible to reach any of the big offenders and only the people who could be punished would be the little fellows. Hereafter it may be expected that the Standard Oil company, the beef trust, the steel trust, the sugar trust, the harvester trust, and other big shippers will take pains to see that their rebates are of the continuous character so skillfully delineated by the distinguished jurists of the Court of Appeals.

It will not be difficult for the Standard Oil company to make a contract with every railroad it needs to transport its oil at a rate far below that provided for in the published tariffs. All it has to do is to go to a railroad agent and make a contract to carry a million barrels of oil, or a hundred thousand carloads, or any other fantastic amount it sees fit to designate. The entire shipment, whether it were made in a day or in ten years, thereby becomes a single transaction, according to the view which the Court of Appeals takes of the present law, more particularly if the Standard Oil company makes its cash settlements at long intervals.

Debauch of Rebating in Sight.

The present law provides a maximum penalty of $20,000 for each offense. If the offense was continuous and there was only one violation of the law when the vast contract was made for an illegal rate, the Standard Oil company would be only too glad to pay $20,000 for the privilege of crushing out all of its competitors by a single stroke of the pen. The same course of procedure would be open to every other big corporation, and as they will no longer fear the law it is practically certain that a perfect debauch of discriminating rebates and unfair concessions to the big shippers and to the

REFUSE DEMANDS OF COAL MINERS.

Anthracite Operators in Meeting Ask That the Present Agreement Be Extended Three Years.

MAY MEAN A SHUTDOWN.

Statement Issued After Conference Causes New Friction Between Workers and Owners.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 11.—[Special.]—The anthracite coal operators today flatly denied all of the eight demands officials of the union had made for changes in the agreement, which will expire on March 31. The operators then proposed that the present agreement be renewed for a period of three years. The conference will be resumed tomorrow.

This decision was not unexpected by the workers. President Lewis has his plans laid and is conferring with other leaders to perfect the details of the next move before they again go into conference. Those who have followed the trend of affairs in the anthracite region believe it will be useless for the miners to insist further upon any material change in the present agreement, and it is expected the miners' committee will call a convention from three districts to take up the operators' refusal and counter proposition.

What the outcome will be is a matter of conjecture. So far as could be learned from the miners today, a majority of the workers are opposed to a strike, because they feel that they are not strongly enough intrenched to carry on a campaign of the magnitude of that of 1900 and 1902.

Demands of the Workers.

The present agreement, made in New York three years ago, when John Mitchell led the miners in the negotiations, is identical with the award of the Roosevelt strike commission, made in 1903, after the strike of 1902. Three years ago the miners made numerous demands, but all were rejected, and they accepted the renewal of the strike commission award, which is the same proposition again made by the operators today.

The demands of the mine workers, drafted in Scranton last October and ratified by the national convention in Indianapolis in January, ask an agreement under which all disputes shall be adjusted and recognition of the union as a party to negotiations in wage contract and its right to provide any method it may adopt for the collection of revenue.

The other demands were for an eight hour day with no reduction in wages, for a contract by which all coal shall be mined and paid for by the ton of 2,000 pounds, and a definite and more uniform scale of wages and prices. They ask that all employés paid $1.50 or less per day shall receive a 10 per cent advance, and all employés paid more than $1.50 and less than $2.00 per day shall receive a 5 per cent advance.

They also demand that the system whereby a contract miner has more than one job or employs more than two laborers be abolished; that the employers be required to issue uniform pay statements, and, finally, that the contract shall be made for a period of one year.

Statement Made to Public.

Following the meeting this statement, supposed to have been agreed upon by both sides, was made public:

"The operators declined to accede to the demands of the workers. The chief reason for the rejection was that any increase in the cost of production would necessitate an advance in the price of coal and that such an advance was impracticable. The operators said wages in the anthracite mining industry already were at a high level and could not be increased.

"The operators were unwilling to reopen the eight hour day question and other questions passed upon by the anthracite strike commission of 1902. They also were opposed to the mine workers' proposition for a one year agreement.

"They decline to recognize the United Mine Workers of America chiefly on the ground that it was controlled by bituminous workers. They met Mr. Lewis and his committee as representatives of the anthracite mine workers and not as officers of the union. The operators call upon the report of the strike commisison to support their refusal to deal with the United Mine Workers.

"At the end of the discussion the operators made the definite proposition to renew the present agreement for a term of three years."

Lewis Angered by Statement.

President Lewis was exasperated when shown this statement that had been given out. He said:

"The statement is not complete and simply gives the operators' position. Having agreed with all members of the conference that the secretaries of the operators and the miners' representatives should act as a press committee, I do not feel at liberty to give out a statement as to what transpired today in the joint conference, and in order not to violate confidence I shall refrain from giving out a statement until tomorrow night."

Mr. Lewis added that hereafter he will act as his own press committee. The miners' leader added that he will not stand for any protracted sessions and that he will not waste time arguing questions.

AGED CLERK FAINTS AT DESK.

Nathan Hefter, One of the City's Oldest Employes, Insists on Working After Fall Injures Him.

Nathan Hefter, a clerk for the board of local improvements, who is close upon the four score year mark, stuck to his desk yesterday until he fainted and was taken in a carriage to his residence, 4347 Champlain avenue.

He has been an employé of the city as long as any of his associates can remember. He always has been held up as a model for new appointees, but his latest demonstration of faithfulness is held a crowning record for his honest career.

As he left his residence to go to the city hall he slipped on a short flight of steps and fell. He returned to the house only long enough to have several scratches dressed and then limped to the car that would take him to his post. Physicians said his spine was wrenched in his fall.

LOS ANGELES MAYOR QUITS.

Chief Executive of Western City Driven Out by Exposure.

LIGHT ON HIS PRIVATE LIFE.

Questionable Conduct of Official Forces Him to Retire Facing Scandals.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—[Special.]—Mayor Harper quit tonight under fire. He withdrew his name from the ticket for a recall election set for March 26 because facts concerning his private life were known and which the opposition declared they would publish tomorrow unless he withdrew his name from the official ballot.

Harper is the most thoroughly discredited man who ever held the mayor's office in any big American city. He admits he could not controvert scandals of a serious nature. This afternoon he went to the leaders of the recall movement and begged to be spared the disgrace. He was given an ultimatum to withdraw immediately or suffer exposure.

The mayor lost no time writing his letter of resignation. The letter follows, addressed to the editor of the supporting paper:

"In fulfillment of my obligation entered into with you when I promised to withdraw my name from the ballot of the present recall election, whenever you demanded I should do so, I hereby notify you that in compliance with your demand made this day I have requested the county clerk to withdraw my name from the ballot.

"A. C. HARPER."

Found Parties in Official Guise.

In explanation, it is now said the discovery of these scandals by friends made compulsory the withdrawal as promised some time ago. It is understood, and not denied by friends, that Harper visited places of a questionable character and gave hilarious parties under guise of the city's business.

Harper, a Democrat, was elected when the Republicans were in a factional fight. He was supported by many regardless of party until tonight. The recall election will be held as called, and politicians are meeting tonight to decide on a candidate to oppose George Alexander, a recall candidate. The recall faction sees no possibility of defeat.

About seven months ago the attention of the grand jury was called to charges of municipal irregularities and that body took up an investigation. The matter dragged on and on and so much time was consumed that it appeared as if nothing would come of it.

Grand Jury Jolts Harper.

Finally, after six months had elapsed, the jury made a report. It returned no indictments, but did severely censure the mayor and members of the police commission. It was charged among other things in the report that the mayor and certain members of the commission, under guise of "inspection" had visited disreputable houses, and one of these visits was described as more in the nature of "an orgy" than an inspection.

The report declared the officials had gone out of their jurisdiction in the "inspection." Harper's name also was mentioned in connection with that of a woman other than his wife.

The fight to force Harper out of office was spirited, over 10,000 citizens of the city having signed a petition demanding his recall. This petition followed a crusade, the slogan of which was "Is vice protected in Los Angeles?"

West Virginia Mayor Indicted.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 11.—Two indictments, one charging perjury and the other criminal conspiracy, were returned against Mayor Frank Chapman of Chester, W. Va., by the Hancock county grand jury at New Cumberland today.

SAYS HE'LL PUSH LIBEL CASE.

Federal Attorney Believes Delavan Smith Will Have to Face Trial in Washington.

Charles W. Miller, who succeeds Joseph B. Kealing as United States district attorney at Indianapolis, is of the opinion that Delavan Smith, editor of the Indianapolis News, will have to go to Washington to stand trial under the indictment returned against him charging criminal libel in connection with reports printed about the Panama canal. Mr. Miller was in Chicago yesterday for a few hours, and said that it will be his policy to push the case against Mr. Smith to the fullest extent of his powers.

ACCUSED AS ALIEN IMPORTER; SUED BY SIMS FOR $11,000.

Meyercord Company Declared to Have Brought 11 Laborers from Canada in Violation of Federal Statute.

On the charge of importing alien laborers into this country under contract, District Attorney Sims yesterday began suit against the Meyercord company, lithographers, asking for a penalty of $11,000. This is one of the first suits of the kind to be brought in Chicago. The case was reported to the district attorney's office by the bureau of immigration.

The Meyercord company, which has offices at 134 Washington street and a factory at Lake and Willow streets, is charged by the government with having imported from Canada under contract to work eleven laborers known as transferers and pressmen. This, it is averred, is in violation of the contract labor law, which prohibits the importation of laborers under contract unless it can be shown positively that the same character and class of laborers could not be obtained in this country. The penalty fixed by the statute for violation of this law is $1,000 for each offense.

The men were brought to this country between Oct. 1, 1906, and the first of the following January. It is claimed by the government attorneys that there was no scarcity of lithographers in the United States at that time. Agents of the Meyercord company are said to have gone to Toronto to hire the men, and it is stated that written contracts were entered into with each one before they were brought to Chicago.

SODDEN CORPSE OF A WOMAN MAY PROVE CASE OF MURDER.

Dayton Police Have Another Baffling Mystery on Their Hands with Discovery of Body in Canal.

Dayton, O., March 11.—The discovery of the body of an unknown white woman in the canal today by a colored boy furnishes a mystery which is baffling the police. The body was water soaked and is thought to have lain in the water a month, and is that of a woman about 30 years old and is well dressed. The condition of the body will, it is feared, prevent identification.

A theory is advanced that, providing it is a case of murder, the woman might have been rolled down a steep hill skirting the fair grounds on the east. The fair grounds is the rendezvous of men and women.

A month ago Charles Siefert stated to the coroner that he had seen a well dressed white woman standing at the end of a nearby bridge, apparently waiting for some one. He said she seemed nervous.

Finding that she was being watched, the woman walked toward the fair grounds and was not seen again. The woman was dressed entirely in black.

The body was found lying half out on the bank, face down, while both hands were clenched and were near her throat, as if she had tried to protect herself. Six girls have been found slain in Dayton recently. Four of the murders have never been solved.

LISBON, March 11.—Charles Page Bryan, the American minister to Portugal, has forwarded his resignation to Washington. Mr. Bryan, who is a Chicago man, has been in the diplomatic service since 1897. In that year he was appointed minister to China, and one year later he was transferred to a similar post at Rio Janeiro. In 1902 Mr. Bryan was sent to Switzerland and two years later he was appointed minister to Portugal.

AGREE ON LAWSUIT CHANGES

Judges Approve Three Amendments to Practice Act.

WILL MEET AGAIN MONDAY.

Bill to Regulate Issuance of Certiorari Writs Also Indorsed.

Judges of the Superior court yesterday approved three of the principal amendments to the practice act as outlined in the tentative report of the committee of judges appointed to put into definite form changes desired in the method of court procedure and practice. Another meeting will be held Monday afternoon, when a further consideration of proposed amendments will be had.

The three amendments as approved by the jurists are:

To give the state the right to amend indictments at any time before a case is closed.

To give courts the right to give oral instructions to juries.

Prohibiting the reversing and remanding of cases by the Appellate court on mere technicalities where it is shown that there has been no injustice done in the trial of the lower court.

Approve Certiorari Bill.

The judges also placed their stamp of approval on the bill regulating the issuing of writs of certiorari which is now being urged upon the legislature. This measure is expected to cut down the work of the Supreme court and also to keep its records free of a mass of matter which it is claimed has no business there. It will give the judges of the higher court the right to deny writs of certiorari without a formal written opinion. They will be able to grant or refuse applications for writs in much the same manner as they now grant or refuse motions and objections.

Report Ready Monday.

"We have approved three of the principal changes desired," said Judge McSurely after the session. "The committee has not yet put into writing the results of the investigation it has made, but we expect to have a full report ready for the meeting on Monday. We will have the changes in as good shape as though they were going before the legislature for passage."

Judge McSurely said there was no reason why the Supreme court could not either deny the petition or grant it without entering into lengthy reasons to bolster its opinions.

Taft Announces His Administration Will Be Optimistic, Cheerful, and Full of Hope.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—President Taft today said his will be an optimistic administration to an optimistic country, full of hope, cheerfulness, and confidence.

The president expressed this sentiment when he became a full fledged member of the Optimist Club of America upon the invitation of its founder, William J. Robinson of New York. Mr. Robinson, as optimist at large, named Mr. Taft a member of the club's executive committee. Andrew Carnegie is president of the organization.

The Optimist club has a membership of 250,000, including men prominent in every walk of life. The club was launched in November, 1907, at Salt Lake City.

BOY KILLED BY ELECTRICITY.

Frank Dietizak in Play Touches Charged Wire and the Current Takes His Life Instantly.

Frank Dietizak, a schoolboy, was killed by electricity last night when he seized a charged wire which was holding an electric light pole in position within two blocks of his home, which was at 5004 West Thirty-second street.

While playing at Woodbine avenue and West Thirty-second street with his brother, Anthony, 9 years old, he attempted to swing on the wire, one end of which was buried in the ground and the other fastened at the top of the pole.

The wire happened to be highly charged, and the boy was killed instantly. He was 15 years old.

OFFER HUGE PIERS; CITY AS PARTNER.

Private Corporations Submit Proposal, with Ultimate Municipal Ownership in View.

LIKE TRACTION CONTRACT

Chicago Dock and Canal Company Plan Finds Favor and Will Be Placed Before the Council.

A proposal that the city go into partnership with dock companies for the purpose of developing Chicago's harbor and lake commerce along the lines recommended by Mayor Busse's harbor commission, has been made in a definite form to the municipal authorities and now is under consideration.

The plan is to effect a joint agreement between the city and the private corporations on the principle of the traction ordinances, under which the company will finance and construct the harbor and the city will derive a percentage of the net receipts and have the right to purchase and operate the business at any time.

The plan has assumed such shape that an ordinance embodying these principles will be drawn and introduced into the city council within the next month. This will be a proposed grant of authority to the Chicago Dock and Canal company to create a large harbor in connection with a dockage and lighterage business along the lake front immediately north of the mouth of the Chicago river. The company, of which Eugene H. Fishburn is president and James A. Pugh, president of the Furniture Exhibition company, a prominent factor, has given assurances that it will enter into an arrangement contemplating eventual municipal ownership of the harbor and business.

Federal Approval on Plan.

The proposition which the company has been exploiting for some time took on additional importance when it became known, furthermore, during the day that the war department is about to grant federal permission for the construction of the three piers which will run nearly half a mile into the lake. As the company claims valid state authority under its charter granted in 1857 it will only remain, after obtaining federal sanction, to negotiate for municipal permission to proceed with the work.

The friendly attitude of the government was made plain not only by information from official sources but by the proceedings of the recent executive hearing given the company's request by Maj. Thomas H. Rees, chief of the engineering corps of the war department. A transcript of the arguments which came into the possession of THE TRIBUNE yesterday indicates that the government found no ground upon which to construe the project as an obstacle to navigation.

In addition the Chicago interests feel that they will have the friendly aid of the new secretary of war, Jacob M. Dickinson, formerly general counsel for the Illinois Central, who takes a deep interest in the development of Chicago's harbor facilities. According to the most reliable information obtainable, the war department will make known its decision within a month, and if the permit is granted the company will submit its ordinance to the council at once thereafter.

Plan Includes Both Rivers.

The plan for harbor development as at present being considered may be outlined thus:

The creation of harbors at various points along the lake front and in Lake Calumet through private capital, but with an arrangement for eventual municipal ownership.

The development of a lighterage and dockage business in the Chicago and Calumet rivers, the city being a partner of private capital as in the street railway business.

The connection of the harbors with the railroads, and particularly with the Belt line, so that lake marine and railroad freight may be exchanged between vessels and cars on the docks.

The plan to connect the docks with the belt line railroad includes the appropriation of the Northwestern railway station at Wells street to freight purposes when the road goes into its new station. It is proposed to extend four tracks east in North Water street from the Wells street station to the docks.

Harbor Chairman Suggests It.

The suggestion to apply the principles of the traction settlement ordinances to the harbor and dock business came from John M. Ewen, chairman of the harbor commission, which studied the question for a year and submitted its report to the city council a fortnight ago. Mr. Ewen believes the city should control its water front and its river dockage forever, and that the great lake and inland waterway commerce of the future in this locality should be developed under municipal operation of the harbor facilities.

The only obstacle to the realization of this ideal is the matter of money. The city could not rake up enough money at the present time to establish even a modest harbor, not to speak of one that would be adequate to the demands outlined by the commission. To meet this situation Mr. Ewen proposed the municipal partnership scheme, under the terms of which the work can be commenced with private capital and eventually taken over by the city when it is able to furnish the money.

Favors Traction Ideas in Detail.

The chairman of the commission advocates the application of the provisions of the traction ordinances in all details to the harbor undertaking. He would have the works constructed under the supervision of a board of engineers representing the city and the company who would approve the plans and contracts and record the amount of money invested.

There would be a specified accounting of the receipts and operating expenses under municipal supervision and a division of the net receipts between the city and the company. The city would have the right to purchase the property for municipal operation at any time upon payment of the amount represented by the investment, together with a reasonable return thereon.

Under the system of municipal regulation the rates charged for dockage services would be fixed at reasonable figures. Under municipal ownership and operation of the docks, Mr. Ewen would have the rates lowered to a minimum tariff that would maintain the service without profit and solely for the benefit of lake shippers.

Mayor Said to Favor Plan.

The proposition as thus outlined has been laid before Mayor Busse, who at once took it under advisement. It is understood the plan has found favor with the mayor and his advisers and the prospect is that this or some similar plan will be announced as the policy of the administration in dealing with the project of developing Chicago's harbors. If this should be done all companies proposing to construct harbors and engage in a dockage and lighterage business would be required to accept municipal partnership ordinances.

If the Chicago Dock and Canal company proves willing to enter into such an arrangement with the city the chance of its obtaining an ordinance from the council is believed to be a good one. The attitude of the administration toward the project of the concern has changed considerably since the presentation of the harbor commission's report.

But Situation Has Changed.

Mr. Pugh several months ago submitted to the mayor a request for permission to establish a large harbor adjoining the warehouses of the Furniture Exhibition company, north of the mouth of the river. The mayor told him that he first would have to obtain a permit from the federal government, and, if successful, would then be required to deal with the city council. Mr. Busse was awaiting the recommendation of the harbor commission on the question of establishing harbors on the lake front at all, and he was loath to open negotiations with the company at that time.

The harbor commission, however, reported in favor of creating a harbor on the lake front between the river and Chicago avenue. The commission contemplated the establishment of municipal wharves along this frontage, but the recommendation leaves the way open for a private enterprise that eventually will become municipal.

The location of a harbor at this point having been recommended and a means of retaining the water front rights in control of the city Mr. Busse signified that he was willing to consider the company's proposed undertaking.

Double Opposition Foreseen.

That the proposition will meet with a good deal of opposition is almost certain. Against the partnership plan, it already is contended the city never will be able to purchase the harbor works any more than it can purchase the street car companies operating now under franchises providing for municipal ownership. The opponents of the plan argue that it means the turning over of the lake front to private capital just as completely as if done outright.

Opposition of another sort is likely to come from the Commercial club, which is engaged in working out a comprehensive plan for the beautification of Chicago and its environs. The Burnham plans in their present shape do not contemplate lake front commercial harbors. For this reason the Commercial club may oppose the lake front harbors on the ground that they will mar the beauty of the shore.

Proposes Huge Parallel Piers.

Some of these objections came out at the hearing before Maj. Rees recently in the federal building. The company was represented by Mr. Pugh and by Attorney W. W. Gurley. Mr. Pugh and the attorney explained the plans in detail. They include the projection of two piers, 2,500 feet long, into the lake from a base running 950 feet along the shore line from the mouth of the river northward. The piers, one of which is to be 250 and the others 200 feet wide, will be separated by 200 foot slips.

Two of the docks will be given over entirely to freight traffic. Switch tracks will be extended onto them so merchandise may be loaded and unloaded directly from car to vessel. In addition there will be room for lighters.

The third pier will be double decked and reserved for passenger traffic. The Indiana street electric line is to be extended onto the upper deck. On the lower deck baggage only will be handled.

Ready to Invest $8,000,000.

Mr. Pugh stated that the company was prepared to invest $8,000,000 in the enterprise.

Maj. Rees was promised that the company would keep the harbor dredged free of sand and open to navigation in all respects and would maintain the government lighthouse at the end of the pier.

Charles E. Kremer, representing the Northern Michigan Transportation company and the Chicago-Duluth Transportation company, urged the government to permit the work.

"But I want to see these piers come under the jurisdiction of the city," he concluded, "or some other governing power so as to avoid the vice of monopoly. I realize that the places at which we can have piers at Chicago that extend out into the lake are few. This is the best point in the City of Chicago."

C. L. Deering inquired whether the company's plans fitted in with the city beautiful scheme, and Mr. Pugh replied that he had not consulted with Architect Burnham. Corporation Counsel Brundage merely asked that the government withhold action on the requested permit until the city formulate its policy.

Maj. Rees stated that the only question for the government to determine was whether the piers would form an obstruction to navigation. He promised, however, to withhold action until the city was able to consider its harbor policy.

MINERS SEE ACTUAL TESTS OF NEW RESCUE APPARATUS.

Inspector Braves Noxious Gases in Demonstration of "Oxygen Helmet" Before Operators at Champaign.

Champaign, Ill., March 11.—[Special.]—Thomas Moses of Westville, a state mine inspector, today demonstrated the utility of the government's mine rescue apparatus.

Moses donned an oxygen helmet for the first time in his life and entered a chamber full of deathly gases to learn rescue work. The demonstration was a feature of the opening of the federal government's rescue station, established at the University of Illinois in coöperation with the state geological survey. Many Chicago operators were among the visitors today.

A fuel conference will be held tomorrow and Saturday. Col. T. A. Lemon, Harry Thomas, W. G. Hartshorn, and G. W. Traer were among the Chicagoans here.

The performances of the federal experts were viewed with amazement by the operators and miners present. The experts entered a veritable "death chamber," filled with noxious gases and simulating a mine after an explosion, equipped with oxygen helmets, which furnish air for two hours. The experts carried stretchers over obstacles for that time. Moses expressed a desire to test the helmet and he, too, was equipped.

From the Illinois station it is the intention to send rescue parties on special trains, if necessary, to mine disasters in this state, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, and other states.

MAY GO TO COURT TO GET SISTER

Railroad Man Threatens Suit for Her Recovery from Head of the Servite Sisters.

Habeas corpus proceedings are threatened against that branch of the Servite Sisters conducting the Maywood Union hospital over the possession of Mary Hannon, sister of John Hannon, a railroad fireman residing at Thirty-fifth street and Wabash avenue.

Hannon, accompanied by the police, went to the hospital, but got little satisfaction. He alleges that this particular branch of the religious order was ex-communicated because of difficulties with the bishop over personal property. Sister St. Gertrude, in charge of the hospital, contradicted Hannon's story, and said she will contest her right to the girl, claiming to have legally adopted her.

She stated that Hannon and his father made an unsuccessful attempt to regain custody of the girl seven years ago, and the court gave the girl the choice of going with her father or Sister St. Gertrude, with the result that the latter retained her. She also denied that she and her followers had been excommunicated.

TRYING TO BUILD ALIBI FOR MANN.

Defense Seeks to Prove Defendant Could Not Have Killed Mrs. Thompson.

CLASHES IN COURTROOM.

Bribery and Intimidation of Some of the Witnesses at the Trial Alleged.

Bribery and intimidation of witnesses were freely alleged yesterday in the trial of Luman C. Mann, charged with the murder of Mrs. Frances Gilmor Thompson, and Judge McSurely had a task in keeping peace between the prosecution and the defense.

It was testified that Bert Cowdery, a former policeman now in the employ of Attorney Charles E. Erbstein, representing Mann, furnished Mrs. Maud Shanks, former wife of the defendant, with $100 and directed the movement to keep her out of the city until after the trial.

Mrs. Emily Pinske of 21 Fletcher street, where Mann formerly roomed, testified that Sergeant G. G. Chatt called upon her one night and after furnishing two pints of beer had her sign a statement to the effect that it was on the night of June 27 that Mann came home wearing a gray cap. She swore positively that Mann wore that sort of headgear only on the night of June 20. That is one of the important incidents on which the case will turn.

Cowdery appeared little concerned over a report that the grand jury might investigate the charges against him and laughingly remarked that he would gladly go before the grand jury. Mr. Erbstein said if Cowdery is taken before the inquisitorial body "a lot of witnesses for the state would meet a similar fate."

Tells of Receiving Money.

Mrs. Shanks, as well as Mrs. Myrtle Smith, who "admitted" the passing of the money from Cowdery to Mrs. Shanks, testified to that alleged fact, but subsequently Mr. Erbstein succeeded in having all testimony of that sort stricken from the records as irrelevant. Judge McSurely instructed the jurors to disregard everything they heard in that respect.

The state banks its case on the assumption that it was the evening of Saturday, June 27, that "J. H. Raymond"—who, it says, is Mann—and Mrs. Thompson appeared at the Michigan avenue rooming house where the woman's corpse was found on July 1. It is charged that he wore the gray cap on that occasion. The defense is now producing witnesses to show that Mann was at his weighing machine in Riverview park at the time he is alleged to have hired the room.

"Money was given to me by Mrs. Smith and Bert Cowdery," Mrs. Shanks testified.

"How much money did you receive?" Prosecutor Day asked.

"Mrs. Smith gave me $75 at the Morrison hotel, and then bought me a ticket for New York and took me to a train. Later Cowdery gave me $25 at the Majestic hotel."

Gets Warning from Chicago.

"Did you receive letters from any one while you were in New York?"

"Yes, from Mrs. Smith."

"Did she tip you off that Sergt. Chatt was on his way to New York, and didn't you change your residence because of that?"

"Yes, I did."

"Did I ever advise you to leave Chicago? Answer yes or no," asked Attorney Erbstein, pointing his finger at the witness.

"No," she replied slowly.

"Didn't you leave Chicago because Mr. Erbstein told you he had something against your record which would look bad if made public?" asked Mr. Day.

Attorney Erbstein objected and was sustained.

Mrs. Smith testified that she knew Mann but slightly and admitted taking Mrs. Shanks to the train.

"Didn't you give her money and buy her railroad tickets?" Mr. Day asked.

"Yes, I bought the ticket."

Mrs. Smith said she couldn't remember how much she gave Mrs. Shanks and that the money came from Cowdery, whom she met in Mr. Erbstein's office.

Efforts to Prove Alibi.

Sidney Taylor, who lives at 243 Ohio street, testified to Mann losing his cap in a storm on June 20, and said he gave Mann a gray cap. Fred Wright swore he saw Mann at Riverview park between 2 and 7:15 p. m. on June 27. Henry J. Cox, official weather forecaster, testified there was a storm on June 20, as well as on June 27.

Miss Daisy Potts, the next witness, admitted striking up an acquaintanceship with Mann on June 22. She outlined his movements from then until July 4 and was sure she saw him in the park on the evening of June 27, and saw him again the next afternoon, when Miss Ada Gray accompanied her. She said she reprimanded him for calling her by phone at 2 o'clock that morning. The next day, Monday, she said she went with him to a daisy field near Belmont avenue, and Tuesday she was in Lincoln park with him.

Her cross examination passed smoothly until Mr. Day asked:

"Up to that time he assumed no ownership over you?"

Mr. Erbstein appealed to Judge McSurely to reprimand Mr. Day on the ground that the question was insulting.

"It might be insulting to a perverted mind," retorted Mr. Day, and Mr. Erbstein shot back: "Like yours." The court angrily addressed both with: "Keep quiet."

Girls Testify in Mann's Behalf.

Miss Ina Bullen, who lives at 147 North Humphrey avenue, testified that she met Miss Jessie Mann, the defendant's sister, at the Order of the Eastern Star on June 27 and passed the night at the Mann residence with the defendant's sisters and Miss Elsie Hotchkiss. She swore she heard Luman enter the house at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning, and met him at the breakfast table at 9 o'clock. Miss Jessie Mann and Miss Edna Mann testified to the same facts, differing only in certain details. The testimony of these girls withstood the attack of cross examination.

Mrs. Pinzke swore she didn't understand the paper Sergeant Chatt gave her to sign, and declares she told him it was not the 27th that Mann came home with the cap, as appears in her signed statement.

Judge McSurely began taking Attorney Erbstein to task for permitting Miss Emma Hartman, a telephone operator, in the room while other witnesses were being heard, but the incident ended by Mr. Erbstein explaining that he didn't intend to call Miss Hartman to testify.

CITY VOTE ON WHITE PLAGUE

Chance for Referendum When Deneen Signs Glackin Bill.

SANITARIUM UP TO PEOPLE.

Council O. K. Expected, Then Tuberculosis Campaign Begins.

By the passage and executive approval of the Glackin bill at Springfield yesterday Chicago in all likelihood is to have an opportunity of voting upon the proposition to establish a municipal tuberculosis sanitarium.

The news that Gov. Deneen had signed the bill was received in Chicago late yesterday afternoon by friends of the measure, and plans were announced immediately for a stirring campaign in behalf of the proposition, which is scheduled to go on the little ballot at the April election.

The necessary petition which is required before the proposition can be submitted to the voters was placed in circulation upon receipt of the telegram from Senator Glackin. But 100 names are required by the new law, and the petition will be presented to the city council this afternoon, and to make it sure another will be filed with the board of election commissioners.

Directors to Plan Campaign.

The directors of the Chicago Tuberculosis institute will meet this afternoon to consider plans for the big campaign of education which is to be waged in behalf of the question between now and the city election.

The law, as finally adopted at Springfield, provides that the city council shall levy a tax of not to exceed one mill for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a public tuberculosis sanitarium, following a favorable referendum vote, a majority of the votes cast on the proposition being necessary for approval.

The city's health department, led by Dr. W. A. Evans, will take a conspicuous part in the campaign.

It is proposed to make the first tax rate one-half mill, which will net in the neighborhood of $250,000, which is estimated as sufficient to secure the land to construct a sanitarium and maintain it for a year, big enough to care for 300 patients.

Before signing the bill Gov. Deneen secured from Attorney General Stead an opinion to the effect that the law is in accordance with the constitution.

Evanston Fights Tuberculosis.

Evanston has joined vigorously in the campaign to check tuberculosis. At a meeting, in the evening, at which some of the leading citizens were present, plans were made to organize a society for the prevention of the spread of the disease. The meeting, which was held in the public library building of the suburb, was presided over by Mayor Joseph E. Paden. It was decided that a committee of twenty be appointed by the mayor to act as a nucleus for a larger organization to be formed in the near future.

TWO ATTORNEYS ON TRIAL BEFORE BAR ASSOCIATION.

Investigation Begun Into Three Charges Made Against M. A. Bamborough and A. F. Brown.

The grievance committee of the Bar association began an investigation last night of the conduct of Mason A. Bamborough and Albert F. Brown, attorneys doing business as Bamborough & Brown. There are three complainants, but the principal charge is being pressed by John H. K. Edwards, who seeks an accounting for $1,300.

James Stillwell presided at the meeting and John L. Fogle examined Bamborough, the only defendant to appear. The committee refused all information except to say that no decision had been reached.

Edwards, who is in jail awaiting trial on an embezzlement charge preferred by L. Gould & Co., of which firm he formerly was secretary, was taken to the hearing by Deputy Sheriff Morrison.

He was the chief witness. His wife, Mrs. Nellie M. Edwards, corroborated his statements, and they were further verified by Albert H. Tyrrell, attorney.

In the formal charge Attorney Tyrrell filed with the committee, and also with State's Attorney Wayman, it is set forth that on Sept. 28 Bamborough told Mrs. Edwards it was unsafe for her to carry $300 she possessed, and induced her to leave the money in his safe. Subsequently, it is charged, the defendant lawyers retained $1,000 from the sale of the Edwards home in Maywood, and that Bamborough signed the name of Gustav Handschu, the bondsman, to a paper surrendering Edwards to the authorities.

Finally, when Attorney Tyrrell pressed the defendants for an accounting of the $1,300 they rendered a bill setting forth one item of $1,190 for services and $284 for "cash disbursements."

TENTATIVE PLANS ADOPTED FOR ELEVATED ROAD MERGER.

Promoters, After Long Session, Decide on Formal Report to Be Presented to Railways.

Tentative plans for the merging of the elevated railroads of Chicago were drawn up yesterday by the promoters—Ira M. Cobe, Emil K. Boisot, and Samuel Insull—and will be submitted to the management of the different roads the first of the week.

While the final facts and figures of the proposed merger will not be ready for about three weeks, it was thought best to give the officials of the elevated systems some idea of what might be expected when the formal proposition to lease the roads is made. None of the figures was made public by the promoters.

Messrs. Cobe, Boisot, and Insull went into session in the Chicago club at noon, and it was after 6 p. m. when they finished their labors. Preliminary reports of engineers and expert accountants, who have been working several weeks on the proposition, were used in drawing up the informal merger plan.

"We have just begun our work," said Mr. Cobe, "and are unable to tell just what sort of a financial phase the proposed merger may assume. From reports and figures we have considered it is probable that the cost of operation of the system will be much less than we first thought.

"Getting an idea of values in this transaction is a strenuous one, and we have our work cut out for us. We have arrived at a pretty fair estimate of the cost of operation of all the roads, but cannot give this out just now. As soon as our plans are completed we will be glad to make them public."

REALTY MEN FIGHT WINDES' DECISION

Call Old Statute Preposterous and Judge Himself Predicts Quick Reversal.

WOULD CAUSE UPHEAVAL.

Ruling Against Building Corporation Might Result in Endless Litigation.

The teeth of many Chicago corporations, figuratively speaking, were set chattering yesterday as the result of a decision by Judge Windes upholding an old statute of the state of Illinois and affecting every firm that owns office buildings or deals in any way, as a corporation, in real estate.

The section of the statute, which affects more than $100,000,000 worth of property in Chicago, states "that corporations may be formed in the manner provided by this act for any lawful purpose, except banking, insurance, real estate brokerage, the operation of railroads, and the business of loaning money."

On this section of the statute, and a recent decision of the State Supreme court, Judge Windes based his decision in the case of the people versus the Merrimac Building company, which owns the Stewart building. Under the statute it is claimed no real estate corporation is legal.

Calls It Preposterous.

Attorney H. S. Mecartney, representing the Merrimac Building company, admits the statute, if upheld, affects every corporation in Chicago dealing in office buildings and other real estate. He declares, however, that when the Supreme court considers the question of "contemporaneous construction"—meaning the manner in which the statute has always been viewed since its passage in 1872—it will reverse itself and thus uphold the vast business interests which are affected. In a brief which he will submit to the Supreme court the attorney says:

"To say that a statute prohibiting the formation of corporations for 'real estate purposes' or a statute enabling a corporation to be formed for certain 'purposes 'except real estate' forbids or excludes all these powers or privileges is the height of absurdity. All of the industrial corporations need the use of some real estate for the purpose of carrying on their main trade objects."

Windes Expects a Reversal.

In his opinion in the Merrimac Building company Judge Windes says: "I can't help but believe if the question is fully presented to the Supreme court in view of several recent decisions it has made on the question of contemporaneous construction they will modify their decision in the Imperial Building company case."

In deciding the Merrimac case according to the statutes Judge Windes did so solely because of the case decided by the Supreme court. Concluding his opinion the court states:

"The order of the court is that the demurrers to the several pleas by the defendants be sustained. I do that with the belief that I will be reversed."

The state Supreme court is expected to pass on the case at an early date.

Says Any One Can Start Action.

Frank A. Bingham, the attorney who brought the suit against the Merrimac company, holds the statutes are clear on the proposition of corporations dealing in real estates.

"Any building corporation in Chicago can be attacked by any one," said he, "and if the statutes are upheld it can be dissolved."

If the statute in question should be upheld by the Supreme court it is said the charters of more than twenty-eight corporations in Chicago would have to be worked out through bills in chancery. It would mean litigation without end.

COMPLAINTS OF THE ACTORS STIR TWO CITY DEPARTMENTS

Building Commissioner Says Separate Dressing Rooms for Men and Women Are Required in Nickel Theaters.

Two departments in the city hall yesterday made haste to anticipate the visit of a delegation from the Actors' union which is to wait upon Mayor Busse today in reference to conditions "behind the scenes" in the 5 cent theaters.

Building Commissioner Murdoch Campbell hurried to tell the mayor that during the last two months his department has required that separate dressing rooms for men and women be included in the plans presented with applications for permits. He said the approval of the department of health also was necessary before the granting of permits.

Charles O'Donnell of Chief Shippy's office, head of the bureau of theatrical inspection, said his department had taken every precaution possible for the welfare of the vaudeville performers and that the complaints made by the Actors' union were not founded on fact.

This afternoon's special council meeting will consider the Kensington and Eastern franchise, which Mayor Busse ruled was defeated by a vote of 35 to 18 last Monday, and the Southern street railway's consolidation with the Chicago City Railway company, the ordinance for which was ordered republished.

TRAIN WRECKED BY ROBBERS?

Burlington Passenger Switched Into Freight Near Peoria.

200 PERSONS ARE PERILED.

Sheriff and Posse Begins Hunt for Gang Thought Guilty.

Peoria, Ill., March 11.—[Special.]—Trainwreckers tonight endangered the lives of 200 passengers on Burlington train No. 1. The coolness of the engineer prevented loss of life, when the train, going at the rate of forty miles an hour, was sidetracked into a cut of loaded freight cars.

The train left Peoria for the west at 8:15 tonight and had gone safely to the Vicary coal mine switch, five miles from the station and just beyond the suburbs of the city. Investigation immediately after the train stopped showed the switch lock had been broken and the switch thrown, according to reports made by the railroad employés.

Hunt for Supposed Wreckers.

The sheriff's office was notified at 11 o'clock tonight that a deliberate attempt had been made to wreck the train, probably with the intention of robbing the passengers, and a posse was formed at once to search the county and city.

It is considered miraculous that the train was not entirely destroyed and everybody on board killed. Engineer Maxwell says the switchlights were awry, but seemed to indicate he had a clear track, the lanterns having been changed after the switch was thrown. Maxwell says the instant he and his fireman saw that something was wrong he reversed the engine and both jumped, escaping with a number of bruises.

The locomotive was demolished and a number of the freight cars on the side track were broken into kindling wood, coal, with which some of them were loaded, being scattered over a radius of many yards.

Not one of the passenger cars was derailed, but how they staid on the tracks and remained upright is a mystery. Had the engineer tried to take such a flying switch in the ordinary course of business he would have expected to pile his whole train into the ditch with dead bodies mingled with the wreckage.

Passengers Are Shaken Up.

The passengers in the forward cars were badly shaken up and some received slight bruises, but it is believed no one was seriously hurt. The passengers returned to Peoria tonight on a special train and a new start for their destinations will be made. It is reported that in the express car was a considerable amount of cash which the supposed robbers intended to secure.

Among the clews the sheriff and his deputies are working on is one furnished by employés of the railroad yards at the coal mine, who all day were attracted by three men who did not appear to belong to the usual run of tramps about the railroad, and who let pass several freight trains starting for distant points.

POLICEMAN STRIPPED OF STAR.

Chief Shippy Responds to Appeal from Courtroom and Suspends J. E. McGuire as Refractory.

J. E. McGuire, a policeman of the Fiftieth street station, was stripped of his star, reprimanded and suspended by Chief of Police Shippy in Judge Ben M. Smith's chambers in the Superior court yesterday.

While testifying for Emmett F. Briscoe, a former policeman, who sought damages of $25,000 against the Chicago City Railway company, McGuire frequently clashed with Edward C. Higgins of counsel for the company.

McGuire, when warned by the court, it is said, used abusive language and another attorney, also representing the company, telephoned for Chief Shippy, who went to the court, took McGuire into Judge Smith's private chambers and summarily suspended him pending investigation.

FATHER ACCUSES FIVE "COPS."

Policemen Must Face Trials for Arresting Young Men and Not Notifying Their Parents.

As a result of arresting eight young men and detaining them twenty-four hours without notifying their parents, relatives, or friends, five policemen from the Sheffield avenue station have been notified to appear before the trial board next week.

Charges have been filed against the patrolmen by William T. Purcell, manager of the Illinois Life Insurance company, whose son, Murat Purcell, a high school student, was one of those arrested.

The patrolmen against whom charges have been filed are William Parker, C. Smith, George McGowan, Albert G. Boschulte, and William Rose.

LEEK REPUDIATES THE "CONFESSION"

Accused Minister Declares His Relations with Mrs. Lavender Were Proper.

CRAWFORD IS ON TRIAL.

Woman in the Case Complains Because She Is Excluded from the Hearing.

Eight witnesses were heard yesterday on the charges brought by Mrs. Mary Lavender against the Rev. E. B. Crawford of Woodlawn Park Methodist Episcopal church, then the hearing was adjourned until this afternoon, when the principal witnesses, Mrs. Lavender and the Rev. John D. Leek, will give their evidence.

Mrs. Lavender charges Mr. Crawford with making false statements regarding confessions said to have been made by herself and Mr. Leek and she also charges Mr. Crawford with conduct unbecoming a minister in making public statements regarding the "confessions."

Testimony was heard by a commission of nine ministers in McCabe Memorial church, Washington avenue and Fifty-fourth street.

Statement by Ex-Pastor Leek.

To the two score of persons gathered in the chapel interest in the proceedings was overshadowed by a direct statement made by the Rev. Mr. Leek regarding his relations with Mrs. Lavender. It follows:

"I am not guilty of any crime against morality in my relations with Mrs. Lavender. I have kept silent under the flood of gossip because my wife urged me to do so. Now, however, I wish to make myself understood.

"I do not, of course, know just what Mrs. Lavender may have said, but I state positively that I never confessed any moral wrong involving her. That will be the great point of my testimony. I shall insist that my exact words regarding the case be repeated. I shall insist that I be allowed to explain those words and not have the case judged by the interpretation that any one else may put upon them."

Mr. Leek has made plans to have his case brought before the Rock River conference of the church and will ask to be reinstated as a pastor.

Damage Suit May Follow.

Throughout the afternoon Mrs. Lavender was kept out of the hearing room. She complained of this treatment.

"I do not see why they will not let me hear the witnesses testify," she said repeatedly. "If the ministers allow Mr. Crawford, who is defendant, prosecutor, chief examiner, and the cause of all the trouble, to hear the evidence, I think I should be afforded similar courtesy.

"I expect to be vindicated by having this trial result in the suspension of Mr. Crawford. If the board finds in his favor then I will consider the question of a personal suit for damages."

The board of ministers made every effort to preserve secrecy regarding the hearing. The board organized with District Superintendent William Macafee in the chair. The Rev. Dr. Charles M. Stuart took the place upon the trial board of the Rev. Dr. Charles B. Mitchell, who was unable to attend. The other members of the trial board are:

T. P. Frost, First church, Evanston.
J. H. MacDonald, Epworth church, Edgewater.
E. L. Eaton, Emmanuel church, Evanston.
B. J. Wyckoff, Ravenswood church.
L. F. W. Lesemann, Trinity church.
John Norris Hall, Berwyn church.
W. O. Shepard, First church, Englewood.
W. A. Phillips, Auburn Park church.

The Rev. W. E. Tilroe was adviser for Mr. Crawford.

Bishop Unable to Attend.

Bishop McDowell had intended to be a witness at the hearing, but he sent a telegram saying he was obliged to preside at a church meeting in Pittsburg. He stated he would return tomororw or would submit his statement in writing.

Question then arose as to the right of Attorney G. F. Orth to represent Mrs. Lavender. The church laws require that a prosecutor must be a member of the conference. When the question came up, Mr. Crawford said:

"I suggest that all such right be waived in this case. I am sure every one desires only that the facts be arrived at and that all justice be done Mrs. Lavender. I urge that the lawyer be allowed to remain on her behalf if he agrees that nothing of the proceedings shall be given publicity through him."

The witnesses in waiting were the Rev. John D. Leek and his brother, the Rev. William P. Leek; W. H. Walker, W. S. Stahl, R. H. Wilson, and Dr. Charles H. Moyer, members of the Woodlawn church board; Mrs. Frank Tutton, Mrs. Emily McElroy, Miss Emily McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Lane, the Rev. Dr. H. V. Holt, Mrs. Lavender, Mrs. Charles Hill, and three newspaper reporters.

Mrs. Lavender's Charges.

The Rev. Mr. Little read the formal charges brought by Mrs. Lavender. Following is the substance of them:

1. That E. H. Crawford, in violation of the rules of discipline, said falsely, willfully, and maliciously that the Rev. William P. Leek said to him, in reference to a confession alleged to have been made by Mrs. Mary Lavender, that if he [Leek] had been in Crawford's place he would have done as Crawford has done, meaning and intending thereby that Leek would have betrayed and published the said alleged confession.
2. That E. B. Crawford said falsely to the Rev. John D. Leek that a certain letter written by Mrs. Mary Lavender to Crawford contained statements charging Leek with immoral conduct.
3. That E. B. Crawford falsely said to the official board of Woodlawn church and to other persons that Mrs. Mary Lavender desired to make said alleged confession before the said congregation.
4. That E. B. Crawford falsely said to G. G. Abraham that he did not give out said alleged confession to a newspaper reporter.

Eight Witnesses Are Heard.

The first witness called was Dr. Walker, who was questioned regarding a statement made by the Rev. Mr. Crawford to the official board of his church concerning his action in hearing the confession of Mrs. Lavender and Mr. Leek and having the matter taken before the bishop and the district superintendent. He was questioned particularly as to his remembrance of any statement made by Mr. Crawford to the effect that Mrs. Lavender had told him she was willing to repeat her statement to the entire congregation.

Mrs. McElroy and her daughter Emily testified regarding a statement made in the church by Mr. Crawford following the board meeting. Both witnesses said to the best of their recollection they heard the pastor say that the Rev. John D. Leek's brother had said to him that if he had been in Mr. Crawford's place "he would have done the same thing."

The Rev. William Leek of Racine, Wis., brother of the Rev. John D. Leek, testified that Mr. Crawford had told him several things which he later found to be untrue, but in the belief at the time that they were true he had stated that he supposed he would have done as Mr. Crawford did under the circumstances.

Three newspaper reporters were asked to testify regarding Mr. Crawford's denial of an interview printed in a newspaper setting forth some of the details of Mrs. Lavender's alleged "confession."

Charles H. Moyer was the last witness of the day. He stated that he had criticised Mr. Crawford at a board meeting for his attitude in the case.

After the hearing Mr. Crawford said:

"I am perfectly satisfied with the result of the day's hearing. The witnesses almost without exception sustained my every contention. The Rev. William Leek practically confirmed every word I had said in my church."

DARROW CALLS DRYS 'BATTY'

Says Prohibition Is an Epidemic and That It Will Die Out.

STATEMENTS CAUSE PROTEST

Oliver W. Stewart in Reply Avers Lawyer Missed Point in Speech.

Prohibitionists last night allowed Clarence S. Darrow to call them "daffy" and "batty" without showing any particular resentment. But every once in a while his pleasantries had a sting in them that got in under the prevailing "good fellowship," and then the whole audience would hit back.

He was talking against prohibition at a dinner given by Prohibitionists at the Lakota restaurant.

"You've all been thinking of rum so long that you're 'batty,'" he said. "This prohibition wave is just a 'bug.' It's an epidemic, like measles, whooping cough, or the fever—we've had them before, but they die out, and so will this epidemic die out.

"I've seen a lot of your statistics showing that one out of every ten men dies from alcoholism. Rubbish."

Words Bring Protest.

The statement brought out a protest.

"I'll prove you're wrong. The fact is that one out of every five persons born in the world dies of tuberculosis," continued Mr. Darrow.

"That's due to liquor," cried a man in the audience.

"Rats. That's the trouble with you all, you dream of rum until you see spooks. You've got 'em without ever taking a drink.

"Do you claim that drink causes disease?"

"You bet we do," came from half a hundred voices.

"And that is the reason you want to take it away?" he asked.

"Yes," was the unanimous reply.

"Well, there's tobacco——"

"We'd stop that, too," they answered.

Led Into a Trap.

The audience didn't see the trap Mr. Darrow had laid for them.

"Well, I can show you statistics and thousands of intelligent people who declare that coffee, tea, and meat cause more sickness than rum. Would you take those away?"

The audience saw the point, and the speaker had them quieted for a while.

Oliver W. Stewart, one of the leaders of the Prohibition party, replied to Mr. Darrow.

"No one could make a more adroit argument against prohibition than Mr. Darrow," he said, "but he has missed the point. We are not Prohibitionists because we are against liquor, but because we are against the licensing of liquor sellers. We have seen the political corruption due to the legalized saloons."

TILE CONTRACTORS ISSUE ULTIMATUM TO STRIKERS.

May Result in General Tieup of Building Operations Throughout the City.

The strike of tile layers and helpers again assumed a threatening aspect yesterday. Negotiations between the contractors and a committee of the union looking to a settlement of the dispute suddenly were terminated, and the employers issued an ultimatum that unless the strikers accept the present scale of wages operations on the interrupted contracts will be resumed Monday morning with nonunion men.

The stand of the employers may precipitate a general disturbance in the entire building industry of Chicago.

More than 200 carpenters' apprentices whose annual school term expires at the end of March will gather at the Thomas Hoyne school at noon today to listen to addresses by Judge John R. Newcomer, President John Metz, and Secretary John J. Brittain of the carpenters' union and Secretary H. B. Bernard of the Carpenters and Builders' association.

GARY EATS "LEMON DINNER."

Citizens Feast on Citric Dishes and Memories of Defeat of Superior Court Bill.

The citizens of Gary, Ind., gave a "lemon dinner" last night in commemoration of the recent defeat of the Gary Superior court bill by the Indiana legislature. The feast was spread in the Gary hotel, and the decorations consisted of lemons. Lemon ice cream, lemon sherbet, lemon pie, and other lemon dishes formed the menu.

The guests of honor were T. E. Knotts, president of the town board, and George H. Manlove, the two Gary citizens who remained at the state capital and worked for the bill while it was before the legislature.

Among those who made speeches regarding the "lemon" handed to Gary were Representative Kilver, Senator Bowser, Senator Procter, Capt. H. F. Norton, and E. W. Witkey.

WARNS CHICAGO TO HELP GARY.

Bishop White Asserts Town Will Be a Terrible Menace to This City if It Lacks Churches.

"Unless the churches in Chicago take an interest in the people of the new steel town Gary will be a terrible menace to this city," declared the Rt. Rev. John H. White of Michigan City before the Men's club of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Evanston, last night.

Bishop White showed how the expenditure of millions of dollars had made a wonderful place of a barren area of sand.

"I predict for Chicago a future as the most powerful and the most influential city of the United States," said Bishop White, "and we should establish churches at once to solve the religion problem of Gary."

THINKS SHE'S COUNT'S CHILD; ALLEGES 'MOTHER' STOLE HER.

Defendant in Insanity Case Charges Plaintiff with Plot to Hide Real Parentage.

In the fixed belief that she is the daughter of a count, that her mother's identity has been concealed from her, and that she was "stolen" for her money as a foster child, Mrs. Louise A. Geisler of Lyons, Ill., is fighting a petition to have her adjudged insane, brought by Mrs. Amalie Birkhahn of La Grange, Ill., who insists she is her mother. The case is one of the most stubbornly contested in the history of the court for the insane at the detention hospital.

Letters intended to prove insanity were produced yesterday before the jury and Judge Williams of the Probate court of Kane county. These letters, written by Mrs. Geisler to Mrs. Birkhahn, bitterly accuse the plaintiff of hiding from the writer the name of her mother "to steal my money." She says she knows Count Keyserlingk of Danzig, Germany, to be her father.

Dr. H. I. Davis, county physician, and Dr. Arthur Loewy, who was employed by the plaintiff, both testified that Mrs. Geisler was suffering from paranoia. Several witnesses said she had been known to threaten to kill her mother, herself, and her child, Theodore.

Mrs. Annie Sanchez, 1634 Carroll avenue, said she was Mrs. Geisler's sister.

When Mrs. Sanchez said that Mrs. Geisler, who was divorced about a year ago, had announced her intention to marry Attorney McMahon all in the courtroom burst into laughter. Nevertheless, Attorney McMahon declares his client is not insane, but that she is only excitable.

CHILDREN SAVE PRICELESS ART

Three Firemen Are Severely Injured in Sixty Thousand Dollar Evanston Residence Fire.

Timely discovery of fire in the home of Mrs. Patterson L. McKinnie, 721 Sheridan road, yesterday afternoon prevented the destruction of her splendid collection of art. The fire started at 1 o'clock, and in spite of the efforts of the Evanston fire department the house was burned to the ground.

Children from the Lincoln school near the residence came to the rescue of the pictures and through their work nearly all were saved. During their fight to extinguish the flames several of the Evanston firemen were severely injured.

Carl Harrison, chief of the fire department, suffered a badly cut foot and the loss of a finger through falling glass, while Assistant Chief John Swetting and William Hostetter were injured by falling timbers and overcome by the smoke. The loss to the McKinnie estate is estimated at $60,000.

CONGENIAL WORK

And Strength to Perform It.

See Below.

A person in good health is likely to have a genial disposition, ambition, and enjoy work.

On the other hand, if the digestive organs have been upset by wrong food, work becomes drudgery.

"Until recently," writes a Washington girl, "I was a railroad stenographer, which means full work every day.

"Like many other girls alone in a large city, I lived at a boarding house. For breakfast it was mush, greasy meat, soggy cakes, black coffee, etc.

"After a few months of this diet I used to feel sleepy and heavy in the mornings. My work seemed a terrible effort, and I thought the work was to blame—too arduous.

"At home I had heard my father speak of a young fellow who went long distances in the cold on Grape-Nuts and cream and nothing more for breakfast.

"I concluded if it would tide him over a morning's heavy work, it might help me, so on my way home one night I bought a package and next morning I had Grape-Nuts and milk for breakfast.

"I stuck to Grape-Nuts, and in less than two weeks I noticed improvement. I can't just tell how well I felt, but I remember I used to walk the 12 blocks to business and knew how good it was simply to live.

"As to my work—well, did you ever feel the delight of having congenial work and the strength to perform it? That's how I felt. I truly believe there's life and vigor in every grain of Grape-Nuts."

DR. FLACK DEFENDS STORY OF HER LIFE

Denies It Is Immoral to Picture Airily Clad Maidens Dipping Ankles in Sea.

BITTER AGAINST CRITICS.

Quotes Racy Chapter from Book for Loss of Which She Sues Express Company.

Dr. Marie Michel Flack insists it is not immoral to picture a summer day at dawn with airily clad maidens dipping coral tinted ankles in an azure sea well up in the foreground.

This is what she has done in her book "The Truth in Spite of the Devil," for the loss of which she is suing the Wells-Fargo Express company to recover $25,000 damages.

The case is on trial before Judge H. V. Freeman in the Superior court, and yesterday counsel representing the express company intimated that sections of the disputed manuscript were questionable.

Dr. Flack bitterly resented the imputation.

"That charge is just in line with the whole conspiracy against me," she said. "The truth is never immoral. Faithful narration of the impulses and desires that order our lives, whatever they may be, raises poetry and prose to the pinnacle of art. My book is true in spirit of all the incarnate devils who have sought to steal it from me and prevent its publication."

Insists Story Is True.

Dr. Flack testified as to the composition of the book, its contents, and the date of delivery to the express company. She said it was a faithful autobiography and also an enthralling romance, but the court refused to admit in evidence certain passages she sought to introduce.

"All the statements in it are true?" asked C. S. Holt, attorney for the express company.

"Absolutely true—in spite of the devil," was the reply.

"What's that?"

"His majesty," the witness asserted, solemnly.

She explained that she had assembled all her enemies into one composite entity and had dubbed it the devil. Whenever she ran out of real, quadruple plate romance in the course of her writings, she dragged out "his majesty" and made it hot for him.

Dr. Flack and E. B. Trubey of the National Adjustment company, who sent the package from Chicago to Longton, Kas., testified that certain pages were missing from the book. She accused her former husband with instigating the "conspiracy" against her.

Quotes from Her Book.

She dictated the following page from "The Truth in Spite of the Devil":

"Suddenly the stillness was broken by the sound of merry voices and, as echoing peals of laughter rang from cliff to cliff, six beautiful maidens ran over the sands to the water's edge. But a moment before they had left their beds in the school nearby and, as was their custom, came to perform their ablutions in the sea.

"A sight to please the eye it was. Airily clad, unrestrained, fearing no interruption, with minds and hearts care free as the wind that blows, they personified health. Into the breakers they scampered, dipping coral tinted ankles into the azure sea and ever and anon shouting with glee as a boisterous wave played tag with their short skirts. A fair picture that."

Dr. Flack admitted that, of course, there were certain chapters "where I ran away with a French army officer and his friend got me out of the window and loaned me money" that might be criticised.

The Kansas author speaks five languages fluently. While a young woman she served the French government as a nurse in Tunis, and says she was severely wounded on a battlefield.

"The principal reason I am anxious to win this case," she said, "is that I may be forced at any moment to have one leg amputated and then I will not be so competent to practice my profession."

VOW IN COURT THEY'LL MARRY.

Boy and Girl Who Eloped to Michigan City Dealt With Leniently by Judge Pinckney.

When arraigned before Judge Pinckney in the Juvenile court yesterday Lottie Hopkins and Lillis Walsh, each 16 years old, who ran away to Michigan City, Ind., to be married after the boy had taken $1,000 belonging to his mother, declared they would wed if they had to wait ten years. The girl was paroled to her mother and the youth's case was continued one month, in which he is to get work and behave himself. If he shows the judge that everything is all right at the end of a month he will be paroled to his brother.

TRAIN TOSSES GIRL TO DEATH

Northwestern Limited Speeds on Way at 60 Miles an Hour.

AMBULANCE CRUSHES WOMAN

Police in Tragic Accident While Answering Suicide Call.

Just as she stepped on the tracks of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad Minnie Hartman, 17 years old, was struck and instantly killed by a limited passenger train, which was going through Arlington Heights, at sixty miles an hour last night.

The girl, who is the daughter of Peter Hartman, a well to do merchant of the town, was hurled a dozen feet and her body was found alongside the tracks by John Dedrick, agent at the station, which is half a block distant.

The crew of the train, which has a run from Chicago to St. Paul, evidently was unaware of the accident and the train did not stop.

Policeman Watching Train.

Policeman De Bolt, who was a short distance behind Miss Hartman, did not see the accident, as he was watching the train as it whirled past the station. He saw Dedrick running up the track after the train had passed and then became aware of the accident. He notified J. Reese, an undertaker, and the latter removed the body.

Hartman, who is the owner of a shoe store in the town, when notified of the death of his daughter was overcome by the shock. He said that a short time before the accident the girl left the house to go to the home of a friend. It was while walking across the tracks to the residence of her friend that the girl met her death.

When struck the girl was tossed clear of the rails, so the wheels of the train did not pass over her body. A hole on the left side of her head and a few bruises on that side of her body were the extent of her injuries. The hole in her head caused instant death, as the blow from some part of the engine crushed in her skull.

Police Ambulance Kills Woman.

An unknown woman was killed almost instantly in the evening at Chicago avenue and Wells street by the police ambulance of the East Chicago avenue police station, driven by Henry Anson, 457 Marshfield avenue, and in charge of Police Surgeon W. W. Jungles. The ambulance had been called to 286½ Wells street, where it was alleged a woman had attempted to kill herself by taking carbolic acid. The ambulance was turning out of Chicago avenue into Wells street when the woman attempted to cross the street.

Pianist Asserts Friends Know He Has Done All He Could for Boy—Doesn't Care About Strangers.

Fifty dollars a month is more money abroad than it is in this country—Ignace Jan Paderwski said so last night, but he did not mention whether he transferred this amount of his American money every month to his refractory nephew in Paris, to be multiplied into its larger European equivalent.

"I try to do the square thing by him, as I always have done," he generalized. "But it is impossible to try to defend oneself against so many different kinds of accusations. Those who know me know I have done everything in my power for the boy and his wife. And those who don't know me—it doesn't matter."

Instead of adopting the "I am a poor, abused creature" air, he seemed to consider it a joke.

During the conversation a bundle of clippings arrived by post. Mme. Pederewski found criticisms of concerts crowded out by the more important question of the domestic affairs.

"It's the old story," said Paderewski, with a gesture and a laugh of amusement. "Why, it is of secondary interest to the public, it seems."

H. D. Scheck, Great Northern hotel; diamond ring valued at $150 and clothing valued at $100.

A. A. Keith, Grand Pacific hotel; gold watch, chain and diamond charm valued at $280.

PIANO ECONOMY depends not upon what you pay for a piano, but upon what you get for what you pay. Rightly considered, the purchase of a Knabe or Chickering piano is the truest economy. These pianos will last much more than twice as long as any piano costing half as much, and—what is much more to the point—they will be worth more than twice as much in satisfaction all the time. By our plan, they are as easy to own as an ordinary piano. Let us talk it over with you.

HOUSE IN TURMOIL ON JUDICIAL BILL.

Members Call Names in Discussing Proposal to Redistrict the State.

PRIMARIES PUT IN PERIL.

Time for Filing Petitions for a Place on Ballots Nearly Expired.

BY C. S. R.

Springfield, Ill., March 11.—[Special.]—In spite of the fact that the time for filing of petitions for a place on the judicial primary ballots expires on Saturday the legislature is endeavoring to proceed with the judicial reapportionment, making new judicial districts outside of Cook county.

There was a pleasant time in the house of representatives today over the proposition, and while it was being "had" various of the leading statesmen were called "doormat thieves" and "second story workers" by various other leading statesmen, but that was merely incidental and serves only to show that the subject is one near and dear to the legislative heart.

The real trouble will begin when the assembly succeeds in passing a reapportionment bill, if it should succeed in this endeavor, and several highly interesting possibilities are dependent on the outcome of this pending legislation.

A repeal of that portion of the primary law which governs the nomination of candidates for the Circuit court is one of the interesting things which might happen. In this case the candidates for judges all over the state would find themselves dependent on the good will of the party bosses.

Legislature Ready to Cause Fuss.

That the legislature would be tickled to death to pass such a repealing measure as a rider to the apportionment bill is not doubted. It is one of two ways out of the tall grass in which the judicial situation will be lost if the state be reapportioned. The trouble is that Gov. Deneen would veto the bill promptly, and it is not probable a two-thirds vote could be mustered to pass the measure over his veto.

If the legislature should pass a reapportionment bill, and the leaders in both the house and senate are endeavoring to do so, the judicial primaries scheduled by the primary law for April 13 would be thrown into the utmost confusion.

The attorney general's office has given an opinion to legislators who have asked for it holding that in the case of a redistricting of the state all petitions filed for places on the primary ballot will become null and void, and the secretary of state can certify no names to the county clerks for printing on the official ballots.

Ballots All Will Be Blank.

It is held that as soon as a reapportionment act takes effect, as it would on receiving the signature of the governor, all the districts are new districts with a new electorate, no matter if certain districts be not changed by the reapportionment. This being the case, all petitions for places on primary ballots are void and the time for filing petitions having lapsed, it will not be possible for any candidates to obtain places on the primary ballots in any district, at least outside of Chicago.

Every primary ballot of every party in the state would be printed blank without the name of any candidates and the voters would be required to write in the names of the candidates for whom they wished to vote. This condition necessarily is created if the legislature succeeds in passing the bills with which it now is struggling. The primary law demands the holding of judicial primaries April 13. It requires that petitions for places on the ballots be filed with the secretary of state by March 13—Saturday. It is held to be nonessential that there be any names of candidates on the ballots. That is a privilege accorded the candidates and not a necessity for the primary election.

If new districts be created, if all the petitions thus far filed be made void, and if it be impossible to file new ones, then the ballots must be sent out blank and the voters must write in the names.

All Candidates as Independents.

A candidate can have his name placed on the election ballot by petition, but he cannot be listed as a party candidate. He must run as an independent by petition. If the reapportionment bill be passed, there are only two ways, it is said, in which the legislature can avoid creating such a muddled up condition. It can repeal the judicial portion of the primary act or it can amend the section fixing the time for the filing of petitions for places on the judicial ballots.

A reapportionment act takes effect immediately on receiving the signature of the governor if it be passed by a constitutional majority of both houses. It does not need a two-thirds majority as is required of all other emergency legislation.

If Gov. Deneen were willing to consent to a partial nullification of the primary act, seventy-seven members of the house and twenty-six members of the senate could do away with the direct primary so far as it applies to the Circuit court judges, and if they did the Chicago judges, as well as those down state, would find themselves deprived of the benefits or relieved of the embarrassments of direct nomination—just as they look at it.

A simple little rider on the reapportionment bill would accomplish this and a portion of the judicial provisions of the direct primary act would be nullified—providing the governor signed the act or providing that the legislature could muster a two-thirds vote to pass it over his veto.

Legislators Calmly Plod Ahead.

It is possible that such an attempt will be made, but not probable. The two-thirds vote would be too difficult to secure and it is a certainty that the governor would veto any repealing bill. Nevertheless the legislature is proceeding serenely in its attempts to get reapportionment, knowing that the primary law must be partly repealed or amended or the voters will get blank ballots.

It is not difficult to imagine the confusion into which the passage of such an act would throw the courts of the state. The candidates have filed their petitions and Secretary Rose is about ready to certify the names to the county clerks for the publication of the ballots.

If the legislature passes the reapportionment there are no candidates who will have any legal standing. The senate has passed a redistricting bill and it is on second reading in the house. The legislature has adjusted its affairs so that no further progress can be made with the bill until next Wednesday, and it cannot be passed by the assembly for at least a week. It has been made a special order for Wednesday in the house and it is thoroughly understood that it must be a matter of compromise between the two houses in conference. Probably if everything went smoothly the legislature might be able to redistrict the state within the next ten days. Meanwhile the time for filing petitions expires on Saturday.

Row Over Committee Action.

The disorder in the house when the reapportionment bill was called up on second reading today was caused by the action of Chairman Crawford of the apportionment committee in calling a meeting of his committee for 9 o'clock this morning, when a number of the committee members were unaware that a session was being held. The committee, in this semi-secret session, attended by a small part of its membership, agreed to substitute the bill passed by the senate for the bill pending in the house, and when this attempt was made on the floor of the house later there was immediate trouble of large proportions.

Lee O'Neil Browne, minority leader, expressed his opinion of the committee action in a few burning words, and in the wrangle which followed he was accused of endeavoring to bring trials and tribulations to the members of the Tippit Democracy, a charge which he did not throw from him violently but which seemed to please his sense of justice, he being of the announced opinion that the Tippit faction on the minority side is not composed of Democrats.

The house organization may not have it in mind to pass any redistricting measure, but its actions indicate it proposes to, and the legislative leaders say a reapportionment certainly will be made. Representative Chiperfield was responsible for fixing next Wednesday as a special day for the further consideration of the measure. Unless some changes are made in the primary law it seems inevitable that confusion should follow in the judicial primaries and election.

Hopkins Drops One Vote.

The senatorial deadlock will rest in peace until Wednesday, it being the plan of the house organization to break a quorum tomorrow and Tuesday, when joint sessions will be held for the purpose of further balloting. Albert J. Hopkins was given 75 votes in today's voting, one less than he received yesterday. Senator McElvain, who deserted him some time ago and who afterwards returned to the fold, deserted again, going to Congressman Frank O. Lowden, with whom he is expected to remain for the present.

The Band of Hope's action in breaking away from the tight lines which held it in place, may result in a boost in the Hopkins vote next week. Several of the leading Hopefuls, in conference with Gov. Deneen, have declared themselves willing to vote for the ex-senator and a good many of the members are extremely tired of the Shurtleff program.

They may vote for Hopkins merely to express their dissatisfaction with the manner in which Mr. Shurtleff appointed his committees and to voice their general disapproval of the results of the nonpartisan alliance which reëlected Mr. Shurtleff speaker. There was a time when the Band of Hope could have sent Mr. Hopkins back to the senate. It may be within its power to do so now. At least it would be able to put him up almost within reach of the prize, and if he got as close to it as the Band of Hope could lift him, he probably would be able to lengthen himself out enough to grab it.

Scared by Shurtleff Rumor.

The Band of Hope was mightily scared by rumors that the long expected Democratic break to Shurtleff was started, it being reported that the speaker had a majority of the minority side and lacked just a few votes of enough. That rumor was almost enough to send the Band of Hope to Hopkins as a compact organization.

Outwardly there is no indication that the Democrats are ready for any such move, and their leaders say they are not, but symptoms of restlessness are numerous and Democratic action may come at any time.

Springfield authorities are surprised to discover an intention on the part of the Lowden movement to come into the open next week, it being understood that the congressman would not try out his chances until Hopkins admittedly was through with the game. The ex-senator is likely to show up much more strongly next week than he did this and is scheduled to make his last "supreme" effort for the present on Wednesday or Thursday of next week.

Seeks County Local Option.

Among the bills introduced in the assembly today was one by Senator Pemberton for county local option. It is possible that the senate will pass it, but the house will bury it. Mr. Pemberton's measure would give counties the power to vote in their entirety on the saloon question, and furthermore would make the result binding for three years and six months, in which time the question could not be resubmitted.

Any attempt to push the bill probably will result in the introduction of a measure for the repeal of the present local option law, which allows the question to be submitted by townships, towns, cities, and villages, but not by counties.

COLONEL TERMED A HERO

"Blue Blood" and "Lost Cause" Invoked by Speaker in Carmack Murder Case.

Nashville, Tenn., March 11.—[Special.]—Nine hours of spectacular oratory in defense of the Coopers and John D. Sharp occupied the day in the famous Carmack murder case.

Gen. William Washington was the speaker, and his long address was divided as to fulsome praise of the defendants, particularly Col. Cooper, and denunciation of the state's counsel, Attorney General Garner being singled out as his special victim.

So savage was his attacks upon Garner that other counsel for the state, recognizing the prosecutor's inflammable temper, insisted that he leave the room until Washington concluded.

Gen. Washington, during the course of his address, worked himself into a perfect frenzy, and twice did he lose a suspender button, so violent were his gestures.

Coopers Held Too Sensitive.

The Coopers were particularly sensitive, according to Washington. In talking of the editorials in Carmack's paper which preceded the tragedy, the speaker agreed with the state that no editorial ever written justifies the killing of a man. But taking the article "Across the Muddy Chasm," Washington said:

"The state says this is only a ridiculing editorial. Well, what of it? You can drive a man insane with ridicule. You can send a man's son into a frenzy by ridicule, and ridicule is libelous and punishable with imprisonment. Now, Carmack refers to Col. Cooper as 'major.' When he wrote Col. Cooper as a friend he called him 'colonel,' but when he wants to insult and degrade him he calls him 'major.' It was a gratuitous insult."

"He used Col. Cooper's name four times in this editorial, gentlemen," the speaker shouted. "Four times in black type. The colonel was angry. He had a right to be. His family was ashamed, his friends annoyed, his name was bandied over the state.

"This man was wild with anger over the insults. He wanted to do something, he knew not what. But that man is no murderer; you know it. Murder does not run in that breed, that aristocratic old blue blood family.

Says Jurors Would Do Same.

"Gentlemen, I tell you, you will not put the noose around the neck of any man for doing what you would have done under similar circumstances. No jury, thank God, ever did and no one ever will."

Washington went back to the morning of the tragedy and led up to the time of the shooting. Continually he referred to Col. Cooper as "the old soldier of the confederacy"; "the grizzled hero of the lost cause"; "the man who rode with Forrest and had passed through the hail of death and had seen his comrades fall like leaves in autumn." He declared Col. Cooper proved his bravery when he walked over to meet Senator Carmack.

"Carmack, from Mrs. Eastman's testimony, drew his revolver the moment he heard Col. Cooper's voice, and Col. Cooper was so startled by this overt act that he didn't even draw his revolver.

"Then Robin swung in. A new face confronts Carmack, but his brilliant mind takes in the situation and he realizes that he has both the Coopers at his mercy and he opens fire to kill them. Once, twice, he shoots; then Robin, after being wounded, swings around the posts and shoots three times."

SUFFRAGE KILLED IN IOWA

Senate Deals Death Blow to Measures Favored by Women.

ANTI-LIQUOR BILL HELD UP.

Scrap Over Committee Reference Encourages Its Opponents.

Des Moines, Ia., March 11.—[Special.]—Women's suffrage got a black eye in the senate today and the question of resubmission of the prohibitory amendment received a backset which may be only temporary, depending upon action of the committee on constitutional amendments, where the house joint resolution landed after the fiercest parliamentary contest of the session.

There were two suffrage propositions before the senate. One was a bill permitting women to vote upon any question except the nomination and election of officers and amendments to the state constitution. The other was a joint resolution for a constitutional amendment conferring the right of suffrage upon women. Both measures came from the committee without recommendation and both were killed, without debate, by a vote of 37 to 11.

The joint resolution for resubmission of the prohibition amendment which passed the house yesterday came up at noon in the senate. Senator Proudfoot, who had charge of the resolution, asked that it be referred to the committee on suppression of intemperance. Senator Mattes moved its reference to the committee on constitutional amendments, where it finally landed, after a strenuous debate, by a vote of 34 to 8. A canvass of this committee is said to show seven members against the resolution for resubmission and four for it.

The opponents of prohibition believe they have gained a decided victory in securing reference to what is believed to be an unfavorable committee, though the friends of the measure will make every effort to prevent the resolution from being pigeonholed and believe they may be able to get it out of committee with at least a minority report in favor of its passage.

SHIPPY'S NIECE BALKS ROBBER.

Woman Burglar, Interrupted in Rummage of Apartment, Is Routed by Girl's Screams.

A woman burglar gained entrance to the flat of Stephen Randall, 710 Larrabee street, brother-in-law of Chief of Police Shippy, late yesterday afternoon, but was frightened away by the screams of Elsie Randall, a daughter. The latter was in the kitchen at the time and heard the front door opened.

She believed it was her father until she heard bureau drawers being opened. Becoming suspicious she walked toward the bedroom and the woman hurried out. Miss Randall screamed and the woman fled.

WE say a good deal about the fact that Devoe Lead-and-Zinc paint goes farther than ordinary paint; takes fewer gallons than you expect; covers more and better.

But that's only part of the story. You pay the painter for putting it on, and he gets more for putting on 15 gallons than for 10; takes longer. If he mixes his own paint—lead and oil—more time still for you to pay for.

Devoe is economy in first cost, paint; second cost, labor; last cost, wear. Outwears most paints two to one.

PLAN A BIG BONUS FOR HONEST MAYOR

"Taxpayers" Propose to Give Executive $500,000 in Interest of Political Purity.

SAVES HER BOY AND DIES.

Woman Pushes Child from Danger, but Auto Throws Her to Death.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE,
New York, March 11.

Plan $500,000 Bonus for Honest Mayor.

Following the announcement last week of an early launching of the new independent Citizens' movement for an election of a purified municipal ticket at the coming election, another plan has been proposed which is said to be novel in the political history of the city. The men back of this new "movement" for the present call themselves "taxpayers."

They wish the election of a mayor who will be independent politically and a business man in every sense of the word. They propose to pay him an annual salary of $125,000 for a term of four years, a bonus of $500,000 over and above the regular salary of the place, the difference to be raised by private subscription. In no other way, say the promoters, can a man be obtained for the place to honestly carry out all the changes proposed under the new city charter.

"These radical measures," according to the statement of the promoters of the plan, "are made necessary by almost six years of the worst government that any city in any civilized community ever has endured. Stripped naked, pillaged, defrauded, practically bankrupt, the imperial city of New York is about to intrust its affairs to a new set of city officials. It is fair to assume that even the most ignorant and vicious of the city's population have come to a glimmering of understanding as to the real significance of maladministration—the euphemism for stealing and debauchery—in municipal affairs."

Auto Kills Woman as She Saves Her Child.

Mrs. Leopold Baumann, wife of a wealthy New York furniture dealer, was killed tonight by an automobile owned by Tully C. Estee, a flour merchant. Mr. and Mrs. Estee, with a party of friends, were in the auto. Mrs. Baumann and her 4 year old son were waiting for a street car at a corner in the Bronx.

Just as the car reached the corner and they turned to board it the Estee automobile swung out of the darkness from a cross street. The mother saw the danger in time to throw her weight against the child, pushing him against the street car, so that the automobile hit him only a glancing blow. His injuries were slight. Mrs. Baumann herself was thrown thirty feet across the street, dying a few minutes later.

The automobile was stopped and its occupants gave every possible attention to their victim. The police placed the chauffeur under arrest. Mr. Estee said the accident was unavoidable. Both the Estees and the Baumanns live in Mount Vernon.

Some Steel Prices Lower than Scheduled Rates.

It came out today that in the course of the trade war in iron and steel lower prices than previously had been announced has been made by some of the producers. Differing reports as to the amount of cuts came from different manufacturers, middlemen, and consumers, but all agreed there had been unexpected reductions in several important products. In tin plate, for instance, which, together with wire products and rails, was held up at the beginning of the strife, one report gave the reduction as equivalent to $5 or $6 a ton. The same authority reported a reduction of $1 and $3 a ton on steel plates and structural steel prices. These were lowered to $6 a ton early in the warfare.

One of the important selling companies in a circular to consumers today expressed the opinion that the market had about touched bottom. A number of makers, it said, were getting sick of losses and the generally uncertain condition of prices.

Fourth Tunnel Under Hudson Is Blasted Through.

Five years to the hour from the time the first boring was completed in the system, the fourth and final tunnel of the Hudson companies' under the Hudson river system, was blasted through today. The tube pierced through by today's blast was the north one of the pair to Jersey City, terminating at Cortlandt street. With its companion tube it will furnish a direct connection with the Pennsylvania and Lehigh Valley stations in Jersey City and through the north and south bore on the New Jersey side with the Lackawanna and Erie stations. The blasting through was without especial ceremony, that being reserved to the early part of July, when it is expected the first passenger train will be run through the Jersey City tubes.

CHARTER CONVENTION MAY KILL CIVIL SERVICE BILL.

Legislators Say Measure Has No Chance to Pass, Even if It Is Sent to Springfield.

Civil service, as provided for in the bill drafted by a committee of the charter convention, is liable to be assassinated tonight by the charter convention itself, with the definite probability that no attempt will be made at Springfield to have a civil service measure enacted in connection with the fight for charter legislation.

The convention has been called by Chairman Milton J. Foreman to meet at the council chamber at 7:30 o'clock to pass upon the eleven separate measures which have been drawn by the subcommittee during the last week.

The bill as it stands applies civil service to every city employé, but it differs from all existing civil service laws in granting to heads of departments the authority to discharge subordinates for cause without a trial. The discharged employé can apply for reinstatement and a hearing before a board of civil service commissioners, but he must show cause for reinstatement, rather than defend himself against charges preferred prior to dismissal.

It is not expected that the charter convention can complete consideration of the eleven measures at one sitting. It is planned to have sessions tomorrow afternoon and probably Monday and Tuesday, in order to finish up the bills before Wednesday. The legislature is not to do any business until Wednesday, and it is probable that the bills, or such as are approved by the charter convention, will go to Springfield Tuesday night. There is trouble stirring for some of the other bills which have been drawn, especially the separate Sunday closing bill.

Six year old Virginia Othmer played the leading rôle as Cupid. Other prominent parts were taken by Miss Margaret Watters, Leroy McCaskill, Mrs. C. M. Hanchett, S. K. Huston, David Smith, and Mrs. F. T. Boydston.

MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO. ATTACKED IN COURT BILL.

Accused of Failing to Carry Out Contract Made with Policy Holder by Its Agent.

Fearing loss of life insurance money on the death of her husband, Simon Pfaelzer, who now is alive and in good health, Mrs. Saidie Pfaelzer filed a petition in the Circuit court yesterday to perpetuate his testimony against the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York.

She is beneficiary in a life insurance policy issued by the Mutual company on the life of Mr. Pfaelzer for $10,000. Pfaelzer, it is asserted, was informed by an agent of the company that in case he was unable at any time to continue the payment of the premiums the policy would at once automatically become a paid up policy for a certain agreed amount in proportion to the payments made.

It is charged in the petition that the company now seeks to "avail itself of a technicality contained in the fine print on the back of the policy, and thus to deprive, upon the death of Simon Pfaelzer, his widow, and children of the amount which would then be due and justly owing to them."

KILLS HER SON AS HE SLEEPS AND THEN COMMITS SUICIDE.

Mrs. Lou Crist and Boy Found Dead in Bedroom of Rushville Home They Were Visiting.

Rushville, Ind., March 11.—[Special.]—Despondent over the recent drowning of her brother, Mrs. Lou Crist of Chicago killed her 14 year old son and committed suicide here today. She fired three bullets into the boy's brain and then fired a fourth into her mouth. The son was killed apparently while sleeping.

Mrs. Crist came from Chicago on Tuesday to visit Mrs. B. F. Riley. When her guests failed to appear at the breakfast table Mrs. Riley went to their room to call them. She found Mrs. Crist's body on the floor beside the bed with a revolver in her hand. The position of the boy's body indicated that he had not moved.

Mrs. Crist left letters in which she stated that she long had contemplated the deed.

AWAIT AN IMPORTANT EVENT.

Spanish Royal Couple Spends Spring in Andalusia Anticipating the Queen's Accouchement.

SEVILLE, March 11.—The king and queen of Spain are spending the early spring in Andalusia, making their headquarters in the Alcazar, the ancient palace of the Moorish kings of Castile and Leon.

The castle was the favorite residence of Don Pedro, "the Cruel," who here murdered many of his royal guests for their money and jewels. The queen spends much of her time in the beautiful gardens of the Alcazar and in making short automobile trips to neighboring points of historical interest. The king frequently accompanies his wife, but spends the major part of his time hunting.

After holy week, which will be passed in Madrid, the king and queen go to Granja, the Versailles of Spain, situated high up in the Guadarrama mountains, to await the latter's accouchement, which is expected in May.

Flatulency or Wind On Stomach

As It Is Commonly Named, Means That Decaying Food Is Making Gas.

This most serious condition is very prevalent and results most distressingly and fatally oftentimes. The stomach in cases of flatulency is unable to digest the food properly. Decay sets in, gases form, extend to the stomach, force their way downward into the bowels, and if not relieved it extends upward pressing against the lungs, liver and heart, causing shortness of breath, belching, foul odors and many times sudden death.

Foods which are filled with gases, when taken into a deranged stomach cause flatulency rapidly, vegetables being especially given to this quality. Against such a condition the stomach can do but little, because these foul and poisonous gases affect its glands, muscles and tissues to such a degree as to incapacitate it almost at once.

These gases distend the stomach in all directions, preventing the contracting muscles from doing their regular duties, or if they do force the gas from the stomach it goes elsewhere in the system with even more harassing results, and then the decaying mass still remains to generate more gases.

The most effective method for allaying flatulency is to remove the cause of gas making. An emetic will do this but the stomach will have the same trouble the moment new food enters it.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets get at gas food at once, digest it, prevent decay, quickly reduce food to nourishment, make good rich gastric fluid and pass the digested food to the intestines, giving the stomach its rest and the system its nourishment. Flatulency simply cannot exist where these little tablets are used. They build up the stomach fluids so that it matters not how many vegetables you eat or food containing quantities of gas, the stomach does its work well and quickly.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold everywhere and used the whole world over by sick stomachs and stomachs that want to eat heartily and yet not get sick.

Every druggist carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, price 50 cents per box. The demand for these little digesters is constantly increasing. Forty thousand physicians in America and Canada use them and prescribe them. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. AEROPLANE FLIES ACROSS COUNTRY.

Silver Dart's Trip Said to Surpass Wrights' Machine in Practicability.

KING EDWARD NEAR PAU.

British Monarch, However, May Break Engagement to Avoid Curious Throngs.

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—By a telegram received today the Aero Club of America is informed by J. A. D. McCurdy that in his flight on Wednesday he had gone more than twenty miles across the country at Baddeck, N. S., in the aeroplane Silver Dart.

This machine was built by the Aerial Experiment association at Hammondsport, N. Y., of which Dr. Alexander Graham Bell is the head. During the last week it made several record flights, varying from eight to fourteen miles.

The Wrights have flown approximately 100 miles in circles; but it is considered that a flight over an elongated course is a far better demonstration of the practicability of mechanical flights than exhibition flights over a certain prescribed area.

Baldwin Describes the Dart.

"I worked with members of the Aerial Experiment association while the Silver Dart was being constructed," said Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin today. "I believe that up to the present time this is the best type of flying machine that has been produced anywhere. Two planes are superimposed and are six feet apart. However you look at the machine it resembles somewhat a gigantic bird. The machine can carry two persons. A passenger sits behind the operator, who controls the craft at the steering wheel exactly as if he were in an automobile.

Another Ohio Aeronaut.

Dayton, O., March 11.—The home of the Wright brothers has produced another claimant to high honors in the field of aeronautics in the person of the inventor W. J. Richardson, whose plans for a flying machine are based on novel and original lines.

Mr. Richardson made a test of his invention today in a field north of this city, starting from the ground without artificial aid and rising to a height of over 300 feet and remaining in the air for thirty-eight minutes.

The Richardson machine was under perfect control at all times, and his claim that he could have remained in the air for twenty-four hours apparently was well founded.

Inventor Richardson claims there exists no further mechanical defects to perfect aviation.

CROWDS FLOCK TO PAU.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PAU, March 11.—Wilbur Wright made a three minute flight in his aeroplane today, testing repairs made on the machine after the recent accident that befell it in preparation for the expected visit of King Edward tomorrow.

The town is simmering tonight in expectation of King Edward's visit.

Numbers of American and English visitors have arrived in automobiles. Every vehicle that can be hired in town has been engaged to take the visitors eight miles to the grounds where the flight will be made.

Extra police have been sent here. The prefect has received orders from Paris to protect King Edward from snap shot photographers.

It will not be surprising, in view of the excited turmoil, if the king postpones his visit.

The most notable exception to the feverishness of the cosmopolitan crowd here is Wilbur Wright himself.

STOLYPIN PASSES BAD NIGHT.

Physicians Display Great Anxiety Over Condition of Russian Premier, Suffering from Influenza.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11.—Premier Stolypin, who is suffering from a serious attack of influenza, passed a bad night, and his condition inspires considerable anxiety. The latest bulletin from his bedside announces a renewal of inflammation at the base of the right lung. The patient is reported occasionally delirious, and is not disturbed with affairs of state.

PRIEST TRIES TO MAKE GOLD

Baltimorean's Dream of Riches Led to $130,000 Crash.

GIBBONS TO PAY THE DEBTS.

Visionary in Sanitarium After Five Years of High Finance.

Baltimore, Md., March 11.—[Special.]—The Rev. Father Caspar P. Elbert's operations in "high finance" have involved him and his church to the extent of $130,000, and caused a tremendous sensation in Catholic church circles.

Cardinal Gibbons recently removed Father Elbert from the pastorate of St. Catherine's church, and members of his congregation and Catholics generally wondered at the cardinal's action. The announcement today of the priest's financial entanglements explained his removal.

Plans to Manufacture Gold.

Plans for the manufacture of gold absorbed thousands of dollars, projects for the manufacture of aluminium took other thousands, and dreams of rich returns from all kinds of mines made further inroads on the priest's resources. No small portion of the money went into the venture of a man who claimed he could make pure unrefined copper and nickel.

As his operations increased Father Elbert is said to have borrowed from Peter to pay Paul. Interest on his loans had to be paid and notes had to be renewed. At banks where he had the indorsement of Cardinal Gibbons he got money at 5 per cent, but in some cases he is reported to have paid considerably more for it.

Gibbons Stands Good for Debts.

Cardinal Gibbons has assumed responsibility for Father Elbert's debts, contracted as rector of St. Catherine's church. The cardinal's name appears on notes given for money borrowed. Even these notes will be paid by the cardinal. They were issued to banks and individuals in amounts ranging from $1,000 to $10,000. Father Elbert has life insurance of $70,000, but had borrowed heavily on his policies.

Father Elbert is now in a sanitarium and is believed to be mentally unbalanced. His operations started in 1904.

He has reserved staterooms, at a cost of $1,040, on the steamship Guadeloupe, which is to sail March 26 from Havre for Colon. Castro's landing port is not known.

TAFT IS REVISING TARIFF MESSAGE.

Carnegie the Last Man with Whom He Talks Before Starting Final Work.

FREE LUMBER OPPOSED.

Pinchot Tells House Committee Lower Prices Will Destroy Forests.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—President Taft today started work on the last revision of his message to congress. He expects to have it ready for final review when his cabinet meets tomorrow. By tomorrow evening he expects to send it to the printers. If the ways and means committee had not already decided on a material reduction of the duty on iron and steel the most significant fact about the president's final touches on his tariff message would be that the last caller he received before shutting himself in with his stenographer was Andrew Carnegie.

When Mr. Carnegie came out of the executive offices he adhered strictly to the rule of silence he abandoned so completely on the one day when he amused himself at the ways and means committee's expense. But it is known he urged on Taft the necessity for a reduction of black metal schedules and argued for the ability of the American industry to stand such reductions.

Will Advocate Some Taxes.

While Mr. Taft is sincere in his demand for real revision, no one doubts his declaration to congress that he is squarely for protection, but for protection that will bear some relation to business conditions today. It is considered almost certain that he will advocate the return to some taxes, especially a graduated inheritance tax, such as he suggested in his inaugural address.

The Republican members of the ways and means committee were in a practically all day session today. Much of their consideration was given up to a letter from Gifford Pinchot, chief forester of the government. In this letter Mr. Pinchot argues for free importation of wood pulp, but declares against any reductions in the tariff on lumber or shingles. Wood pulp, he argues, must nearly all be imported, while the importation of lumber is so small that the lowering of the duty would have the reverse effect from the one advocated.

Mr. Pinchot's recommendations as to lumber caused considerable surprise to the committee. As Mr. Pinchot stated in this letter, it has been that the general opinion of the forest service advocated free lumber as the best means of restraining the ruin of American forests. A complete study of the statistics involved, however, says Pinchot, has convinced him that the removal of the duty would mean a lowering of the price and a corresponding increase in the already enormous waste of timber.

High Prices Save Timber.

"The lumbermen are right," says Pinchot on this point, "when they tell you that in the time of high prices for lumber they do cleaner work in the woods and cut more timber from a given area than they do when prices are lower and only the best grades can be marketed. Low prices for lumber unquestionably would increase the waste."

Following the decision of the ways and means committee report on the bill imposing a duty of approximately 4 cents a pound on coffee it became known tonight that tea also would not escape. This tax will be, like the tax on coffee, a revenue producing measure. The framers of the bill count on raising $5,000,000 a year from it, as about 90,000,000 pounds of tea are imported annually. The duty then would be ad valorem about 15 or 20 per cent. On a flat rate the duty would be about 5 cents a pound.

INCREASE IN TARIFF OPPOSED.

Resolutions protesting against an increase in tariff on imported lithograph goods were adopted at the final session of the sixth annual convention of the National Association of Leather and Celluloid Novelty Goods Manufacturers yesterday afternoon. A committee was appointed to visit Washington to work against such proposed increase. Orva G. Williams of Chicago was elected president and this city was selected for the meeting place of 1910.

FOREIGN POST FOR RIDGELY?

Illinois Man Confers with President—Corbin Also Mentioned as Possible Choice for Honors.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—The possible appointment of W. B. Ridgely of Illinois to a diplomatic post abroad is a subject which is beginning to interest a number of Mr. Ridgely's friends in Washington. Mr. Ridgely held an extended conference with President Taft this morning, and, although no admission was made, it is presumed that he would be glad to accept a foreign mission.

Lieut. Gen. Henry C. Corbin, retired, also is mentioned as a possibility for foreign honors. Gen. Corbin has a close standing with the administration. He is recognized as a valuable man for a high position, and it is predicted he will land at least a ministerial post in one of the European capitals.

Walter Reeves, an Illinois attorney, has come to Washington, presumably to look the field over with the idea of getting into the government harness. His name has been heard several times in connection with the position of assistant secretary of the treasury, but it is hardly likely that an Illinois man will be chosen for that place. There soon will be vacancies in the department of justice.

prejudice of the little fellows will be inaugurated unless congress sees fit to take some radical action.

In his original decision Judge Landis says that the rule which subsequently was adopted as correct by the Court of Appeals "would encourage him who has violated the law on one occasion to disobey it by the wholesale, in order thereby to accumulate a fund for his own purse, after paying the fine for the single penalty."

It is only fair to assume that the Court of Appeals knew what it was talking about. In any event its decision on this subject is authoritative for the present. Until reversed by a higher court this decision would justify any shipper in making a contract for a concession or rebate in the most open manner, with the full intention of paying the maximum fine on a long series of shipments embraced within that contract or settled for in cash as a single transaction.

Just One Method of Punishment.

There is just one way to correct this evil and give the federal courts the power it was supposed they had to punish discrimination of this character. Congress undoubtedly has the power to define offenses against the law. It has frequently exercised this power in other cases. It can establish a penalty of so much per day for every day that a certain nuisance is maintained. Under the old law, a daily penalty was fixed for railroads which entered into pooling agreements. The Court of Appeals held that the present law was so worded that it is the transaction between the railroad and the shipper which constitutes the offense and not the number or character of the shipments.

It would be within the province of congress undoubtedly, providing distinctly that every separate carload of every separate shipment, or every group or measure of articles should constitute a separate offense if a rebate should be given or accepted. Congress may provide a penalty based upon weight, measurement, or money value of the article shipped. It may define and specify anything as a separate offense, and the courts would undoubtedly hold this to be good law.

It is likely, therefore, that during the present summer big shippers will be able to secure rebates and concessions and unfair discriminations for themselves without the slightest fear of any really dangerous prosecution in the federal courts. After that time it will rest with the people to put an end to this condition of affairs.

Roads Too Powerful at Capitol.

Congress is not likely to take the initiative, because the influence of the railroads and of the big shippers at the capitol is a good deal more powerful than it ought to be. If the people are aroused, however, the needed legislation will come. If there is no such legislation, practically all of the advantages gained by the hard fight over the railroad rate law will disappear. The most important section of that law was the section forbidding discriminations.

Until the Standard Oil case reached the Court of Appeals it was generally supposed that this statute would do all that was claimed for it. It took the place of the old Elkins law, which was notoriously defective. The new law and the Elkins law are alike subject to the construction placed upon the question of separate offenses by the United States Court of Appeals.

The Elkins law omitted imprisonment, whereas the new law provides for it. If congress by subsequent legislation shall make it clear just what constitutes a separate offense, and if the directors and officers as well as the subordinates of the great corporations are specifically made liable to imprisonment as well as fine for every separate offense, the evil of transportation concessions and discriminations will disappear.

Taft to Consider Subject.

It is deemed likely that President Taft will deal with this subject in a comprehensive manner in his first regular message to congress. He will not attack the judiciary, of which he was so long a distinguished member, but probably will appeal to congress to correct the faults of the law as determined by the decision of the Court of Appeals, whether he as a lawyer happens to agree with that decision or not.

That the railroads and the big corporations will fight this legislation is practically certain, but that the people can secure it if they insist upon it is even more sure.

OIL FIGHT IS STILL ON.

Although the Standard Oil company has won a decided victory over the government, there still will be plenty of opportunity for the corporation to retain in its employ the eminent legal advisers who so successfully extricated them from difficulties attendant upon paying to the government the sum of $29,240,000.

Although the department of justice inclines to the belief that Judge Anderson has blasted an opening in the law that "a four horse rebate team could be driven through," the federal attorneys are not without hope that the damage can be repaired by another court.

District Attorney Sims has been instructed by the department in Washington to have prepared a transcript of the case so far as Judge Anderson permitted it to go and to take it to Washington.

The two cases in which the Standard Oil is accused of accepting concessions from the Burlington are almost identical with the Alton case, but there are two cases in which the Eastern Illinois is said to have given the concessions on oil transported from Whiting to Evansville, Ind. Because the cars were shipped by way of Dolton Junction, Ill., the courts have held that such a routing constitutes interstate hauling.

Judge Anderson left in the evening for Indianapolis, still refusing to discuss his decision.

"I don't believe in judges blatherskiting about the decisions they make on the bench," he said.

SOUTHERN BLACKS TO LOSE U. S. JOBS

Taft Decides on a Complete Change in Administration Policies.

TELLS VIEWS TO CULLOM.

President's Attitude Disclosed in Connection with Candidacy of Col. Marshall.

The passing of the professional southern negro politician as a federal officeholder by right of color has been made an essential feature in the proposed policies of President Taft. Hereafter southern white Republicans will receive the utmost consideration in filling the "big" places in the federal service below the Mason and Dixon line. The places which have been allotted to the negro Republicans as a matter of custom will go to northern negroes rather than to the southern black men.

News of this complete change in administration policy arrived in Chicago yesterday directly from the White house. The information was disclosed in connection with the candidacy of Col. John R. Marshall, commanding the Eighth infantry, Illinois National Guard, the negro regiment, for the post of receiver of deeds of the District of Columbia.

Col. Marshall's candidacy has the tentative backing of Senator Cullom, and he is seeking the support of the Republican organization leaders in Chicago as a necessary step to taking up the matter officially with President Taft.

The statement was made with authority in the afternoon that Senator Cullom had discussed the proposition with President Taft and that the president disclosed his views on the negro Republicans to Senator Cullom as has been indicated.

Congressman Frank O. Lowden is in Chicago and directly in touch with the Republican leaders who are figuring the senatorship problem. No statement concerning his intentions was made by the congressman during the day, but his sudden appearance in the city was instantly accepted by the politicians as certain evidence of the extreme probability of his becoming an avowed senatorial candidate next week.

Returning from Springfield.

The legislators will return from Springfield today and it is understood that a large squad of them have been asked quietly to drop in on Congressman Lowden for a little friendly chat.

Secretary of War Jacob M. Dickinson departed for Washington in the afternoon to assume his official duties as a member of President Taft's cabinet.

Hobart P. Young, former assistant state's attorney, yesterday reiterated his refusal to become an independent candidate for alderman from the Third ward. He told friends three days ago that he could not run.

This is the final day for filing independent petitions for aldermanic candidates. None has been filed as yet, although it is probable that several candidates will make their official appearance before the time limit expires.

The executive committee of the Chicago Hebrew association, at the West Side auditorium last night indorsed the candidacies of Harry Hildreth Jr. for city treasurer and Francis D. Connery for city clerk, the Democratic nominees.

Start Fifteenth Ward Campaign.

Five hundred free born American taxpayers filled Casino hall at Division street and California avenue—"the opening of the campaign in the Fifteenth ward," said banners over the entrance—last night and listened to Ald. Herman F. Kruger's enunciation of principles.

"I am not none of these goody-goody aldermen," said Kruger, "and I am not going to be. I stand on my record, and you all know what I've done. I haven't done much for you fellows, because I couldn't. I'd have got you all jobs, but look at the minority I was in. You mustn't condemn a man when he's in a minority. But I'll just say this, that if you send me back I'll do more for all of you than I did this term."

Other speakers were John F. Traeger, city treasurer; Harry Hildreth, Democratic candidate for city treasurer, and Ald. Francis D. Connery, Democratic candidate for city clerk.

The recommendations of the executive committee of the United Societies for local self-government concerning aldermanic candidates will be made at a meeting to be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The executive committee met last night and transacted general business.

'TUNES' BY BROOMSTICK BAND; OAK PARK'S FREAK CONCERT.

Women in Military Costume Give Performance—Arche Club's Foresters to Meet—Other Announcements.

A freak musical concert was given last evening by the Ladies' Military band of Oak Park at the Methodist church. The affair was largely attended and the proceeds will be donated to the building fund of the church.

Such prosaic articles as broomsticks, clothes baskets, hand saws, and clothes horses ingeniously devised into fantastic musical instruments, were used by the women in the rendition of melodious airs of the day.

The uniforms were of military nature, red caps and coats and white duck skirts being worn by the members of the band.

Mrs. D. Grant Kingery used a broomstick run through the handles of a clothes basket for a violoncello and Mrs. A. Garfield Hunter employed a clothes horse with strings of white twine for a harp. Mrs. W. H. Dangel, the conductor, directed the band with a feather duster in lieu of the baton.

WARNS TEACHERS ON GREED

Schneider Urges Bill for Tax Reform, Not Salaries.

FUND TO FURTHER MEASURE.

Former Friends Plan Quietly to Bring Miss Speer Home.

"If the Chicago Teachers' federation can devise a bill which will at once equalize taxes and give us more revenue, then it will do something worth while. But if the bill which the federation is preparing has for its principal object the interests of the teachers, then it will be on a par with former efforts, and, I believe, will meet with the same fate."

Otto C. Schneider, president of the board of education, thus expressed his opinion last night of the plan of the teachers' federation to present a bill to the present legislature similar to the New York statute. He said he knew little about the measure beyond that a considerable sum was being collected among the teachers and principals to put through the measure. Details of the bill will not be forthcoming, it is declared, until it is ready for presentation.

High Tax; Small Revenue.

"The trouble," said President Schneider, "is that we have a maximum rate of taxation with a minimum of revenue. The city suffers and the schools suffer. Those who pay their taxes pay dear, and many who should pay taxes pay nothing.

"It is folly to talk of providing by state statute for a fixed rate of taxation for the exclusive payment of teachers' salaries. The revenue must be divided in different proportions every year and should not be an invariable fund set aside for teachers whether or not the maintenance of the schools may suffer in other ways.

"If it is the object of this bill to place the management of our schools in the hands of the state, I do not think some of us would object strenuously, but I hardly believe the legislature would sanction such a proposition."

Teachers to Aid Miss Speer.

The report that Miss Anna G. Speer, a former teacher in the Shakspeare school, is in a serious condition in a hospital in Piqua, O., as a result of starving herself to save money with which to return to Chicago, probably will result in a quiet effort of teachers who knew Miss Speer to aid her in her trouble.

Miss Speer, who formerly resided at 3958 Drexel boulevard, taught in the Shakspeare school in 1900, but gave up her position after a nervous breakdown. She went to Piqua and opened up manicure parlors. Business reverses followed, and she was found unconscious in her parlors Tuesday by a patron.

FAVORS LOVE SONGS IN CHURCH.

Minister-Business Man Tells of Beliefs That Caused Him to Leave Methodists.

"A good love song, if not too mushy and sentimental, is more appropriate in many church services than sacred music.

"The trouble with present day churches is that there are too many of them."

So philosophized yesterday the "Rev. and Mr." William Forkell of Aurora, who resigned the pastorate of the People's church of that city last Sunday for the more lucrative business of selling bonds.

Incidentally the minister-business man, whose congregation refused to accept his resignation and finally induced him to sign a contract to preach every Sunday that he is not detained by business in distant cities, discussed his beliefs that caused him to leave the Methodist church some years ago.

"I contend that the bible is only a book from the east containing many good things, but no one should make it the yardstick of present day morals and ethics," he said.

FASHION ARBITER DECLARES COLOR VITAL TO NEW STYLES.

Mme. White Draws Lesson in Philosophy for Women from the Utility of the Wedding Dress.

"Color," said Mme. White yesterday in her address before the dressmakers in the Auditorium, "is a vital part of the spring styles."

Heretofore the seekers after light had been led to suppose that only the ecclesiastical line was essential.

Mme. White's hair is the color of a martini cocktail, and to stick to her own expressed principles of carrying out a motif, her dress trimmings were the shade of the cherry.

For lounging, a popular shade will be lemon, while for shopping the informal color is blue.

Mme. White drew a lesson in the philosophy of style from the wedding gown. When it has dragged its elegance through the church aisles, remove the lower quarter section and wear it for a "trotter" suit. When the divorce comes, braid the bodice heavily until it becomes a coat effect, which also may be worn for widow's weeds.

The "woman without limbs" is provided for with a "blended" creation. One color stops just under the armpits and a long stripe of a highly contrasting color runs down the sides to the hem.

When too stout to bring the hips entirely within the limited circumference of the waist, let out the waist line and put something around it under the corset.

MRS. E. A. LEICHT HAS RELAPSE.

On the Road to Rapid Recovery from Long Illness, Must Again Build Up Her Strength.

Mrs. Edward A. Leicht, 17 Lake View avenue, who has been ill for the last six weeks, suffered a relapse yesterday morning which alarms her friends. During the early part of her illness it was expected she would be out within a fortnight. At her home it was said her condition was not serious, but that it would be some time before she would be able to leave the house.

Our apology to 180,000 disappointed women

We offer this public apology to every one of the 180,000 women who presented coupons to the grocers of this city but were unable to secure Big Dandy Bread. Our ovens are working night and day, but we can only produce 35,000 loaves of this new bread every twenty-four hours. Please be patient with us for we are going to redeem every bread coupon just as fast as we can supply the enormous demand.

Yesterday we estimated that 42,000 women had been disappointed by not receiving Big Dandy bread for their coupons.

But to-day, with the complete report, we find that more than 180,000 coupons had been turned in for which the grocers were unable to supply the bread.

Before evening yesterday over 1,000 people had literally stormed our West Side bakery. The crowd became so great that it blockaded the street for almost an hour. Every one demanded bread for her coupon and our bakers were helpless, for every loaf had been sold long before 8:30 o'clock in the morning.

Our telephone was busy from morning till night. Rush orders were pouring in from everywhere. Grocers became frantic in their attempt to get another supply of this bread.

One grocer on the North Side had fifty women waiting in his store, all with bread coupons in their hands, demanding that they be redeemed in accordance with our offer.

So terrific became the demand before night that grocers, desperate in fear of losing their best customers, began to accuse us of fraud, swindle and all other kinds of things in their despair.

And we do not blame these grocers.

It was every bit our own fault for not anticipating this gigantic demand.

But we ask you to be patient. Every coupon will be redeemed. Not one woman in the entire city is going to be disappointed.

Every oven in all of our four great factories it working night and day now. They are being taxed to the utmost of their capacity. We are putting forth every possible effort to supply this unparalleled demand.

Our task is all the harder, because the regular trade on our other kinds of bread requires 75,000 loaves. This is in additon to the enormous demand for the new Big Dandy bread.

When you consider that there are 5,000 grocers in Chicago that now handle our bread and that almost every one of these sent in extra orders for Big Dandy ranging from 10 to 150 loaves each, you will see how it was a physical impossibility to supply the demand. If every grocer ordered only 50 loaves (and almost all ordered more than this), it would have required a quarter of a million loaves of bread in one day.

But we do not blame the women of Chicago for being enthusiastic over this wonderful new bread. We only ask them to be patient with us while we are doing our very utmost.

We know that you, like every other woman, welcome this new bread that will now save you five hours' work in the kitchen every week. For remember, Big Dandy is not made like other bread. It is baked in live steam ovens. These ovens retain the steam and then other steam is forced in under pressure. The result is simply marvelous. Every particle of natural moisture is baked right into the loaf.

And we want every woman in Chicago to serve this loaf on her table. We want you to see for yourself how moist and dainty it is. We want you to taste the delicious flavor that surpasses everything you have ever known in any other bread. Once you have allowed your folks to taste this delightful bread they will never again be satisfied with the ordinary kind,

So take your coupon to the grocer. Ask him to reserve a loaf for you. Your coupon will be redeemed just the same now as if it had been presented the first day. Try one loaf and learn for yourself how delicious bread can be when baked by this new process.

Big Dandy comes wrapped in cream-colored waxed paper or without. You can get it either way. Regular price 10 cents a loaf, but you get the first loaf for your coupon and five cents—the price you would pay for the common five-cent loaf.

THE VERY HIGHEST QUALITY

To Salespeople in the Stores

You are probably tired of hearing it said that there is plenty of room at the top when you know how hard it is to get anywhere near there—living is a long pull and a hard one.

But you have noticed how people who want to know the facts in regard to what they are going to buy seek the salesperson who knows, and if you have kept your eyes open you have noticed that the salesperson who is sought by the public is "favored" (if you please) by the employer. That salesperson doesn't have to be brilliant, nor clever, nor shining in any way—just industrious and open-eyed and open-eared.

It is absolutely truc that your employer—we don't care who he is—is looking for some one upon whom he can place more responsibility. You are looking for the opportunity to get more responsibility placed upon you. That is all right, but you surely cannot ask him to risk his affairs by putting them in your charge until you have shown over and over again that you are able to take care of those things, and that really he does not take any risk in handing those matters over to you.

Now, your first step is to become as intelligent as possible about the merchandise you are handling. Learn all you can, without bothering anybody, about the way it is made, and what constitutes quality. Learn how it is used. Learn how it can be used better than it is. Learn everything you can that will be of help to the person who is buying it. And remember that you are there to help the buyer—that is the way to be of the utmost help to the seller, and your employer.

The Fashion Number of The Chicago Tribune, published March 24th, will give authoritative news in regard to the goods you are selling; what kind of goods are going to be used this season, and how they are going to be used. You can easily master the information of your subject, put it with other information you are able to pick up in the store, here and there, and be in a better position to be of more use to your customer, your employer and yourself, than you ever were before.

It can't do you a bit of harm, and will do you good.

Two cents a mile pays in Illinois, but Missouri is different.

Think you like the idea of paying a higher price for your cup of coffee?

We are sorry to learn from the doctors that King Edward is soft and pulpy. Let him try the strenuous life for it.

They came back from the ride with the octopus outside and the smile on the face of Mr. Rockefeller.

Mr. Depew thrust his head out a few days ago for the purpose of declaring that he didn't believe in direct primaries. Then he pulled his head in again, and everything went on as before.

At Springfield yesterday ballot No. 43—when did the preceding six or eight slip in?—was taken, after which the senatorial "election" was postponed again. Isn't this a long winter?

For all practical purposes it is sufficiently accurate to say that the contest is between ex-Senator Hopkins and Scattering, with the result in doubt.

The only way to escape paying higher prices for furs hereafter will be not to buy any furs.

If the courts keep on deciding against Mr. Gompers he will lose all confidence in the courts.

From the esteemed Indianapolis News we learn that Mr. Bonaparte is going back to Baltimore to study law. From the Indianapolis News, remember.

Correspondents will oblige by giving the name of the relic hunter, who presumably cut off and carried away the strap to which ex-President Roosevelt clung while riding in that New York street car.

Witness the baneful effect of civilization upon the lions in Lincoln park. Mother lions in Africa do not let their offspring go to the dogs.

A careful survey of the situation leads the Cincinnati Enquirer to the conclusion that Uncle Sam's chances of collecting that $29,240,000 fine are "slim." There is nothing like being calm and conservative in stating a proposition.

You are expected to believe that "a petrified duck 3,000,000 years old" has been found in Wyoming. We sternly refuse, for our part, to characterize the story as a canard.

"Will the republic endure?" asks Tom Lawson. The circumstance that Tom Lawson considers this a debatable question awakens a suspicion that some of his stocks have gone wrong.

There is a report that Mr. Rockefeller will finance an expedition to the north pole. We hope it is true. The nearest anybody ever has come to doing this hitherto has been to finance an expedition in search of the north pole.

New York City is to spend $300,000 on the Hudson-Fulton celebration next September. It is nobody's business, either, how it spends it.

Roused to something like jealousy by the recent doings of the Ohio river the Big Muddy is making an earnest effort to attract public attention.

To whatever extent Mr. Foss may have been in the senatorial race he may now consider himself out of it.

A Pennsylvania paper hopes ex-President Roosevelt will not "kill any kangaroos" while in Africa, as the kangaroo is a "perfectly harmless animal." Mr. Bryan, who accused Mr. Roosevelt of an intention to "kill tigers" in Africa, will be able to sympathize with the editor of that paper.

THE TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM.

The legislature has done its part. It has passed the bill authorizing the establishment of municipal sanatoria. The people have their turn now. The question will be submitted to the voters on the "little ballot" at the spring election. What their decision ought to be is plain. Chicago ought to have the necessary equipment to push to success the fight it is making, without needed accessories, against the great white plague.

The statistics tell their own story. The deaths annually from consumption are 3,000. The number of people in the city who have the dread disease averages 10,000. Of these, the physicians say, 6,000 are easily curable and 6,000 can be cured with more attention. Such a fight ought to appeal to every citizen. There must be provision for incipient cases. There must be opportunity for those longer afflicted. There must be a system of tuberculosis clinics. The legislature has given the city the chance to go forward in a matter of vital consequence to thousands of its inhabitants. It is for the voters to decide.

FOR A LAW COMMISSION.

The Tribune wishes to indorse most heartily the suggestion of several of the judges that the legislature direct the governor to appoint a small commission to consider and formulate reforms in the administration of justice in Illinois.

This, it seems to The Tribune, is the part of wisdom rather than precipitous action upon the Gilbert bill. The merit of Mr. Gilbert's chief proposals seems to be recognized, and that fact augurs well for the possibility of agreement eventually. But it is plain that the bill is so sweeping as to require in common caution not only a more thorough examination of its specific provisions but a more mature consideration of the question which underlies the whole bill—namely: is it not better to enact a bill on simpler lines and recommend to the Supreme court the adoption of the major part of the present bill as rules of court?

The history of codes has not been such as to induce Illinois to rush into the predicament that New York, for example, has got itself into. While, on the other hand, we have in the English system an example of the contrary policy justified by its results. Conceding the danger of adopting a system approved under conditions in many respects different from those which prevail in Illinois, it at least may be recognized as the part of wisdom to move in such a field with proper caution.

The Tribune respectfully suggests to the judges who have taken up the question of procedural amendment that while making such recommendations for certain immediate specific legislation as have already been suggested and approved by them they make an authoritative recommendation for the commission suggested by Judges Mack and Brown.

"REASONABLE DOUBT."

To convict a shipper of receiving a rebate it must be proved that a fixed rate had been established and that defendant's goods were carried for less than that rate. It is a cardinal principle of the criminal law that where there is a reasonable doubt the defendant is entitled to the benefit of it. It seemed to Judge Anderson, guided, as he says, by the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals, that there was a reasonable doubt as to the establishment of the rate which the prosecution relied on to prove that the Standard Oil company of Indiana had received rebates.

Acquittal on the ground of reasonable doubt of guilt is not an acquittal on a technicality. But the reasoning which led Judge Anderson to the conclusion that there was reasonable doubt might not convince another judge. It might not convince the Supreme court if it were possible to get the question before it. If, as is said—a little too broadly—Judge Anderson's ruling against the government would make the conviction of shippers for taking rebates impossible, it would be desirable to have the Supreme court pass on the matter.

Judge Anderson's ruling was based on the uncertainty as to the existence of a definite rate on a particular article by a particular road. That road by this hypothesis committed an offense by failing to establish and publish such a rate. If all carriers guilty of a similar offense were to be prosecuted it would be possible to convict shippers who had received rebates. Perhaps also slight changes in the anti-rebate law might make it easier to punish offenders.

If popular sentiment ruled the courts the big shippers who get rebates would be punished more severely than the carriers, that are often coerced into paying them. Yet carriers are being convicted while shippers escape. Nevertheless, every time a carrier is found guilty the backbones of other carriers are stiffened. It is made easier for them to stand up against the attempts of great shippers to induce them to break the law.

FOREIGN TARIFFS.

The revision of the tariff will not be exclusively a matter of providing adequate revenue and adequate protection for home industries. Congress will have to consider the tariff legislation of some foreign countries and so frame its own law as to enable the government to negotiate satisfactory commercial treaties with those nations, or, if that be impossible, to treat them as rigorously as they do the United States.

Germany has been waiting patiently for some years for the American government to negotiate a treaty under which American products could have the permanent enjoyment of the minimum rates of the German tariff. The present arrangement is a temporary one, and will expire in a few months. The Japanese government has given notice that the existing commercial treaties with foreign nations will be terminated a year hence. The intention is to negotiate new ones to be "based entirely upon the principle of reciprocity, with a view to the development of international commerce."

The French tariff as it now stands gives special protection to the agricultural interests. The manufacturers have been complaining that they are discriminated against, and higher duties for their protection are under consideration. They are so high that British manufacturers are in a ferment. Winston Churchill, the president of the board of trade, says they would produce a serious effect on the industries of the united kingdom. He, a free trader, is talking of retaliation and the "protection of the home markets," much to the delight of the tariff reformers.

The French tariff bears hard upon the agricultural products of the United States. If amended as proposed several American manufacturing industries would be affected more or less seriously. The United States must have a tariff law with some degree of flexibility and adaptability, with maximum and minimum schedules, so that it may be in condition to play the game of give and take with other nations. These pacific arrangements, even though they may involve a little concession here and there, are greatly to be preferred to the retaliatory policy which has its occasional advocates. Retaliation breeds retaliation, and nobody is benefited.

President Taft says the United States must have a proper army and navy so that it may exercise its proper influence in defense of "its own trade interest." It needs for the same purpose the proper kind of tariff legislation so that it may be better prepared than it is now to drive bargains with competing industrial nations.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR COMMITTEES.

In the discussion of the so-called tyranny of the speaker of the national house of representatives, one of the chief proposals for reform is that which asks the selection of all committees by the house.

The plan seems democratic and desirable at first glance. What is utterly lost sight of is an inherent weakness which we in this generation surely ought not to be blind to. If there has been any strong and necessary movement in our political development of late years it is toward fixing responsibility. The scope and power of the executive have been increased by the will of the people, deliberately and inevitably, because in the multiplicity of the legislative organization it has been next to impossible to ascertain responsibility and concentrate pressure.

The proposal of a free for all election of committees loses sight of the fundamental justification for the appointment of committees by the speaker. While that officer acts upon the advice of the leaders of the party and of the house, his is and should be the ultimate decision and the ultimate responsibility. This plan is justified from the standpoint of efficiency and from the standpoint of responsibility.

It may be that the committee on rules should be selected by the house, though it is of less importance than it seems to champions of this plan. But, however chosen, the committee should be small. A large committee would be a body of ineffective compromise whose work probably would satisfy no one and might result in frequent disturbance of the orderly machinery necessary to the economic dispatch of the vast volume of business of the house.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Johnny's Progress.

"Johnny is taking a good deal of interest in his studies these days," said Mrs. Lapsling. "They've taken up physics now, and once a week the class is allowed to spend an hour in the chemical lavatory."

Preliminary.

"Mrs. McGoozle, your husband is a singularly gifted man. It's a wonder to me that he isn't on the lecture platform."

"I think he contemplates taking to that some day. In fact, he has been lecturing in a desultory sort of way, just for practice, for the last ten years."

"Why, where, Mrs. McGoozle?"

"At home. I'm the audience."

A la Mode.

"Yes, Herbert," murmured the lovely maiden, "I will marry you—I don't care whether you are rich or poor!"

"My peerless girl!" fervently exclaimed Herbert, folding her to his heart. "I see you have looked me up in Bradstreet's!"

His Burst of Generosity.

"Your boy's injury is not as severe as I had anticipated," the surgeon assured him. "I shall not have to amputate his leg."

"I am glad to hear you say so," said Mr. Tyte-Phist, with emotion. "Still, if it had been necessary, in order to save his life, I—I was willing to bear the expense of it!"

His Monumental Blunder.

"Deah boy, what is the trouble between you and the beautiful Miss Plumley?"

"Jealousy. I happened one day to speak of the marvelous beauty of Psyche and it made her furious."

No Reason to Complain.

Indignant Customer—"Say, these buckwheat cakes are sour!"

Waiter Girl (at lunch counter)—"Yes, sir; if you will look at your check you'll find I've charged you only half price for 'em."

To End the Graft.

Man with the Bulging Brow—"Because having it in winter is too soft a snap for the hotel and restaurant men. They get the people there, turn a blizzard loose on 'em, and then they can't get away." C. W. T.

Reason for Railroad Legislation.

We are willing to admit that there are a good many things we do not know. We do not know whether 2 cents a mile is a remunerative rate for Kansas railroads; all we know about the subject is we would rather pay 2 cents a mile than 3.—Atchison Globe.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Randolph Ogilvie Grant, who has just married in London Carmen Errazuriz, niece and one of the principal heiresses of her aunt Señora Errazuriz, famous as the richest woman and the greatest land owner in Chile, that country of vast territorial fortunes, is not, as stated, the next heir to the earl of Seafield, but merely a third or fourth cousin.

True, young Lord Seafield has no son. But he has a younger brother out in New Zealand, the Hon. Trevor Ogilvie Grant, who is married, and failing him, there is the earl's uncle, the Hon. Robert, younger brother of the late earl. There are few more romantic stories than that of the earldom of Seafield, even in its most modern episodes, and in certain of its phases it may be said to extend from one end of the world to the other. For the present earl of Seafield makes his home in the antipodes, where his father had to earn his living as a laborer, while his grandaunt, Caroline, countess of Seafield, retains possession of the vast estates of the earldom.

In order to explain this condition of affairs it is necessary to state that the fifth earl of Seafield became insane. The sixth earl, his brother, therefore succeeded to vast accumulations of rent, and as long as he lived provided a home for his numerous sons. When he died, however, John Charles, his eldest surviving son, succeeding as seventh earl, was asked to share the accumulations with his brothers. He refused, and thereupon they went to law. After the washing of a great deal of family linen in court, the contest was settled in favor of the seventh earl, but left him so furious against his brothers that, with the coöperation of his son, he managed to secure the disentailment of the property.

In due course his son, Ian Charles, succeeded as eighth earl, and, after spending a few years in the regiment of Life Guards, died prematurely, leaving the entire property—namely: the whole of the Ogilvie and Grant estates, yielding an income of over a million and a half dollars, to his mother, Caroline, daughter of the eleventh Lord Blantyre. The earldom, of Seafield, along with the minor dignities, which include the viscounty of Reidhaven, the barony of Ogilvie, and the barony of Cullen in Scotland, as well as the barony of Strathspey of the united kingdom, carrying with it a seat in the house of lords, passed without a vestige of property to the young peer's uncle, James, who succeeded as ninth earl.

This ninth earl married three times, and, after enjoying his barren honors for four years, died in 1888, whereupon his eldest son, Francis William, succeeded to the honors as tenth earl. This peer, who had served for a time in the royal navy, had been exceedingly wild, and, after leaving both the service and England in consequence of an unpleasant scrape, started out to New Zealand, where he met with all sorts of hard knocks and queer experiences, earning a precarious livelihood at odd jobs, in the way of fencing, ditching, and as farm laborer, dying as bailiff of a provincial court a few months after succeeding to the honors, leaving a large family by his wife, who, far from being a woman of the humbler classes, as has been alleged in a number of English newspapers which have written about the matter, was the daughter of an army officer of the name of Evans, a scion of that Irish family of which Lord Carbery is the chief.

On hearing of the death of the tenth earl in New Zealand in these destitute circumstances, old Caroline, countess of Seafield, widow of the seventh earl, and owner of all the great Ogilvie and Grant estates, was moved by family pride, and perhaps also by pity, to address a letter to the other widowed Lady Seafield out in New Zealand, offering to take charge of the latter's eldest son, then a mere boy, to bring him home to England and to educate him in a manner befitting his position as eleventh earl of Seafield, with the understanding that if he conducted himself well she would make him heir of the entire Seafield estates. She intimated that she was ready to send out tutors and servants to bring him home from the colonies and to make an allowance to his mother on condition that the latter, as well as his brothers and sisters, should break off all relations with him.

The young earl's mother, unlike the "Dearest" of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," declined to entertain this offer. She was one of the leaders of the Salvation Army movement in New Zealand, and came to the conclusion that her son's religious faith might be imperiled if he were to be brought up by so worldly a woman as Caroline, countess of Seafield. So he was educated in New Zealand, one of the schools there undertaking to forego any demand for remuneration for the sake of having his name and all his titles on their books.

He was only 22 years of age when he married a young girl whom he had known from childhood, and who sat beside him in the day school, the daughter of a New Zealand physician, Dr. Joseph Townsend. Not long after this marriage the doctor, who was an elderly widower himself, made a most sensational match, leading to the altar Miss Anne Quayle Moore, the greatest heiress in New Zealand, her father, who has since died, leaving her a fortune of some $20,000,000. Both she and her husband are devoted to the young earl and countess of Seafield, and it is likely that she will leave them at any rate a portion of her great fortune when she dies, as she is over 60 years of age and childless.

Young Lord and Lady Seafield visited Europe for the first time about eight years ago and spent some days on the Seafield estates, hailed as the chief of the great Grant clan, but visiting his ancestral home—namely, Castle Grant—as an ordinary tourist, his grandaunt, the owner of the place, being absent at the time on the continent. Before he left Europe the old countess, who had learned of his presence in England and of his visit to her castle, offered him, through her lawyer, an allowance of $2,000 a year on condition that he would remain away from the united kingdom, and if he remained in Europe, would restrict himself to the continent. He indignantly rejected this offer. Indeed, it is characteristic of the imperious, strongminded, and haughty old countess that his attitude in the matter, so far from angering, pleased her, and, in spite of the fact that he holds no intercourse with her whatsoever, it is regarded as probable by all who know her, that when she dies it will be found that she has bequeathed to him the whole of the Seafield estates.

These include the Balmacann estate, which has been occupied for a number of years on lease by Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin of New York. They have offered large sums for the purchase of the place, to which they have become greatly attached. But Lady Seafield, although she is legally entitled to dispose of it, does not consider that she has any moral right to alienate any of the Seafield property, which goes to confirm the belief that she will will it all to the young earl at her death.

The present earl of Seafield is the twenty-fourth chieftain of the great clan of Grant, in direct male descent from Gregory Grant, who was sheriff of Inverness in the reign of Alexander II.—that is to say, at the beginning of the thirteenth century. The Grants themselves repeatedly refused titles when the latter were pressed upon them, esteeming their position as chieftains of the clan superior to any peerage. The latter, however, came upon them in a measure against their will through the marriage of Sir Ludovic Grant to Margaret, daughter of James Ogilvie, earl of Seafield. The grandson of this woman—namely, Sir Lewis Alexander Grant—succeeded, by virtue of his descent from her, to the earldom of Seafield, as fifth earl, on the death of the fourth earl without issue. The ancestral home of the family, now occupied by Caroline, countess of Seafield, and which will pass into the possession of the eleventh earl at her death, is known as Castle Grant, and is a superb old place, the newest portions being 300 years old, while the greater part of the building dates from the fifteenth century.

The walls of the banqueting hall are ten feet thick and the floors of some of the apartments are nearly 600 years old. Castle Grant figures in the works of Burns and Sir Walter Scott and of many another Scotch writer, and is a typical home of the great Highland aristocracy of olden days; from its hall, adorned with claymores dating from 1414, to Lady Seafield's morning room, where the curtains are of the Grant tartan, spun by her from the wool of sheep bred on the Seafield estates, which embrace an area of over 300,000 acres.

County Treasurer Replies.

Chicago, March 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—A letter which was published in the "Voice of the People" column of The Tribune this morning about the county treasurer's office closing at 3:30 p. m. is unfair. The statements made indicate that the writer (who says he rode seven miles to the county building to pay his taxes only to find our offices closed at 3:45 p. m.) has no conception of the work which this office has to do. We believe that when you understand the situation you will feel that the impression which has been given out should be corrected.

Our office is open to the public from 8:30 in the morning until 3:30 in the afternoon—during the busy season from 8 in the morning. These hours have been set apart for our clerks to wait upon the people as they come into our office. It is only after 3:30 that we can take time and the books are available for crediting payments and checking and for balancing our collections for the day. It is as necessary for us to close to the public at that hour as it is for any of the banking institutions. The custom is not new. The office has closed at the same hour for years and years, and our office hours are painted on the doors leading to our office. Behind the closed doors are our clerks, who are here until 5 o'clock or after, finishing the day's work; in the busy season until 9 or 11.

When it is so convenient to procure an express or postoffice money order there is no necessity for any one traveling seven miles or any part of that distance to come to our office and pay taxes.

As the letter is anonymous we cannot reply to the writer directly.

Old and New Esperanto.

Chicago, March 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The Tribune recently printed a letter asserting that many scientists approve primitive Esperanto, invented by Dr. Zamenhof, and that that language is no longer a fad. Anybody who will take a glance at "Amerika Esperantisto" will come to the opposite conclusion.

Esperanto, which is on the downward course in Europe, is thriving at present in this country almost exclusively on faddists and other persons who are unable to judge of its glaring defects.

The Esperanto editors are making a comical attempt to disguise the fact that their language is at present in a state of transition and that they are about to adopt the thoroughgoing reforms which were published recently by some competent philologists under the name of "Ido," or simplified Esperanto. Progress.

Scientists and Esperanto.

Chicago, March 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The report that South American scientists in great numbers have declared themselves in favor of Esperanto as it now appears in the official text books of the Esperantists, may well be taken with a grain of salt. The Esperantists have a few agitators in Chile who may have succeeded in imposing on some among the less informed Spaniards, but the great number of scientists all over the world consider Esperanto as Zamenhof published it as far too defective to take it seriously. Only four notable philologists ever temporarily and reservedly indorsed Esperanto—viz.: Max Muller of Oxford, Jespersen of Copenhagen, Seidel of Berlin, and Balint of Kolozsvar. Of these Max Muller is now dead, the other three have declared emphatically that they indorsed only the idea of an international language, but find Esperanto does not come up to that idea. They recommend quite warmly, on the other hand, the "simplified" and modernized Esperanto, called Ido, and they are doing much to propagate this latter language among their confrères.

Wants Tariff on Wool Retained.

Decatur, Mich., March 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Some time ago I saw in The Tribune an editorial on free wool and cheaper clothing for the people. I have been farming and more or less interested in sheep for over thirty years. Back in the eighties I had a valuable flock of sheep that had been years in building up and they were a paying proposition. About that time people began to agitate the tariff question. After Cleveland was elected sheep left the farms by the thousands at $1 per head. I sold my wool at 10 cents a pound and could hire ten times as many men at 50 cents a day as I could get money to pay. I bought 120 head of registered Shropshire ewes at $2.80 a head that cost a few years before that $10 to $20 a head, and would be worth that at the present time.

To put wool on the free list would benefit no one save the manufacturer. If you want cheap goods remove the duty from manufactured woolen goods. There is not more than $2 worth of wool in an "all wool" suit of clothes. If the manufacturer had his wool given him the retailer would get about the same for his goods. I sold my wool three years ago for 30 cents a pound, two years ago at 28 cents a pound, one year ago at 20 cents a pound. Have you noticed any difference in the price of clothing?

I think you had better square yourself with the sheep raiser, for between the tariff tinker, the sheep killing dog, and the stomach worms he is having a hard enough time to survive without your taking sides against him.

Chance to Escape Death.

Chicago, March 6.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—A man recently was crushed between two street cars in the same manner that Miss Ohl and Miss Reinhold were. Probably such tragedies will be of frequent occurrence from now on.

I suggest that those finding themselves trapped fling themselves on their chests on the center space between the tracks—exerting their maximum of presence of mind—and lie stiff and straight until the cars stop.

Let the car companies make a public test to show that there is room to do this unless one is very large. To stand is almost certain death; to dash headlong gives one a chance to escape. Perhaps this suggestion may save one life; suppose it saves many lives?

Says Criticism Is Fault Finding.

Chicago, March 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Since you gave some of your valuable space for the criticism by Anna London of Eleanor Everest Freer's splendid article defending her country woman, I beg that the same courtesy be extended to me. If there was aught in the article "to prove that Mme. Marchesi was correct" in her criticism of American girls, what must she think of the following men of letters?

There was once a man named Noah Webster to whom people often referred when in doubt about the English language and he said that criticism signified "to discuss the merits or demerits of a thing or person; especially, to find fault."

Pope said: "Cavil you may, but never criticise"; Sir Edwin Arnold said: "To commend or to criticise"; Thomas de Quincey said: "Compliment or criticise"; Shelley, in speaking of Keats, who was silly enough to die of a broken heart because of the "criticism" of just such hairsplitters, said: "Had they been as prodigal with their praise as they were with their criticism," etc.; and, strange enough, Ben Jonson said: "To criticise or to praise."

I am wondering if Mme. Marchesi and Anna London would have given these men credit for knowing their own language.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS

For the Actors' Fund—$5,800.

At the actors' fund benefit performance in the Auditorium yesterday afternoon a lady sitting just back of us was informed by a willing husband that Jack Norworth and Nora Bayes were the "hero and heeroyne of 'The Follies.'" That statement, we fear, is a trifle beside the facts. There are many heroes in "The Follies" and not a few heeroynes. But Jack and Nora, assisted by Daniel Frohman, were certainly the star trio of the benefit.

Mr. Frohman was a hero because he so arranged and presented the big bill that there was but one slip in the whole long program. It began promptly, ran smoothly, and ended promptly. But one of the performers scheduled to appear sent regrets, and that was Georgia Caine, who was to sing, but could not because she had what the stage director assured the audience was a real cold.

Miss Bayes was a heroine because she not alone sang "The Harvest Moon" number with all her heart and soul and voice but volunteered a second song in place of Miss Caine, while between appearances she went down into the audience and sold copies of the "moon" song for the benefit of the fund. And Norworth was a hero because he trotted after her and did his share of the talking, showing that he is no imitation husband.

The benefit was one of the best that has been organized for the worthy charity, though the receipts fell about $1,000 below what they have been in former years. This year they were approximately $5,800, and once or twice before they have reached $7,000.

The feature of the bill was an amusing burlesque of "Hamlet," in which the Shakspeare tragedy is given in twenty-five minutes, two scenes, and any number of incidents. The players engaged contributed all the absurd twists of limb and line they could think of, and the audience laughed too heartily to gasp at any evidence of seeming sacrilege. There were two one act plays, a pretty thing called "The Mallet's Masterpiece," in which the origin of the "Venus di Milo" was explained as the attack of a sculptor upon the finished work of a rival, well played by William Farnum, Mrs. Farnum, and Richie Ling, and "My Aunt's Advice," a bright little farce, which George Arliss first gave here two or three seasons ago with Blanche Bates as the lady concerned. Yesterday Mrs. Arliss played the part and Hamilton Revelle assisted.

The orchestral numbers were played, and well played, by the newly organized Philharmonic orchestra, with Chevalier N. B. Emanuel acting as conductor.

Ada Lewis made her unofficial debut as a star in Peoria last night, playing the comedy heroine of "The Head of the House." One who was present assures us Peoria first nighters have not laughed so heartily in years and predicts that the new comedy will be "the laugh show" of the season. Miss Lewis' official first appearance will occur in the Grand Sunday night.

Miss Grace Elliston has been forced to leave the cast of "The Devil," in which she has been supporting George Arliss at the Grand Opera house. Her physicians declare she is threatened with an attack of nervous prostration. Miss Anna Sutherland will assume the rôle this evening.

Madrigal Concert.

The second concert in the eighth season of the Chicago Madrigal club was given last evening in Music hall. Mr. Clippinger and his little company of singers were greeted by the usual capacity audience and the program offered was received with every evidence of appreciation and approval.

The club's steady gain in artistic finish and finesse was subject of gratifying comment last season, and again last night the work was of a quality which showed that both the director and the individual members of the chorus are striving seriously and earnestly toward constant betterment of all that pertains to their performances. The tonal mass is taking on more of solidity and firmness and is becoming purer and finer, and the technical work is gaining in precision, smoothness, and accuracy. The phrasing and shading are clear and good, and the enunciation and pronunciation commendable.

The club is now one of the valuable factors in the musical life of the city and its place should be a high one and its influence strong if it continue as it has begun.

The program contained as its chief number the prize crowned work of the year. It is the setting by Charles H. Bochau of Baltimore of a poem by W. E. Keyes of Boston. The poem is entitled "I Know the Way of the Wild Blush Rose," and is a graceful putting of the standard poetic combination of wild rose, nightingale's song, a maid's heart, and love. The setting is pleasing and neatly made save for what seems a thickness in voice leading in the first of the three sections. The second section, with its soprano obligato, is effective, and makes the success of the composition. The performance was a good one, but the audience was not particularly enthusiastic. Two Elgar numbers, "Deep in My Soul" and "O Wild West Wind," were also among the selections I heard, the first of which proved attractive and was well given.

The soloist of the evening was Mrs. Lucille S. Tewksbury, whose high soprano is rich and warm beyond the average and whose taste and skill in singing command approval. I heard her in Rummell's moodful "Across the Hills," Stephens' "The Nightingale," and the Schneider "Flower Rain," all of which she sang well.

Miss Dressler's Theater Closed.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, March 11.—Marie Dressler's season at the Aldwych theater has stopped suddenly. The theater has been closed for the last two or three nights for the reason, it is announced, that Miss Dressler is ill. Tonight, however, the company, numbering sixty or seventy persons, anxiously applied at the theater to know what was going to happen.

They were informed by the stage manager that they would be paid one week's salary tomorrow, which was all Miss Dressler would be able to do at present.

The manager read a letter from Miss Dressler to the company which said fate was against her. She was proud of her loved company and wanted them to know that she had mortgaged everything she had in the world in order to pay them last week. She was too ill to explain further.

Miss Dressler lately stated that she had put all her savings, nearly $40,000, in her venture at the Aldwych theater.

CONFER ON TRACTION PLAN

Mayor Questions Weston and Wilson Talks with Fisher.

DISCUSS CITY'S ATTITUDE

Officials Refuse to Reveal Result of Their Meetings.

Two conferences yesterday—one between City Controller Wilson and Walter L. Fisher, special traction counsel, and the other between Mayor Busse and George Weston, the city's representative on the board of supervising engineers—forecast the windup of the investigation into the expenditures of the traction companies.

The nature of both discussions was kept secret, but it was said in the city hall that their common object was to determine the city's attitude on the question of what items of expense may be charged against the joint accounts of the city and the companies.

Mayor Remains Silent.

Mayor Busse refused to confirm a report that a preliminary report had been made to him by the accountants whom he ordered to inspect the books of the Chicago City railway company for proof of anonymous charges that confidential discounts had been given to its officers.

Thomas E. Mitten, president of the City railway, returned from his trip to Buffalo. The representatives of the Chicago Railways, in the absence of President Roach and Henry A. Blair, chairman of the finance committee, issued statements concerning rehabilitation work.

Work for 2,500 Men.

One statement announced the employment of 2,500 men on track reconstruction as soon as the weather will permit. The first of the work is to be done in Madison street from Rockwell street to Fortieth avenue, in Blue Island avenue from Twenty-second street to Western avenue, in Armitage avenue from Milwaukee avenue to Forty-fourth avenue, and in Wells street from the river to Lincoln park.

Another statement related to the letting of a contract for about 10,000 solid steel forged and rolled car wheels—said to be the largest ever placed by a street car company—which were purchased about 40 per cent below the prices quoted a year ago.

CHEERY PATIENT WINS AID BY MEANS OF OWN OPTIMISM.

Mrs. De Sousa, Little Sufferer in St. Joseph's Hospital, Forgets Pain When People Raise Children's Fund.

Mrs. De Sousa, "the little optimist of St. Joseph's hospital," is better. But "better" is merely a comparative term. At least two more months of hospital life confronts her, but the interest people in general have taken in her since the publication of her story in The Tribune last Saturday has given her a new lease on life and, if possible, has added to her natural cheeriness.

"O," she said when Dr. Thompson of the hospital had read the story to her—the whole thing was a surprise to her—"I always knew the world was full of good folks. Haven't I told you so?"

Dr. Thompson, in fact, was the first to tell her of the news that the generously inclined people of Chicago had become interested in her.

"Now," he said, "you are not to say a word to any one about this, for they'll all want to talk to you about it and you mustn't get excited, you know."

But good news will out.

Since then the new found friends have added these expressions to their list of credits:

A letter from a man offering gladly to give a monthly allowance toward the support of the little family.

The employés of the Chicago Savings bank, in whose building the little woman broke down her health doing scrubbing, have raised some $25.

A check for $50 from a Chicago man, another for $10 from another, and a $2 bill inclosed with a note to "the little optimist" from a third.

But at least $300 is necessary, and small contributions would be welcome.

Meantime the children are well cared for and are hopeful for the mother's recovery.

MME. EMMA EAMES FONDLES LION CUBS IN LINCOLN PARK.

Noted Prima Donna Visits Her Leonine Protege, Who Has Heartlessly Abandoned Three Little Babies.

"O, the dear little lionies! They are just the sweetest things in the whole world."

Thus spake Mme. Emma Eames, the prima donna, as she caressed the baby lions at Lincoln park yesterday afternoon. The lions were born four weeks ago and their mother is the lioness Emma Eames. The mother was christened last summer by Mme. Eames at the request of Cy De Vry, keeper of Lincoln park "zoo."

When the prima donna arrived in Chicago yesterday she received a telephone message from Mrs. De Vry asking her to come out to the zoo. She found that the mother of the three little lions had refused to nourish them and Mr. De Vry was obliged to get a large St. Bernard to "mother" the cubs.

Mme. Eames, who is to give a concert at Orchestra hall on Sunday, declares she will have nothing more to do with grand opera companies, which, she says, are always full of dissension and lack systematic management.

Cy De Vry will leave tomorrow for New Mexico, where he will spend three weeks trapping beaver for Lincoln park.

MRS. POTTER PALMER HOME; LAUGHS AT REALTY REPORTS.

Postpones Trip to England and Returns to Chicago, but Denies She Will Sell Residence or Hotel.

Mrs. Potter Palmer arrived in Chicago on the Twentieth Century limited yesterday after a hurried trip from New York. In response to telegrams she postponed a contemplated trip to Liverpool and canceled bookings on the Lusitania.

Mrs. Palmer laughed at the comment occasioned by her sudden return home.

"There is absolutely no mystery about it," she said. "It was simply a question of waiting four or five days in New York or waiting here. I would rather be at home, so I came.

"I am not selling the Palmer house or my residence."

The sudden return of Mrs. Palmer had revived the story current a few weeks ago that the sale of the Palmer residence on the Lake shore drive is about to be closed.

There also is a report current that her return was due to a determination to improve the property at the southeast corner of Michigan avenue and Twenty-second street, 161 feet in the latter and 150 feet in Michigan, which Mrs. Palmer purchased about two years ago.

SECRET SERVICE MEN "DOCKED"

Each Will Forfeit Percentage of Wages to Make Up Deficit Congress Refuses to Pay.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—To meet the deficit of $10,000 in the expenses for the current year, which congress failed to supply, the secret service bureau will be compelled to require each of its employés to donate from five to fifteen days' time to the government. Between now and July 1 each man will find his monthly pay check short a certain amount, while he serves full time.

A scrutiny of the general deficiency appropriation bill shows congress chopped the estimated deficiency of the secret service squarely in two. Instead of placing the needed $20,000 at the disposal of the secretary of the treasury, but $10,000 was appropriated.

MORTGAGES COVER CENTRAL AMERICA

Great National Debts Bar to Prosperity in Nearly Every Country.

HOLD ALL LOANS VELVET.

Financiers Those Who Can Get Most from Europe and Repay the Least.

BY FREDERICK PALMER.

[Copyright, 1909, by Tribune company, Chicago.]

Central America can have no real prosperity or standing until she reforms her financial system, if system it may be called, and it is one of a certain kind. The problem that faces each new dictator is how to borrow more money, when his country has defaulted on both principal and interest of her debt and everything is mortgaged up to the hilt.

From the dawn of Central American history any sum whatsoever that can be secured in foreign lands has been regarded as so much velvet, incurring no further responsibility. The Foreign Bondholders' society meets in London for grave discussion and offers almost any compromise that will bring a little cash, while the Central American ministers of finance smile over the trustfulness of some European investors.

Honduras has the most brilliant record. She first floated a $5,000,000 loan to build a transcontinental railroad at 10 per cent, issued at 89 in '67; another of $12,000,000 for 6 2-3 per cent, at 75 in '69; another of $12,000,000 for 10 per cent, at 80 in '70. With these sums she actually built fifty-four miles of the proposed transcontinental railroad for which the bonds were issued.

All the rest of the money went into the pockets of her politicians and the loan agents. Of course, she was cheated, cheated by her politicians as well as the loan agents; while the advocates of the Drago doctrine ask why the people should pay for what they do not get to a lot of Lombard street sharpers.

Interest Three Times Revenue.

By '73 Honduras had defaulted and never a cent has been paid since. At present the total indebtedness, with accrued interest, amounts to $100,000,000, while the interest itself on that sum is more than three times Honduras' total revenue. A compromise settlement for $5,[illegible]000 has been offered by the bondholders, but $5,000,000 seems almost as far out of reach as $100,000,000 to Honduranean statesmen.

Combining the foreign debt and the internal debts and "voluntary loans," I am sure that, for population, Central America, miserably poor in all except natural resources, has a larger per capita debt than Great Britain. It is sufficient comment on conditions that accurate figures may be had only concerning the foreign debt, which must be known abroad.

That of Costa Rica is $14,000,000 (with $4,200,000 of unpaid interest); of Guatemala, $10,000,000 (with $2,500,000 of unpaid interest); of Nicaragua, $4,500,000; of Salvador, $3,500,000. Thus, three Central American countries, Guatemala, Honduras, and Costa Rica, have continuously defaulted; the other two, Salvador and Nicaragua, have paid up by compromises temporarily in order to borrow more money.

The first debt contracted was by the old Central American federation, in 1825, when 6s to the amount of $7,000,000 were offered in Europe and $800,000 was subscribed at an issue price of 73. In '40 Costa Rica paid off her portion on a basis of 85 per cent of the principal. In '60 Salvador compromised on 90 per cent in cash. Guatemala defaulted until '56, and Nicaragua until '77. By borrowing from Peter, eventually settlements were made by one compromise or another for all of this debt.

Costa Rica Makes Loans Easily.

Costa Rica has been the most successful in floating loans because her credit, due to her prosperity, is best. Her per capita debt, less only than that of France, is $35, which, at the same rate, would mean a national debt of $2,840,000,000 for the United States. But her revenues are large, her prospects bright, and she is abundantly able to pay.

Moreover, not only the advisability, but the honesty of liquidation has become a matter of public discussion. At the last session of congress a law, involving an agreement which the United Fruit company repudiated, was passed, taxing bananas at the rate of 1 cent a bunch, the total proceeds to go toward the national debt.

In '89 Salvador borrowed $1,500,000 to build a railroad a distance of thirty-five miles from Acajutla to Atenas. Seven miles were built and the balance of the money went to the politicians. In '99, finding that the government railway did not pay, she converted her national debt into securities of the Salvador railway company by a process profitable to all concerned except the bondholders, agreeing to a payment to the company of a subsidy of $115,000 a year. Still another financial scheme was worked recently, of which more later.

Preparing to Join Castro.

Nicaragua in '94 compromised on her railroad debt by a reduction of the interest from 6 to 4 per cent, and only half the coupons in arrears to be paid. One does not wish to suspect Zelaya unduly, but he is looking forward to retirement in Belgium, and anything that he can borrow, no matter what the rates, by bolstering up his country's credit temporarily is so much to the "good."

In 1904 he made a 5 per cent loan of $1,000,000 issued at 75, through New Orleans bankers, with the customs as security. At the time of writing he is trying to float a 6 per cent loan of $6,000,000 issued at 80 in Paris, on the guarantee of his horrible whisky and tobacco monopolies. Should he succeed, he will have made his final coup and will be ready to join Castro.

It is hopeless for any of these countries to secure any further foreign loans on their credit as nations. They must mortgage their revenues. Here appear the financial geniuses, almost invariably German-Americans, who have made the greatest fortunes outside of the fruit company pioneers. Of these geniuses Adolphus Stoll of Guatemala is the flower.

Stoll Lining His Own Pockets.

Recently, some one began buying up the bonds of a certain internal loan which had long been repudiated. When I spoke to Stoll about this he said it was strange. He had heard the same news. He wondered who was responsible. As he had been extolling President Cabrera so ardently as a patriot and himself as the original, simon pure friend of Guatemala, I could not help saying:

"Why, you have been buying them yourself all the way from 16 to 40, and in March it will be announced that they will be paid at par out of still another loan fastened on coffee exportation at an extortionate rate of interest. You are making a good profit, Mr. Stoll"—not that he is to receive all himself when he is in partnership with Cabrera.

Then Mr. Stoll admitted he was not in business for his health; and, besides, he was as good an American as anybody. I saw that he had not regarded me as rude, but as mysteriously well informed. When we write and speak of the Monroe doctrine and our duties to weak sister nations it is well to consider the effect on any people who receive their economic teachings from such a type of American as Mr. Stoll.

He does not play with Peter and Paul liquidation of foreign debts, which would attract attention; but he chooses a certain internal loan—there was no reason why it should be chosen in preference to any other internal loan—and sticks to his "running account" with Cabrera, a triumph which has brought all other Central American financiers to his feet in admiration of the master.

The "running account" is one of the secrets of state. No banker with whom I talker quite grasped its method in detail. But from what I could learn Stoll is in the position of one who is receiving about 14 per cent per annum on his bank balance. He loans Cabrera sums against the collection of the annual export duty on coffee in gold, which is perfectly good security, as the collection is practically in his hands.

Loans Net Government Little.

Mr. Bloom, in Salvador, has no "running account," but he does all the government bond business, and in 1908 he actually succeeded in floating a 6 per cent foreign loan for $5,000,000 at 70 to the agents and 75 to the public. At first it was poorly subscribed, but was taken up finally in London, where 8 per cent interest is attractive to later generations of investors unfamiliar with Central American financial history. It is not for an outsider to estimate Mr. Bloom's total profits. A part of the sum received went to the payment of old loans, and the government received actually about $660,000, which went mostly to paying arrears of salaries and contracts on the new palace. Already the sum is gone. Pretty soon salaries will again be in arrears, and what then?

While Mexico spends her loans on railroads and bridges and other public works that will be an investment in developing resources, this is not so in Central America, where all goes into the pockets of statesmen or to pay the ordinary government expenses. Taxing the production of coffee, as I have already pointed out, means to Central America much the same thing as placing a tax on the export of wheat or steel in our own country. There is a limit—bankruptcy for the planter—which even the best coffee lands in the world cannot bear; a limit when no more money can be borrowed even on that security.

There remains the recourse to "voluntary loans" and internal loans. "Voluntary loans" of one type simply represent a demand of the dictator for a certain sum of money, which an individual must pay or go to jail. The formal internal loans are taken up by bankers and individuals under government pressure, or they are issued and must be accepted through force majeur in payment of debts.

Give Bonds as Souvenirs.

When I told a certain business man that I would like to see one of these bonds he put his hand in a drawer and said: "Certainly. I'll make you a present of this. You can see for yourself what it is nominally worth, with interest accrued. Of course, no interest has been paid. I'd like to sell you a bale of them for 5 cents apiece."

The issuing of such a piece of paper is only a form. In making up statistics the habits of Central American governments are not accurate enough to include the detail of all such loans. But if the governments—which may give in face value five times the amount received—ever had to liquidate, the problem would equal that of the average brakeman having to assume the bonded indebtedness of the Union Pacific railroad system.

The financial responsibility of the president consists of making up a form of budget which is submitted to congress, with congress having no real power of audit, let alone of appropriation. It is largely fictitious—so much for the army and the other departments, which may have gone into the pockets of the president and his cabinet or to the maintenance of his expensive spy system.

And all this pyramid of repudiated loans and irresponsible finance rests on a fluctuating currency. Panama has the gold standard, by our direction; Mexico and Costa Rica, both of which are prosperous, by choice. In the other countries the value of a native dollar depends wholly on how much labor you can get for a valueless piece of paper and on the speculative law of exchange in the capital. When you go to bed you never know what will be the gold rate of the bank bills in your purse in the morning.

Exchange Varies Sharply.

The exchange for a gold dollar in Guatemala has been as high as 20. It varied between 14.75 and 16 in the week that I was there. When Cabrera became dictator nine years ago it was 2½ for one. He has forced the banks to issue more than $65,000,000 worth of paper, without any metallic backing whatever. If the people would not take his currency, he proposed to make them. He issued a decree that all debts in silver should be payable in currency of his realm, and, not satisfied with that, he made a second decree including debts in gold, which is the usual form of contract, but this he had to withdraw, thus ruining his plan to get gold on the export coffee tax and pay his own bills in worthless scrip.

Probably not more than $200,000 or $400,000 in gold or silver, not in foreign banks, remains in circulation in Guatemala. You find Guatemalan quarters and dimes in all the other Central American countries, though of course Mexico will have none of any foreign silver except that of the United States. The traveler is continually approached to know if he has any gold for sale. If he wishes to buy gold he may, as a favor, obtain a few eagles from some leading banker. Money changers thrive, while business, with no firm basis of values on which to act, stagnates.

COURT MODIFIES LABOR INJUNCTION

Federation of Labor, Under New Ruling, Permitted to Comment on Stove Co.

UNFAIR LIST IS CLOSED.

St. Louis Manufacturers Cannot Be Included in Published Boycott by Organization.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—The American Federation of Labor hereafter may freely refer to the boycott against the Bucks Stove and Range company of St. Louis, except by inclusion in the "We don't patronize list."

This, in substance, of widespread importance to the labor world, to manufacturers, and to newspapers generally, is the sweeping decision handed down today by the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia in the noted injunction case of the Bucks Stove and Range company against the American Federation of Labor, which has been before the courts of the District of Columbia in various phases for months.

In a recent decision by Justice Gould of the Supreme court of the District the American Federation of Labor and the officers, Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell, Morrison, and others, were enjoined from conspiring to boycott the Bucks Stove and Range company and from printing or publishing or distributing through the mails or otherwise any copy of the Federationist or other publication referring to the complainant, its business, or product in the "We don't patronize" or "unfair" list.

Lower Court Decree Modified.

The decision today, which was by Justice Robb, modifies and affirms the decree of Justice Gould. The court holds that the decree should be modified to the extent that it shall only restrain the defendants from conspiring or combining to boycott the business of the Bucks Stove and Range company, or threatening or declaring any boycott or assisting therein, and from printing the name of the complainant, its business or product in the "We don't patronize" or "unfair" list of defendants in furtherance of any boycott against complainant's business or product and from interfering either in print or otherwise with complainant's business as in "We don't patronize" or "unfair" list in furtherance of a boycott.

The court holds that the defendants cannot be restrained from all publications referring to the Bucks Stove and Range company, but only such as are made in furtherance of an illegal boycott.

Dissenting Opinion of Shepard.

In a partially dissenting opinion in which he says that he is unable to concur entirely in the modified decrees of Justice Robb, Chief Justice Shepard expressed the opinion that the decree should be modified "so as to restrain the acts only by which other persons have been or may be coerced into ceasing from business relations with the Bucks Stove and Range company, but so as not to restrain the publication of the name of that company in the 'We don't patronize' column of the American Federationist, no matter what the object of such publication may be suspected or believed to be."

Justice Van Orsdel concurred fully in the conclusion reached by Justice Robb, but by a different process of reasoning.

"The sustaining of such a decree by a court of equity would violate the constitutional rights of the citizen," says Justice Van Orsdel, in referring to Justice Gould's injunction decree. "It would mark the beginning of the era of judicial tyranny by the branch of the government charged with the duty of protecting the citizen in his constitutional or legal rights."

He says further, that the clause in the constitution guaranteeing the free speech and free press forbids government censorship in all forms.

"It would be difficult," he adds, "to conceive of a more effective method of establishing a government censorship than through the writ of injunction."

Ends Attained, Says Gompers.

"The dissenting opinion of Chief Justice Shepard," said Mr. Gompers tonight, "is exactly that for which the federation has been all along contending so far as it refers to the freedom of the press. The right to freely express opinions is a constitutional guaranty. There is nothing libelous in anything the federation has published in connection with this whole case."

P. A. VALENTINE AIDS BOOTH AND CHEERS UP CREDITORS.

New York Banker's Visit to City Puts Stop to Rumors of Further Indictments of Officers.

P. A. Valentine, brother-in-law of W. Vernon Booth, and representative of large financial interests through his directorships in the National City bank of New York and the Central Trust company of Chicago, is in town. At least part of his time is being spent in consideration of matters pertaining to Booth & Co. Bankers representing the bank creditors' committee are uncommunicative as to the significance of Mr. Valentine's visit, but they appear to look upon the world with a much more satisfied mien than hitherto.

One of the most noticeable changes that has come over those connected with the Booth receivership is the fact that since Mr. Valentine's visit every one seems to deprecate all talk about further indictments of Mr. Booth and other Booth company officials.

Ernest A. Hamill, chairman of the creditors' committee, admitted that he knew Mr. Valentine was in the city and then stated that a definite step to give the creditors full control of the assets of the fish concern was about to be taken in court. A petition to this effect is being prepared in the office of Attorney Newman.

FEW OUT TO SEE SOX DEFEAT OAKS

American Leaguers Win, 9 to 3, with Walsh and Spencer Working for Comiskey.

FANS LACK ENTHUSIASM.

Isbell and Dougherty Refrain from Playing in Tame Exhibition Game.

BY HEK.

San Francisco, Cal., March 11.—[Special.]—The Oakland fans, if such abide hereabouts, did not come back to the game today in large numbers or with any degree of enthusiasm.

The second consecutive game with the Oaks was played in the presence of few outside of those whose duty called them. The Sox won it, 9 to 3. That is the necessary but not the essential part of it.

Isbell and Dougherty did not perform. The former thinks he will look better in June if he does not make too much use of himself in these exhibition affairs, and Dougherty is in the same fix and frame of mind.

Walsh and Spencer did the pitching for our side, with the result that the previous remarks about both must be qualified. Walsh is coming along and Spencer revealed some of the qualities that attracted Comiskey's attention to him. Both have a long way to go to qualify for membership in a team that has designs on the American league championship.

Walsh appeared to be less of the big cuttle skulled killer than he was when we first took a slant at him. He showed today that he was progressing in control of himself and of the ball. There is so much of him in the way of physique and strength that it may be worth keeping him while his sconce is being developed. There is hope that he will make good, as they say in baseball, but if he does he will be a hard customer to deal with. It will be necessary to chloroform him to lead him to the hay and throw him down to get a pair of shoes on him. He does not drink, and when he smokes he rolls his own, but when he's off the chain he plays the rest of it to a fare-you-well.

Spencer Not So Self-Conscious.

Spencer is overcoming his nervousness. He is not as conscious of himself as he was. Billy Sullivan is his philosopher, guide, and friend, and in this game he revealed in spots and places the good things Sullivan has been saying the youngster has in him. He attempted nothing fancy in the way of pitching, for the game was well in hand when he took hold, but showed he knew where the ball should go when it came to him and that was what we were anxious about.

The managerial intention was to pitch Walsh for three innings, but he looked so good that Sullivan left him in for five. Somebody complimented him yesterday on his quick perception of a possibility at first, consequently he overplayed that mark just to show he was there with it. He used only speed at first part and was all right at that, but when he tried to bend them he couldn't find the plate.

He walked Dan Cameron, the towering first baseman, who, they say, has a father in Wisconsin who is broke down to his last $3,000,000. Breyette send a long one out to left that required some catching on the part of Cravath. Then Walsh stopped trying to curve them and Lewis went out on strikes. Adams got one in the right spot for a single and Cameron came home with the first run for the Oaks.

Three men faced him in the third. Walsh passed McCay in the fourth, but he was doubled up with Cameron on a roller to short. The side was retired in order in the fifth. Three hits and one run against Martin. Pretty good showing, but it doesn't go if he hears it.

The Oaks got two more in the eighth with Spencer's assistance. Adams was safe on his error, La Longe walked, Nelson advanced both, and Truesdale cleaned up with a single.

Cravath the Hitting Scamp.

Cravath was responsible for most of the run getting on our side. Out of five times up he made two singles and a triple when hits meant runs. Moreover, he seemed to be back with his own kind of folks in left field. Flanagan showed up better than at any time since he has been with us. He covered a lot of ground, fielded sharply, threw hard and accurately, and followed Cravath's triple with a single in the ninth.

Comiskey has made reservations for himself and family on tomorrow's 4 o'clock train for Los Angeles. He will see the Yannigans play on Saturday and Sunday and return here on his way north to go home by the Canadian Pacific.

Will he stop at Portland? Search me. Today's score:

BLANKED BY SOX YANNIGANS.

Chicagoans Revenged on Vernon by Score of 6 to 0—Lange and Altrock Pitch Effectively.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—[Special.]—The Sox Yannigans got sweet revenge on Vernon this afternoon, shutting out "Happy" Hogan's lusty swatters 6 to 0.

Both Altrock and Lange pitched fine ball, keeping the hits scattered. Purtell's star fielding twice prevented possible scores, while Welday caught a liner after a long run when a misjudgment would have cost two runs. The Wausau pitcher showed class by striking out six men and pitching himself out of two bad holes when runs seemed inevitable, once with the bases full. Score:

WANTS TO HEAR FROM CHANCE.

President Murphy Not Ready to Discuss Lease of Permanent Training Grounds at Hot Springs.

President Murphy of the Cubs, who returned yesterday from Troy, N. Y., where he attended the funeral of John Evers' mother, found a stack of training trip switches to sanction, but heard nothing regarding the reported plan to join with President Taylor of the Boston Americans in the lease of permanent training grounds at Hot Springs.

"Before I could talk definitely on that subject," said the Cub magnate, "I would have to hear from or see Manager Chance, who has all the 'dope' about the Hot Springs situation and knows whether or not it would be advantageous for the team."

Pitcher Liese, with the Madison club last year, called on President Murphy and signed his contract. He was immediately furnished transportation to West Baden and left last night at 9 o'clock to join the squad under Treasurer Williams chaperonage. Liese is from the University of Wisconsin and a clever all round player as well as pitcher.

Secondary Defense Ordered to Vacate Watery West Baden.

OFF FOR DIXIELAND TODAY.

Squad Hopes to Discover Less Aqueous Ballyard at Shreveport.

BY R. W. LARDNER.

West Baden, Ind., March 11.—[Special.]—The Cubs secondary defense will leave this flooded spot tomorrow afternoon for Shreveport, hoping to find there a ballyard not entirely under the influence of liquid refreshments.

This decision was reached after telegraphic communication among Williams, Chance, and Murphy, the Peerless Leader finally ordering the club to get out of West Baden as soon as possible. No rain has fallen since Monday, but enough fell then to make this place a joke as a training camp. Furthermore, the atmosphere has been chill most of the week. These facts were related by Manager Williams to his brother officers and Chance decided the players were wasting time here. Tomorrow morning will be spent in packing up. The squad will reach Louisville in the evening, stopping there about two hours. Shreveport will be attained Saturday night, barring accidents. The first game with the Shreveporters is scheduled for next Wednesday, but one may be played before that if the local management is agreeable.

Chance would not have thought this section of the team was wasting time if he could have been present today.

More Work on Hilltop.

There was morning practice and more of it in the afternoon. The morning session took place on the top of the usual hill. After their midday meal the players who just had taken off their uniforms put them on again and started for French Lick, where dry land was sighted. Hard labor was the lot of the men at the nearby resort and they were a tired set at dinner. Instead of the customary addition to its numbers the squad was decreased by the departure of Arthur Hofman. The latter's new manager, Mrs. Hofman, heard Artie had strained his back in the first day's work out. Hofman tried to tell her over the phone and telegraph wires he was all right, but her faith in the old saying "seeing is believing" caused her to order him home. He took the early morning train for Chicago.

After making new plans Manager Williams wired Artie to join the team at Memphis on Saturday morning. There were no other fatalities during the day, although Attorney Seligman of Chicago had several narrow escapes. He broke into a high low game on the hilltop in the morning. He was unfortunate in getting into the squad with "Chick" Fraser and Del Howard, both of whom make life miserable for all associated with them in this pastime.

Bumps for Legal Fan.

They were comparatively humane on this occasion, however, and to their charity the attorney owes his life. When he was busy nursing a pain in his head, where the ball had hit him, they would distract attention from the wounded spot by smashing him on the shins. In this way he was employed in wondering which bruise hurt most and prevented from brooding over any particular injury. "Toots" Hofman, Slagle, Brain, and Charley Williams were in the squad with Howard, Fraser, and the victim. There were similar doings over in the other bunch, where Browne, Zimmerman, Kane, Stanley, Channell, and Butcher were pastiming. Zimmerman was doing most of the batting.

A rule in high low provides against hitting the ball hard, but Heine forgot this and cut loose on every occasion. The result was the defensive players did more dodging and running than anything else. These tactics were successful in getting up a good sweat and Williams allowed the men to go to the hotel with the usual run.

The afternoon program was similar, real fielding practice being added. The matinée was cut short by the inmates of the resort who thought the Cubs were cutting up the golf links and drove them off with loud threats. There was little pepper left in the crowd tonight and the players are looking forward with joy to the long railroad ride which will give them a chance to be seated for a while. There also will be joy if warm air is found at Shreveport, as that is needed now to take the remaining kinks out of the champions, who really have been paid by their labors here.

Zimmerman and Browne should be fit this minute if hard work has anything to do with it. This strenuous pair has been on the go from morning to night since the squad reached here, and did more training in one day than the Pittsburgers did all the time they were at West Baden. Neither has superfluous beef remaining about his person. They have become inseparable pals and, combined with Howard and Fraser, should keep every one entertained on and off field.

Channell and Stanley again conducted themselves like true artists. Channell is a left hand thrower and looks fast. He has not had an opportunity to do any hitting except of the comedy variety.

Davy Brain will be left all alone here when the team leaves tomorrow, as the Indianapolis bunch, which might have helped him work, did not appear today and probably will not gather until March 17.

CUBS STOPPED BY HAILSTORM.

Chance's Charges Find the Weather in Arkansas Unsuitable for Baseball Practice.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 11.—[Special.]—Manager Chance and his Cubs went another day without practice. This time a hail storm kept them indoors in the afternoon. The weather was so cold that they changed their minds after they had changed from their street clothes to their spangles, and they remained away from the ball park.

The weather this week has shown about as many varieties as it would be possible to find in any climate. Rain greeted the athletes when they came on Sunday; the next morning there was a downpour; the day following there was a trace of sunshine, and today it hailed. What tomorrow will bring is a mystery. Snow is the only thing left in the weather repertoire.

Manager Chance is considering a plan to make Hot Springs a permanent training camp. President John I. Taylor of the Boston Americans wants to cut his baseball lot into two parts and sell at least one-half to the Cubs. The rental is cheap, and Taylor believes that training expenses could be paid from the money received for exhibition games between the two teams.

The Chicago boys will play here tomorrow and Sunday with a picked team composed of National and American league players training here. It will be necessary for the Chicago manager to borrow a couple of infielders, as he and Steinfeldt are the only two basemen on the squad. He has plenty of pitchers and catchers, and will work some of them in the outfield when they are not in action.

All the changes in plans for both the West Baden and Hot Springs camps were sanctioned by the Cub magnate, who intends to make the trip to Shreveport himself as soon as he can clean up necessary business at this end. The first installment of 1909 National league schedules was received yesterday, and was being distributed to callers. In all 100,000 of these booklets are provided each season.

Stallings Lands Brockett.

Carmi, Ill., March 11.—[Special.]—Louis Brockett of this city today signed to pitch with the New York Highlanders in the American league. He left for Macon, Ga., to enter the training camp.

Hults Becomes Tristater.

Pitcher Hults, formerly of the Logan Squares and the Felix Colts, has been signed by the Johnstown Tristate league team for the coming summer.

HORSEMEN MAKE BIG CHANGES.

Detroit Driving Club Alters Chamber of Commerce Race and Adds Free for All Pacing Event.

Detroit, Mich., March 11.—Two radical changes are made in the announcement by the Detroit Driving club of its stake program for the opening week of the grand circuit, July 26 to 30.

The Chamber of Commerce pace of $5,000 is for the 2:15 class instead of the 2:13, as it has been for two years. The Wolverine handicap, a free for all pacing event of $5,000, is added. Horses with records of 2:04 or faster pay 5 per cent; 2:04¼ to 2:05 pay 4 per cent; 2:05¼ to 2:06 pay 3 per cent; slower than 2:06 pay 2½ per cent.

The Merchants and Manufacturers' stake of $10,000 remains for the 2:24 trotters, and there is a renewal of the $3,000 event for 2:11 trotters. The Wolverine is to be two in three and the other events three in five heats. National association rules govern, except that two or more horses owned by one man or in the same stable may start in a race. Entries to these stakes close on April 6.

Governor Signs Texas Bill.

Austin, Tex., March 11.—Gov. Campbell today signed the bill prohibiting pool selling at county or state fairs in Texas.

BOWLERS FAIL TO PASS LEADERS.

Siemer and Gardell of Cincinnati Secure Third Place in the Doubles.

PAIR GETS TOTAL OF 1,190

Garry Herrmann Declines to Run Again for Presidency of the A. B. C.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 11.—[Special.]—Cincinnati and Louisville bowlers predominated in the attack on the pins in the minor events of the A. B. C. championships at Duquesne Gardens today, and high scoring honors went to the "Porkopolitan" representatives in both singles and doubles. Some good marks were set, but the work in general lacked the sensational features which characterized the scores of the previous day.

The best work was done in the two men event where a half dozen teams landed high up. Al. Siemer and Joe Gardell of Cincinnati made a bold stab for the lead in this event, but finally stopped with 1,190, which is third. A pair of fellow townsmen, Henry Pfeffer and Bernie Mueller, proved next best with 1,160, which is tenth. J. Fields and J. Brosman of Washington landed thirteenth, with 1,154, and A. Lewis and R. Stangh of Canton, O., came next with 1,152.

Plummer High in Singles.

High total in the singles was rolled by Bob Plummer of Cincinnati, who tied for ninth position with 627. R. Huesman of Cincinnati was next with 617 and is thirteenth, while R. Hardung of Cincinnati and M. Schmidt of Louisville tied for fifteenth position with 608.

A western team carried off the honors in the first squad in the five men event tonight, the Kandy Kids of Madison, Wis., rolling into seventh place in the standing with a total of 2,727. Al. Schwoegeler, the leader, was the star of the series with an average of 207 2-3. The Old Landmarks of Columbus landed thirteenth with 2,692, due mainly to a big second game. The Diesels of Chicago rolled in this squad, but only got 2,606, although Bob Rolfe, who with Ed. Stretch won the national championship at Milwaukee in 1905, averaged 202 1-3.

Some good scores were rolled in the final squad. The Marion club of Indianapolis carried off the honors. The No. 2 team rolled a total of 2,731 and landed in seventh place. The No. 1 team scored 2,719, which placed them tenth.

Herrmann Not to Run.

Garry Herrmann today declared that he would no longer run for the presidency of the American bowling congress, but that he would withdraw his name tomorrow at the final meeting of the congress, which is in session in this city.

In addition it was learned that Detroit is still the logical candidate for the next tournament, but that action tomorrow would result in the selection being given over to the executive committee with instructions to report in three months. Milton Carmichael of Detroit is here for the meet, and says he can satisfy the A. B. C. he can hold the meet if given time.

Herrmann's threatened withdrawal puts three candidates in the field—Bob Bryson of Indianapolis, the man Herrmann beat at St. Louis; Frank L. Pasdeloup of Chicago, who was president for a day at Buffalo in 1902, but resigned to keep New York in the congress; and Ed Meyers, the ex-Chicagoan, who has been a veteran of the A. B. C. from Washington for years, serving as its vice president.

A dozen amendments were taken up at the congress meeting, the more prominent changes being a reduction in the minimum weight of the pins to three pounds, cutting off two ounces, adding six members to the executive committee, making fifteen in all, stopping the use of resin on the shoes of bowlers and making them bring a ball for each contestant in A. B. C. tournaments in the future. Judge Howard's rule forcing alley keepers to plane their alleys once a year was laid on the table, killing it. The opposition from country towns was too strong for the city delegates.

MANY TIE IN MOTORING TEST.

Fourteen Out of Twenty Cars Make Perfect Scores in New York-Boston Reliability Run.

Boston, Mass., March 11.—Fourteen of the twenty automobiles which left New York at 6:30 o'clock this morning on the endurance run to Boston for the Chester I. Campbell trophy finished tonight on schedule time and with perfect scores. The tie will not be run off, but the holders of the trophy for the coming year will be decided by lot tomorrow night.

One serious accident marred the run. Aaron W. Wallace was killed at Fairfield, Conn., by attempting to jump from his carriage, his horse becoming frightened at the automobiles and running away. Driver La Croix of car No. 2 was detained at New Haven on a technical charge to await developments, it being alleged his car was nearest the scene of the accident at the time.

A car following the competing automobiles turned turtle in Marlboro. G. B. Blake of Boston was painfully bruised. E. B. Richards and F. E. Spooner, both of New York, were slightly hurt.

AL KAUFMAN IS BARRED BY 'JEFF

Big "Boilermaker" Declares He Will Never Meet White Man in the Ring.

NEARLY SAYS HE'LL FIGHT

Can't Tell About Go with Johnson, but Hints That There May Be a Battle.

New York, March 11.—James J. Jeffries said today that Al. Kaufman, who last night challenged him to fight for the heavyweight championship, had no chance of getting a fight with him, nor had "any other white man." After declaring that he did not know whether he could get into condition again to meet Jack Johnson, Jeffries said:

"If Johnson had been a white man I never would have thought of fighting again. I would have staid in retirement for the rest of my life.

"How can I tell whether or not I will fight Johnson?" he asked. "How do I know whether I can get back into condition again? Wait until after I get working for a while and then maybe I——but I don't want to talk fight now. But I am feeling fine and taking off weight rapidly."

As to Kaufman's challenge, Jeffries said: "Kaufman has not got a chance in the world to fight me. Neither has any other white man. I didn't come east to fight, and I couldn't fight here if I wanted to. The laws won't permit. Kaufman will have to find some one else. I am not here to fight."

GANS-WHITE BOUT ON TONIGHT.

Former Lightweight Champion and English Fighter to Clash in New York—Nelson Goes East.

Joe Gans, former lightweight champion, and Jabez White, the little English fighter, will meet in a ten round bout before the National Athletic club of New York tonight. Gans realizes he has a tough customer to whip and if he succeeds in getting the decision he will take on other lightweights in the east.

Battling Nelson left for New York yesterday to talk it over with some of the aspirants for his title. The Dane is particularly anxious to meet Packey McFarland and claims Packey has been "four flushing" about fighting him.

If McFarland wants to fight Nelson says he will give him the first chance. Nelson probably will meet "Cyclone" Johnny Thompson, Tommy Murphy, and Leach Cross before he returns west. He will be at the ringside of the Gans-White fight tonight.

FRENCH TEAM INCREASES LEAD.

Cibot and Orphee Now Nearly Nineteen Miles Ahead in Six Day Race at Madison Square Garden

New York, March 11.—Averaging a fraction over five miles an hour, Cibot and Orphee, the French runners, who are leading in the six day go as you please race at Madison Square Garden, are gradually increasing their lead. At a late hour tonight the Frenchmen had almost a nineteen mile lead. They are running in good form, the trainers picked them to win. There is little likelihood now that the record of 770 miles 1 lap, made in 1882, will be beaten. Oxygen was administered to one of the contestants today with good results.

ERIE SHARES SUFFER A FALL

Baseless Report as to Financial Plans Causes Decline.

GENERAL LIST TAKES BRACE

Developments in Money Market Are Without Significance.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—[Special.]—Sharp declines in Erie shares and bonds upon publication of a story that the directors of the road had determined to abandon its plan to fund coupons and would seek a receivership formed the only price movements of consequence in today's stock market, where the total transactions were little more than 300,000 shares.

The report regarding the Erie's intentions is entirely without basis in fact. It still has under consideration the modifications proposed by the upstate public service commission in its petition to make easier terms of the coupon funding scheme, particularly that portion which had to do with the securing of the assent of 90 per cent of the holders of the coupons to the plan. The road has until October to comply with the conditions formulated and its policy presumably will be regulated largely by the progress of the business world in the intervening period.

General List Stronger.

The strength of the general market in the face of such breaks as 3 points or more in various Erie stocks and as much in its bonds was not without significance. Support was forthcoming where it was needed whenever professional pressure developed and in general the market maintained its waiting attitude.

What the financial community wants to know is the character of the tariff bill to be reported next week and in advance of that information it appears determined to remain inactive. Among other matters to claim more or less attention during the day were reports of a further reduction in steel prices unconfirmed up to the close of business, frank public statements of the number of large consumers of steel, including the head of the United States Realty and Improvement company, to the effect that steel materials were now selling close to bottom prices, and a further reduction in the price of copper metal on the local metal exchange.

All anthracite coal road stocks, save Erie, displayed rather exceptional strength in the face of the meeting under way during the day in Philadelphia between the executives of these properties and the representatives of the coal miners, although the general expectation is that the terms of the miners [illegible] be completely rejected.

Money on call, easy, 1½@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1¾; closing bid, 1¾; offered at 2. Time loans, inactive; 60 days, 2½ per cent, offered; 90 days, 2½@2¾ per cent; and 6 months, 3 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 3½@4 per cent; sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at 485.95@486.05 for 60 day bills and at 488.10 for demand; commercial bills, 485⅝@485¾. Bar silver, 50⅝c; Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds steady.

CANNOT FAVOR LOCAL MARKET.

Commerce Commission Says Carriers Must Avoid Discrimination Against Milwaukee Shippers.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Merchants of Milwaukee are given the benefit of as favorable through rates on grain as those of Chicago, in a decision handed down today by the interstate commerce commission. The case was that of the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway company and others.

The decision says:

"In claiming that, as Chicago affords as good a market for grain as Milwaukee, the principal defendant may therefore lawfully so adjust its rate schedules as to force the grain to Chicago, the defendant overlooks the right of the shipper to choose his own market and to do business where he prefers or finds it more advantageous to carry it on. It also overlooks the chief function of a common carrier, which is to carry traffic offered it at reasonable rates.

"A carrier has no right to insist that a shipment shall go to the end of its rails if the shipper desires it to be diverted at an intermediate point to another market off its rails. Nor may a carrier accomplish these results indirectly by any unreasonable adjustment of its rate schedules with that end in view. It cannot lawfully compel the shipping public to contribute to its revenues on any such grounds."

Wisconsin Central Railroad Is Leased to the Soo Line.

BIG BOND ISSUE ORDERED.

St. Joseph, Mo., to Try Chicago System of Bank Examinations.

The lease of the Wisconsin Central to the Soo Line and the authorization of an issue of $80,000,000 bonds by the Wisconsin Central was accomplished yesterday at meetings of the directors of both roads. The equipment obligations of the Wisconsin Central will be taken up, old bond issues refunded, and the company be left with sufficient funds for improvements. Following the meeting of the directors of the Wisconsin Central in New York the following announcement was issued:

"The directors of the Soo railway company met at Minneapolis today and authorized the lease of the Wisconsin Central railway company and the issue of leased line certificates to the holders of Wisconsin Central preferred stock who deposit the same under the committee's deposit agreement on or before March 20. They have called a meeting of their stockholders for April 10 to ratify their action.

"The directors of the Wisconsin Central met today and authorized a refunding first mortgage not to exceed $60,000,000, of which $36,000,000 is reserved to refund existing bond and equipment obligations. The remainder will be issued during the next fifty years under proper restrictions.

"The directors also authorized a lease of their property to the Soo line for a term of ninety-nine years and approved the guarantee agreement negotiated by the leased line certificates. A meeting of stockholders of the company has been called for April 13. Books close for this meeting on March 25 and reopen on April 14.

Chicago Banks' Plan Followed.

The St. Joseph, Mo., Clearing House association has unanimously decided to inaugurate a system of bank examinations under its direction such as obtains here in Chicago. There is this difference, however, that the St. Joseph association will employ a firm of chartered accountants, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., to do the examining. It is probable that an examiner from the firm will be placed in charge of the work and remain there continuously.

The plan of clearing house examinations, which originated in Chicago, is expected to work great good in the towns where it is established. The local examining bureau has, so far as can be learned, shown an unusual degree of independence and has served not only to correct abuses but to gradually educate the management of the different banks to see the merits of a high standard of banking practice and also to restrain other kinds of practices where the education idea has failed. A clean bill of health from an impartial and competent examiner is a gratifying report to be able to make by the president of a bank to the board of directors.

That the smaller cities should take up the clearing house examination plan is regarded by the banking fraternity as an important movement in the interest of good banking.

To Buy Steel Hopper Cars.

The certificates will be a first lien on this equipment.

The Loomis Match company, of which George P. Loomis is president, has been organized at Schenectady, N. Y. The company has been organized under the laws of South Dakota with a capital stock of $500,000. The match machine to be used, it is declared, will cut, finish and box 40,000 matches per minute or 45,000 boxes with 500 matches in each box in ten hours.

EXPORT SALES HELP WHEAT

Better Foreign Demand and Strength Northwest Factors.

CORN BEARS ARE REPULSED.

Sharp Drive Directed at Prices, but Holders Are Undisturbed.

Wheat closed strong and higher yesterday after a fitful and erratic session, prices being the greater part of the time below the previous close. Selling at the start was heavy and local traders were almost solidly arrayed on the short side. In the latter part of the session May developed considerable strength, carrying the July up with it. Strength in the northwest markets, reported large export sales at Winnipeg, and a few crop damage reports from the southwest were factors working towards the final price recovery. Final quotations were ⅜c to ⅝c higher. Trade was nervous throughout and fluctuations turned sharply on comparatively small orders.

Better Export Inquiry Reported.

Revival of the export demand at Winnipeg and Duluth offset to a certain extent the slow cash inquiry in other directions, the demand here being extremely tame as well as in the southwest. Winnipeg prices reflected the good demand claimed, and reports from there stated large sales had been made to go to Liverpool. Late reports stated the total amount of wheat sold aggregated about 400,000 bu. Minneapolis and Duluth were also strong and higher, the reports from those places indicating a much better speculative demand, with offerings lighter than for some time. Receipts at the two points were 261 cars, against 364 cars a year ago, and claims that there would soon be a sharp falling off in the movement were reiterated.

Bears Try to Depress Corn.

A determined effort was made to depress corn prices with a view of dislodging stop loss orders, but the attempt met with the usual degree of success, the market closing steady to ⅛c higher. Country holders did not sell any great amount of corn, but, on the other hand, picked up more on the break, and in spite of the heavy selling, all the offerings were easily absorbed. Country offerings were reported light and there was a moderate improvement in the shipping demand, with sales of 80,000 bu reported for export. Sample prices were weak early, but rallied with futures and closed steady. Primary receipts were 599,000 bu, compared to 225,000 bu a year ago. Local shipping sales were 115,000 bu. Liverpool closed unchanged to ⅛d lower. Weather conditions were a little more favorable, but this did not have much effect. Local receipts were 209 cars, with 191 cars expected today.

Oats Rally Near Close.

Oats suffered a severe setback early, but rallied with other grains, closing a shade lower for May, ⅛c lower for July, and ¼c higher for the September. The cash demand was reported good and sample prices were about steady at the finish. Local receipts were 146 cars, with 162 promised for today. Primary points received 449,000 bu, against 661,000 bu a year ago. Trade was active the greater part of the day. Local shipping sales were 100,000 bu.

Rye Is Firmly Held.

Rye was firmly held. May sold at 80c. No. 2 was quoted 80c and No. 4 68@73c. No. 3 sold free on board at 75@78½c. Receipts were 4 cars.

Barley was in good request and strong. Malting grades were quoted 64½@66½c, mixing 64@66c, and screenings 50@68c. Receipts were 77 cars.

Flaxseed advanced ¼c. No. 1 northwestern closed at 1.67½, No. 1 from the northwest $1.66, and No. 1 southwestern $1.57½. Receipts nil.

Timothy seed was dull. March was quoted $3.85. Country lots, $2.75@3.85. Clover seed steady at $8.50 for March and $7.50@8.50 for cash lots.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

Winnipeg reported the best demand for wheat for export in several weeks, and sales of 400,000 bu No. 3 and No. 4 northern were made at prices which have previously prevented trade on account of the high limits. Everything offered over night was reported taken, Liverpool buying the most of the wheat. Local dealers who have scoffed at reports of business recently admitted there had been a little business done at Winnipeg. In the local market there was practically no new business done, but 175,000 bu No. 2 hard sold to come here from Kansas City was resold at a profit, making a total of 275,000 bu resold in the last few days. The milling demand here and in the southwest was slow. Minneapolis reported a fair inquiry, with No. 1 northern 1½@2c over May. A fairly good demand developed for both corn and oats in the local sample market. Offerings were light of both, and after prices were smashed early there was a quick recovery and the close was steady. Local cash sales were 15,000 bu wheat, 115,000 bu corn, and 100,000 bu oats.

Bennett had a number of messages from Illinois and Missouri points claiming serious damage to winter wheat. A telegram from a Princeton, Mo., miller said one-half the wheat area had been winter killed. Crop experts out for Barrell found generally fine conditions. Le Count wired from Oklahoma City: "Conditions spotted, but generally good. Stand is fair and color good. Plant is deeply rooted." R. W. Kinyon reported from Nicholasville, Ky.: "Wheat from Lexington to Paris is fine. Small growth, but good stand and is stooling splendidly. Two days' rain here."

Northwestern grain men are figuring out a strong position for spring wheat and are advising the sale of Chicago May and July wheat and the purchase of Minneapolis wheat. The government farm reserves estimate shows about 17,000,000 bu exclusive of seed in the three states; country elevators have about 7,000,000 and there is about 14,000,000 bu at Minneapolis, a total of 38,000,000 bu. It is estimated city and interior mills in the northwest will require about 56,000,000 bu between now and Sept. 1, or showing a deficit of about 18,000,000 bu. During the period between March and Aug. 20 last year about 15,000,000 bu winter wheat was brought into the northwest, which this year will probably be difficult to obtain if present conditions continue. Basing their views on these conditions, many traders are expecting northwest markets to take the lead in the near future.

A prominent miller here from southern Michigan yesterday advanced a new theory to account for the scarcity of winter wheat, claiming that it was largely due to the heavy feeding of wheat to stock for about six months last fall, when the price of coarse grains was so high.

Although there was a little selling of corn by country houses, the early drive on prices did not uncover many stop loss orders, and the strong closing indicated that more corn had been taken in on the break by the bulls, leaving the market tighter than ever.

The Price Current reported a favorable outlook for wheat. Hog packing for the week was estimated at 575,000 hogs, against 640,000 a year ago.

Estimated receipts for today are: Wheat, 27 cars; corn, 191 cars; oats, 162 cars; rye, 3 cars; barley, 65 cars; hogs, 26,000.

A report was received via New York that Mexico would remove all duties on wheat from this country before April 1.

Winnipeg receipts for the day were 270 cars, against 117 cars a year ago.

Minneapolis wheat stocks increased 40,000 bu for five days.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Packers made an attempt to break the hog market, using liberal arrivals at all western points as a weapon to intimidate salesmen, but shippers were induced to get in the trade at prices close to Wednesday's high level, on account of moderate supplies at eastern markets, and supplies were finally disposed of at figures which averaged 5c lower than the preceding day's high figures, and that much higher than the previous day's close. One shipper paid up to $6.90 for choice heavy hogs, topping the market at the same price as on Wednesday.

Cattle trade had a good active tone, and prices were maintained at a steady to strong level. Choice fat steers were in urgent demand, and sold up to $7.20. Cows and heifers of quality were scarce and eagerly sought after at strong prices, while the medium grades were more freely offered at steady figures. Wool sheep and lambs again held at a practically unchanged level, while the shorn offerings suffered another decline of 10@15c, with instances of even a larger depreciation.

CATTLE.

Receipts of only 4,000 head had a stimulating effect on the demand for cattle, and, although the local packers were anxious to keep prices from advancing, eastern shippers came in the trade early, filling urgent orders at prices fully steady with Wednesday's best level. Supplies of beeves did not include many loads of strictly prime offerings, and not many sales were made at more than $6.50, although three loads of choice steers sold at $7.05@7.20, and other lots cleared at $6.70@6.85. Exporters bought a few of the good strong-weight steers, but they were not large enough buyers to be of importance in the trade, and the shippers and packers had the offerings much to themselves.

Demand for cows and heifers was almost exclusively confined to handy weight lots possessing good killing qualties, while the strongweight, large boned offerings, and cows from the dairy districts were discriminated against and hard to sell at any price. Odd lots of prime heifers sold up to $5.00@5.65, while cows made $5.00@5.50, but offerings good enough to make these figures were so scarce that the supply dd not last longer than the opening hour. Bulls met with a narrow outlet at weak prices. Calves were in lighter supply and more active demand at an advance of 25c, best vealers selling up to $8.50. Quotations:

Good to choice steers	$6.50@7.40
Fair to good steers	5.50@6.50
Common to fair steers	4.10@5.50
Canners and cutters	1.50@3.00

Cattle at six western markets, 22,200, against 17,900 a week ago, 15,900 a year ago, and 19,100 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date 1,457,000, against 1,585,000 the same period in 1908.

HOGS.

Receipts of 21,000 head greatly surprised traders, who had expected around 30,000 hogs, and, although there were nearly 10,000 hogs carried over from the preceding day's market, speculators and shippers were good buyers at the start, paying prices that were about 5c lower than Wednesday's best figures, or 5c higher than that day's close. Packers did not get in the early trade, staying out in the hope that the market would ease off as it did on Wednesday, but when they discovered that the trend of values showed signs of advancing they began to evince interest in the offerings and were finally induced to buy on a liberal scale at values which showed little change from the preceding day's average figures.

Shippers bought prime heavy butcher hogs at up to $6.90 and paid $6.75@6.80 for choice medium weight offerings, taking the light hogs at from $6.65@6.70. Packers made up their droves of mixed hogs at from $6.60@6.70, buying the prime heavyweights at from $6.70@6.80. The market closed active and strong with all desirable offerings well sold, although there were several loads of underweight light hogs and pigs for which there was no demand and which had to be carried over. Strong weight pigs met with a fair demand at unchanged prices. Quotations:

Bulk of sales	$6.50@6.75
Selected butchers	6.80@6.90
Fair to good butchers	6.55@6.80
Good to choice heavy shipping	6.75@6.85

Average price of hogs at Chicago, $6.69, against $6.72 on Wednesday, $6.51 a week ago, $4.58 a year ago, and $6.85 two years ago.

Eleven markets received 97,100 hogs, against 97,500 a week ago, 90,200 a year ago, and 56,900 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 6,045,000, against 7,777,000 the same period in 1908.

SHEEP.

Sheep and lambs in fleece met with a broad demand on local account, but the shorn offerings were discriminated against and had to sell at a further decline of 10@15c. Quality of the lambs was not up to the preceding day's standard, and, although a small lot of natives reached the $8.00 mark, and some westerns sold up to $7.90, the packers wanted the pick of the offerings at $7.75, and succeeded in making up good sized flocks of good to choice killers at from $7.50 to $7.65. The trade had a good, active tone, and all of the arrivals of 14,000 head were disposed of at a comparatively early hour.

There were more strictly desirable yearlings offered on the market than on any preceding day in a long time, and several loads sold up to $7.25, while less desirable lots cleared at from $6.50 to $7.10, there being an adequate demand for all offerings. Prime 150 lb wool wethers sold up to $6.25, with lighter weight offerings at from $5.00 to $5.75. Clipped lambs sold at from $6.00 to $7.05, while clipped sheep of fair to good quality made $4.50@5.15. Quotations:

Fat wethers	$4.75@5.85

Receipts for March 12 were estimated at 2,000 cattle, 28,000 hogs, and 6,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 2,150 cattle, 26,719 hogs, and 6,430 sheep for Friday, March 13, 1908.

STOCKYARDS GOSSIP.

Although receipts of hogs at Chicago were 7,000 head lighter than a week ago, the total supply at six western markets, this point included, was 5,200 head in excess of last Thursday's supply. Arrivals at eastern points, on the other hand, were several thousand short of last week's figures. This disparity in supplies, east and west, had a tendency to stimulate buying by eastern shippers and restrict activities on the part of the packers, who could secure stock at the river markets at prices which compared favorably with values here.

Bad roads in the vicinity of Chicago were believed by traders to be instrumental in retarding the movement of swine to market, and it was predicted that receipts the next two days would show a substantial increase over the day's arrivals.

The average price of hogs was only 3c lower than on Wednesday, in spite of the fact that the quality of the offerings was much inferior and there was a scarcity of the prime heavy butcher grades. Light hogs of good quality sold to much better advantage that the medium heavy offerings and the general range of prices continued narrow.

Three double deck loads of western yearlings, bought here last year at $4.85 and fed in Kentucky, were returned to market and sold at $7.00. This consignment was the first lot of sheep ever fed in the state of Kentucky, producers in this state always having been content to wait and fatten stock on grass, but the satisfactory prices secured for this flock are expected to lead to more general feeding in future years.

Armour & Co. had 450 hogs in direct from the St. Paul market, while the Anglo-American company had 444 from Milwaukee.

Hogs left over unsold from the Wednesday market were officially counted at 9,930.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Substantial gains were scored in the hog products list in spite of an easier market for hogs at the yards. Receipts here were less than expected at 25,000 hogs, but at western points the run was liberal—94,200, compared to 85,000 a year ago. Hog packing for the week was estimated at 575,000, against 640,000 a year ago. Buying by Cudahy brokers was an active influence in the firmer tone, the same interests having been the principal sellers of the previous day. Shorts covered freely and there was good support accorded the market. Final quotations were 20c up for pork, 7½@12½c up for lard, and 12½@15c higher for ribs. Local longs added to their lines on a moderate scale. Liverpool was 6d higher for hams and Cumberland sides and 6d off for lard. Receipts and shipments here were light, 16 cars and 80 cars respectively.

Chicago Horse Market.

Seasonable weather in the interior and more satisfactory values here had a stimulating effect on the demand for horses, and the market was established on a steadier basis, salesmen being quick to take advantage of the improved outlet to recover the loss sustained in values on closing days last week. Receipts for the week thus far at 2,763 showed a decrease of 55 head from the arrivals for the same period a week ago, but the shipments did not reflect this loss, aggregating 2,347 for the four days, against 2,337 a week ago. Sales of draft horses were made at from $175.00@220.00; drivers, $150.00@350.00; farm mares, $130.00@175.00; southern chunks, $65.00@115.00; mules, $75.00@200.00.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Opening transactions in the wholesale grocery market were of limited volume, as attendance of buyers was small and jobbers devoted most of their time filling mail and road orders. Although the outlet for general groceries was not as broad as it has been almost continually since the first of the year, the outward movement of commodities was fully as large as at this time a year ago, and prices did not suffer any setback. The wild fluctuations in wheat values were reflected in a decline of 10c in the price of flour, but corn meal and rolled oats continued in good demand at firm figures. Efforts to dispose of stocks of dried peas before the green vegetables became too plentiful had a weakening effect on the market for this commodity. Beans were firmly held at unchanged prices, while rice values showed a strong upward tendency.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Firmness pervaded the market for refined goods and all offerings met with a ready outlet at the recent advance. Futures opened at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points in response to European markets and bull support of near months. Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, March 11.—The John V. Farwell company in a weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade said: "While the majority of house buyers during the last week were from states classed as nearby, still a large number of merchants have come from the northwestern and southern states. Large house sales are reported from the white goods, wash goods, fancy ginghams, and silk departments, where the interest is kept up by the arrival almost every day of new styles. In white goods sheer fabrics, both in plain and jacquard styles and linen finished yard wide suitings have been particularly popular, while in the wash goods and silks the satin finished styles, both in printed and woven goods, hold the attention. The approach of Easter is evidenced by the large number of open orders for gloves, both silk and kid, and the coming spring openings in many stores bring calls for novelties in belts, bags, hair jewelry, and millinery supplies. The blanket department continues to report excellent road orders for next fall from every section; the trade has bought liberally of the new wool finished cotton blankets. The continued scarcity of wide sheetings and the seeming inability of certain manufacturers to catch up on their orders have made prices extremely firm, and this also applies to ready made sheets and pillow cases."

Cotton.

NEW YORK, March 11.—COTTON—Spot closed quiet; 5 points lower; middling uplands, 9.80c; middling gulf, 10.05c; sales, 1,670 bales. The market opened easy at a decline of 2@6 points and increased the loss to 7@9 points right after the opening under selling by old longs, who were probably discouraged by the indifferent cables, rumors of short time in Lancashire, and prospects for more rain in the southwest. Leading bull interests seemed to be supporting prices at the decline, however, and during the middle session prices rallied 3 or 4 points from the lowest to ease off again during the middle of the afternoon under renewed liquidation and bear pressure.

At the low point May sold at 9.42c and October at 9.20c, the lowest prices reached so far this week. Around 9.20c for October there was a good demand, both from the leading longs and fresh buyers, and prices recovered a point or two in the later trading, although the undertone of the market seemed to be unsettled. Futures opened easy and closed steady. Quotations:

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 11.—COTTON—Spot easy, 1 1-16c lower; middling, 9 7-16c. Sales on the spot, 700 bales; to arrive, 500 bales. Futures opened dull at a decline of 5 to 7 points on unfavorable foreign advices and what was construed to be better weather in the western belt. Around the middle of the session the decline was carried farther, prices sinking to a level 8 to 11 points lower than yesterday's closing. In the afternoon session heavy exports steadied the market, but little real strength was shown. The closing was steady at a net decline of 69 points. Futures ranged as follows:

PLANS TO OPEN COAST LINE OF THE ST. PAUL SYSTEM.

Golden Spike to Be Driven About April 2 and Road Will Be Open for Traffic by July 1.

Arrangements for driving the golden spike which will signify the completion of construction work on the Pacific coast extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway have been made, with the intention of having the ceremony take place at Gold Creek, Wash., April 2. A. J. Earling, president of the road, is in the west closing the details.

This will mark the beginning of a new era for the St. Paul, which thenceforth will take its place among the transcontinental railroads, after expending more than $100,000,000 in two years on approximately 1,500 miles of new line, from Evarts, S. D., to Tacoma and Seattle. The line west of the Missouri river is to be operated under the name of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound railway, with a separate set of officers, many of whom, however, are also officials of the parent company.

Considerable ballasting remains to be done, and the roadbed must settle thoroughly before regular train service can be established with safety, which will be about July 1.

One of the most important engineering features on the new line, which is remarkable for the number of bridges and tunnels, was completed recently when the bridge over the Columbia river at Beverly, Wash., was made ready for service. The bridge is nearly a mile in length, including the approaches, the steel structure spanning 2,900 feet.

The interstate commerce commission announces its decision that it is unlawful for railroads to adjust their rate schedules so as to force commodities into a particular city or port. The case is that of the chamber of commerce of Milwaukee against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railroads. The commission holds that the joint through rate on corn, rye, and oats from the west and northwest ought not to exceed such rate to Chicago.

Jesse A. Baldwin, attorney for the Chicago Association of Commerce, is in Cincinnati collaborating with the officers of the Receivers and Shippers' association of that city in the preparation of a brief to be filed with the interstate commerce commission in the southeastern rate case. The contention is that the railroads have favored the eastern shippers and the brief will argue for a reduction of the rates from Chicago to Chattanooga and the south.

Traffic executives of the eighteen railroads of Missouri decided in St. Louis to meet here on Monday to consider the advisability of restoring the 3 cents a mile rate, made legal by Judge McPherson's decision against the Missouri 2 cent fare law, in Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma. Sentiment was in favor of restoring the old rate.

The railroads probably will name a committee to meet Attorney General Major of Missouri, who is said to have asked for a conference.

MICHIGAN

FOR SALE—More than 55,000 acres of farm and fruit lands in Mason, Manistee, and Lake Counties, Michigan, at $8 to $15 per acre; near schools, churches, and railroads; just a few hours' ride from Chicago; plenty of rain; enormous expense of irrigation, which adds so much to cost of land, not needed.

Terms as low as $10 down and $5 per month on forty acres. Any one who wants a piece of land can surely buy on this basis.

I also have some fine resort lots on Crystal Lake, and have established two new town sites, with flattering prospects for substantial growth, where lots can be had now at very low prices.

I own more Michigan land than any other individual.

Why go to Texas, Montana, or Canada when you can get good land at lower prices right here so near home that you can go back and see the folks occasionally? This land will be worth more than any of those mentioned in a short time.

Come in and talk it over with us and I think we can convince you of the above facts, or if you cannot call, write me for full information.

Get ready for the spring excursions; first one Tues., March 23d; $6 round trip.

G. S. SWIGART, OWNER.

BANKERS TO THE PEOPLE—
YOU CAN borrow money of us in small sums as well as large. Men and Women employed. Business Men, too—we will give you the fairest rate in Chicago. LADIES of reputable family may easily borrow on their own name and promise. We give any new patron the same consideration we have given a host of honorable borrowers of ready and emergency money in our eleven years of people's banking business, which has culminated in our new occupying new quarters not only the most commodious but considerately convenient for those desiring to transact a personal business. Close to State-st. Stores—heart of business district. We have no "insurance" or "investment connection" or other device or deceit. But straightforward and courteously we offer our services and just terms to any honorable person, with or without security. Tel. Central 7054, or call at our offices [also ladies' room], in connection with banking room, at Seventh Floor, 122 Monroe-st., cor. Clark. WEST & COMPANY.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands, or incomes from other sources] who want large or small sums confidentially, with or without security. My location and my being connected with a large mercantile house [Dun's and Bradstreet's show its standing] assures a privacy that is not possible to those who deal with brokers doing business in downtown office buildings where money lenders congregate. The methods of some dealers never change and their rates for money are demanded by the professional lender. My average rate, all charges included, is never more than 1, 2 or 3 per cent monthly, depending on risk and amount loaned. Those paying high rates especially urged to consult with me. No insurance or other device to swell interest charges. Confidential treatment. Ladies' waiting room. Ask for WILLCOAK, care Englewood Co., [illegible] East 63d-st., cor. Greenwood-av. Tel.
